THE PITTSBURGH CHRONICLE OF RE-occurring.—The local editor of the Pittsburgh Chronicle must have had a terrible attack of draft quivers when he wrote the article in Friday evening's paper on recruiting in Pittsburgh.

Who is the law to put them out? he asks frantically. Why don't you drive them out? Aha! away! he exclaims in perfect phrenzy of excitement. His must have been a bad case of draft on the brain. As there didn't happen to be any law to put these committees out, they of course did not mind his cries and threats.

We believe Pittsburgh has contributed its share of men in this war, but we are quite certain it has not contributed any more than its share of more than the surrounding counties. If you spend your time in idle roving, the draft will come before you are ready.

THE QUOTA OF BEAVER COUNTY.—The following is the quota of men yet required, after deducting credits, to be furnished by the sub-districts of Beaver county, on the recent call of the President for 300,000 volunteers:

Beaver County Oil Lands. DARTINGTON, Beaver Co., Pa., Feb. 8th, 1865. Editor Argus: Believing a few items of news in regard to oil matters in this locality would interest most of your readers, I take pen to address you a few lines. Some time since oil was struck near this village in a well being bored in the Beaver Creek, near the United Presbyterian Church. At first not much was thought of the strike, as even the owner of the well himself seemed to regard the "show" as a very small one. But the flow of the well has steadily increased, until it is now pronounced by "oil men" to be a fifty barrel well. Within a few days past the production of the well has become greater, and a grand rush was made for territory. Within a day or two nearly every farm from Galilee to Smith's Ferry has changed hands, and the price of land has advanced from seventy-five to six hundred dollars an acre. Several sales were made to day around this place, at from two hundred to four hundred dollars per acre. The good sites are being rapidly bought up, and several companies are organizing to "bore." Several wells will be started as soon as the weather becomes mild enough for out-door labor. Already strangers from Philadelphia, New York, Pittsburgh, and Cleveland, loaded with greenbacks, are here looking for sites, and offering high figures for "oil lands." The fever is beginning to rage with fury. This poor, old, dilapidated town is in a wonderful state of excitement. The people have entirely forgotten the draft, and the sole subject of conversation is oil, oil territory, oil sites, oil lands. Men on horseback, men in sleighs, men on foot, some with plenty of money, some with none, are searching all this neighborhood over for oil lands. The Pancake farm, a little below Elder's Mills, on the Little Beaver, was sold this week for eighty thousand dollars. One of Mr. Pancake's near neighbors, was offered fifty-five thousand dollars, cash down, for fifty acres, and he did not sell because he thinks he ought to have more. The Ansel's sold a twenty acre lease this week for twenty-one thousand dollars in cash. If any more strikes are made this little valley will be filled with derricks and oil spouts.

CHARLESTON REPORTED EVACUATED.—New York, Feb. 11. The Herald's Washington dispatch says: It is understood here that dispatches have been received from City Point, stating that Richmond papers of the 11th contain the report of the capture of Charlottesville, and also contain a report that Charleston was evacuated.

MARRIED.—At the residence of the brides mother, February 8, 1865, by Rev. George Scott, D. D., assisted by the Rev. R. White, Mr. JOHN FRASER, of Howard's Point, Fayette county, Ill., and Miss MARGARET COOK, of South Beaver township, Beaver county, Pa.

DIED.—In Bridgewater, on the 1st inst., Mrs. MARGARET E. ANKER, aged 74 years, 5 months and 2 days.

BRITISH PERIODICALS.—THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW (JOHN W. PEARSON REVIEW (WHIG.) THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (ADD.) THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (FREE CHURCH.) BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (TORY.) The American Publishers continue to reprint the above-named periodicals, but as the cost of printing has doubled, the price of papers is nearly trebled, and taxes, duties, licenses, etc., largely increased, they are compelled to advance their terms as follows:

For Blackwood and any two Reviews, 7.00. For Blackwood and any three Reviews, 10.00. For Blackwood and all four Reviews, 13.00. The works will be printed on a greatly improved quality of paper, and while nearly all American Periodicals are either advanced in price or reduced in size—and very generally both—the small continued give faithful copies of all the matters contained in the original editions. Hence, our present prices will be found as cheap, for the amount of matter furnished, as those of any of the competing periodicals in this country.
