

SUBSCRIPTION TERMS.

It is not possible to continue the publication of THE ARGUS under the old arrangement of sending the paper to subscribers who may not pay within five or ten years. Printing paper costs three or four times as much as it did in 1860, and besides we must have the money to get it even at that price.

Removal of Gen. Butler.

The cause of Gen. Butler's removal is yet in part a mystery to the country, and so long as it remains so we have no opinion to offer, either in support or condemnation of the removal.

The removal of Gen Butler has put the copperhead press all over the country in a wonderful good humor. Their joy is not the offspring of patriotism, and we cannot join them in it.

Fort Fisher.

Fort Fisher, admitted both by Federals and Rebels to be the strongest earth work in the United States, or probably the world, has been captured and is now in our possession.

Secretary Stanton.

There has been, and is yet, considerable number of Union men who dislike Secretary Stanton, and are clamorous for his removal. We are happy to know that the number daily grows less.

Election of U. S. Senators.

The Hon. Jacob M. Howard was last Thursday re-elected by the Legislature of Michigan to the United States Senate.

Fort Fisher, admitted both by Federals and Rebels to be the strongest earth work in the United States, or probably the world, has been captured and is now in our possession.

Four Years Political Progress.

The partisan division of the vote for President, after making the corrections, and in the case of 1860 embracing the entire vote of the Union, is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Year, and two columns of counts for different political parties.

Assault Upon a Congressman.

New York, January 23.—It appears by Washington specials that Mr. Field, one of the Louisiana delegation, seeking admission as Congressman, on last Friday night assaulted Judge Kelly of Pennsylvania, with a knife, for remarks made in the House.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Washington, Jan. 19.

The Speaker announced Messrs. Smith of Kentucky; Schofield of Pennsylvania; J. C. Allen, of Illinois, and Brown of Wisconsin, as the select committee yesterday authorized to be appointed to investigate the alleged charge of corruption and malfeasance against Lucien Anderson, a member of the House of Representatives, in connection with the proceeding of Gen. Payne in Kentucky.

On motion of Mr. Miller, of New York, a resolution was adopted instructing the Committee on Ways and Means to inquire into the expediency of assessing one per cent. on the first six hundred dollars of their income tax.

The Committee on the Pacific Railway reported a bill to aid in the construction of a railroad connecting the Pacific road from California to the Columbia river, Oregon.

On motion of Mr. Elliott the Committee on Commerce was instructed to inquire into the expediency of amending the steamboat law of 1852, by providing safeguards in the appointments of pilots by the local boards, appointed for the purpose, with leave to report by bill or otherwise.

Mr. Noble introduced a joint resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs, that the Secretary of War be instructed to give credit in any draft heretofore made for the hundred days' men from Ohio and other States.

Mr. Hubbard, of the Committee, offered the following:

Whereas, A circular has been issued by Provost Marshal General Fry, which is in the following words:

WAR DEPARTMENT, PROVOST MARCHAL GENERAL'S OFFICE, Washington, January 2.

CIRCULAR NO. 1.—The attention of acting Provost Marshal General of States and Boards of Enrollment is called to the fact that quotas assigned under the call of December 19th, 1864, for 300,000 men, must not be reduced, except by actual enlistments in the army, navy and marine corps since the 19th ult.

AND WHEREAS, Such orders are unjust localities that have in good faith filled their quotas by enlistment in the service of said call, therefore, be it Resolved, That the Committee be directed to inquire whether some measure should not be adopted to obviate the hardships that result by such a construction of the law and that they report by bill or otherwise.

Mr. Boutwell said that he had been assured that there would not be such as the gentlemen from Connecticut.

Mr. Schenck remarked that the Provost Marshal General had, in a conversation with him, explained all the objections away.

Mr. Braudette offered a joint resolution tendering thanks to Gen. Terry and Admiral Porter, and through them to the army and navy, for the capture of Fort Fisher.

Mr. Cox of Ohio, offered a resolution tendering thanks to Major General Thomas for breaking and drawing the rebel forces from Tennessee.

The clause appropriation of two millions of dollars to pay the necessary expenses of carrying into effect the several acts of Congress authorizing loans and the issue of Treasury Notes having been received.

Mr. Morrill offered an amendment appropriating in addition $1,777,000 for printing and stamps and for printing and circulating the notes, &c.

Mr. Washburne offered the following amendment to the above: That no further expenditures shall be made for an experimental system of hydraulic printing until such experiments shall be duly authorized by law, and a distinct appropriation made therefor.

Mr. Washburne said this mode of printing was an experiment which, after a trial of more than twenty years, had been abandoned.

Mr. Morrill said that some of the statements of Washburne were accurate and others not. Congress had authorized the Treasury Department to establish a Printing Bureau without limitation.

The bill mainly provides for salaries of officers and others in the various departments of the Government for expenses of the territories, contingent expenses, &c.

A motion to strike out this section was agreed to—70 against 39. The bill was passed, and the House adjourned.

Gold Tambling.

New York, Jan. 16. Stock and gold markets intensely excited. Gold sold after call at 204. Great pressure to sell stocks and gold; the latter closed at 205.

Fort Fisher—Description of the Works.

New York, Jan. 19.

The Tribune's account of the capture of Fort Fisher describes the works surrounding the fort. It says Mound Battery, properly considered part of Fort Fisher itself, though an isolated battery some distance eastward and beyond Fort Fisher, consists of a high sand mound, upon which the rebels had planted some heavy casemated guns for obtaining plunging shot on our gunboats.

The interior of Fort Fisher presented the most complete picture of destruction and desolation it is possible to conceive. The sand and dying lay thickly strewn along the parapets, and upon the plain behind as well as in front.

The camp posts were crowded with wounded, estimated by one of our Surgeons as high as 500. The parapets and traverses were plowed and corrugated by our shot and shell in every direction, as well as the sandy plain in the rear of the works.

The barracks inside the bastion were torn to pieces. The large columbiads along the parapets were dismantled and strewn in confusion among the wreck of their broken gun-carriages. Every thing evidence of a merciless and most infernal reign of death dealing and destroying missiles that ever the world has seen.

The first Union flag planted on the fort was that of the 116th New York Volunteers. After General Terry had returned from the capitulation of Fort Buchanan, enthusiastic soldiers clustered about him and set up a succession of rousing cheers for their victorious chief.

Mr. Ross was appointed assessor for next meeting. On motion of W. J. Langfit, Dr. Jackson was appointed reporter for the press for the ensuing year.

On motion of Dr. J. S. Winans it was unanimously resolved, that a discussion on the Pathology and treatment of Diphtheria, be the special business of the next meeting.

After transacting some other business connected with the interest of the society, and at mutual intercharge of opinion on several subjects of Medical and Surgical science, the Society adjourned to meet at the Harmon House in New Brighton on the second Thursday of April next.
