New York Observet. We mast refer in Terms of culogy to the high tone and varied excellent of HAMPER's MAGAZINE-a journal with a monthly circula-tion of about 170,000 copies-in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People ; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood-cuts; and it combines in itself the good wood cuts; and the more philosophical racy monthly and the more philosophical quarkerly; blonded with the best features of the daily.
