War News of the Week. Sherman's army is marching to Washington, and its advance has already reached Petersburg.

The troops of Gens. Cox and Terry, with Kilpatrick's Cavalry, will re annexed to Washington, Senatorially, 18th inst. main in North Caroling for the pres- and represented by a Democrat in The following admirable resolutions ent.

Grant's troops are also moving northward, with the exception of the 6th corps , which is at Danville.

The army of the United States will be reduced during the coming summer to four Corps, each 40,000 strong; one of regulars, one of white volunteers, and two of negro troops.

Official intelligence is said to have reached Washington that Stoneman had attacked and routed Jeff. Davis and his escort near Washington, Georgia, and that the capture of the archrebel is confidently expected. There would seem to be little difficulty in small party of civillians who accompany him, and the fact of his travelling with an escort of several thousand cavalry, goes far to confirm the amount of treasure.

The reports that Dick Taylor and Kirby Smith, who command the only double Representative Districts, as army—a spirit which, in every sort rebel armies in the field, have tender. Butler, Lawrence and Mercer with of Zovelopment, demands the ined their surrender are reiterated.

Gen. Thomas has instructed his subordinates to demand the surrender of the rebel troops in their vicinily under penalty of outlawry.
