

THE BEAVER ARGUS

August 9th, 1865.
LOCAL and MISCELLANEOUS

We are indebted to Hon. Thos. Cochran for a copy of his eloquent address to the citizens of M'Sherry-Town, delivered on the 1st inst.

In our notice of a purse and its contents, we erroneously stated that the envelope containing it.

We have received from the publishers Harper's Monthly for August a Blackwood's Magazine for July. These are good numbers.

We write the attention of the Council to the condition of the Cemetery. It has become a veritable wilderness of weeds and brush, and should not longer be neglected. If it is not their province to take care of it, we trust that it will be turned over to a decent state by private subscription.

OBITUARY.—On Tuesday evening 1st inst., it appears that a young girl named Mary Cooke, about seven years of age, while in company with two other small girls, while berrying in Winnebiddle's woods, fell into the hands of a serpent in human shape, who outraged her in the most horrible manner.

Great attention has been called to the fact that in publishing the proceedings of the recent Union county convention the first ballots for Treasurer and Trustees of Academy were incorrectly given. For the former the four votes were polled for A. G. Gentry, which were omitted in our report, and the vote for Rev. D. H. Smith for the latter, as returned by the Secretary to us, was 95 instead of 96, as we published it. We cheerfully make the correction.

The End of the 7-30s.
The last bond of the third series of seven Thirty Loan has been taken up, and the next Congress it is impossible to expect the issue of any Government bonds. The skill of Jay Cooke as a financier is by the manner in which he has arranged the great loans which have been entrusted to his agency by the Government. Out of eight hundred and thirty million dollars of the Seven-Thirties he has disposed of seven hundred millions in a very short space of time.

THESE ARE THE FRIENDS.—The numerous friends of the highly esteemed fellow-townman Alexander Murdoch, Esq., will be glad to learn that he has been appointed Marshal for the Western District of Pennsylvania. During the four years he has held the position, he has discharged his duties with care, neatness and fidelity that have won for him the most unbounded confidence of the public. No man more fully qualified up to the test instituted by the Government, namely, honesty and capacity than Mr. Murdoch, and the commission is always to be congratulated on such men are elevated to positions of trust and responsibility.

NURSERY.—A visit to the nurseries of T. L. Shields & Co., at North Station, twelve miles west of Pittsburgh, on Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, will be amply repaid, and will enable the visitor to see the great variety of trees, vines, flowers and plants in cultivation. This firm employs every appliance of the most improved methods of culture. The extensive orchards of the nurseries contain over 100,000 trees, including over 100 varieties of apple, cherry, plum, etc., and the vineyards filled with the best of the various grapes, such as Delaware, Concord, Diana, Luna, &c., &c., capable of producing from one to three crops, and cuttings of the varieties are sent to the Western locality, and persons ordering from the nurseries may rest assured that they are buying from men of long and successful experience.

BEAVER ACADEMY.—We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the Beaver Academy in another column. Prof. Ganz of New Brighton, has been elected Principal of the Academy, and has accepted the position. He was Assistant Principal last year, and won for himself here, as elsewhere, a fine reputation as a teacher. Prof. Agnew having retired, Prof. Ganz now assumes entire control of the institution. The selection is an excellent one. Prof. Ganz has the reputation of being one of the best scholars ever graduated from Washington College. He was for fourteen years Principal of the New Castle schools, and when he retired it was with the universal regret of pupils and people. Under his management we expect Beaver Academy to take a higher stand than ever before, and enjoy the success that its advantages deserve.

ETNA INSURANCE COMPANY.—We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the "Etna Insurance Company" in another column. This is one of the very best companies in the United States. Their assets on the 1st of January last after paying all indebtedness were nearly three million dollars. Losses paid by this company in forty-six years amount to the enormous sum of seventeen millions five hundred thousand dollars. This is sufficient guarantee of the reliability of the company. Every property-holder now should have his property insured, and in a company where in case of loss he is sure of lifting his insurance. The Etna Insurance Company is just the company we would recommend.—Charles B. Hurst, Esq., of Rochester, is the agent for this country.
