

Union County Nominations.

Assembly. THOMAS NICHOLSON, Hanover tp. Associate Judge. MILTON LAWRENCE, Greene tp. Prothonotary. JOHN C. AUGHEY, Beaver borough. Treasurer. ELLIOTT BARNES, Borough tp. Commissioner. WM. EWING, Baconon tp. Jury Commissioner. JOSEPH C. WILSON, Beaver borough. Auditor. G. K. SHANNON, Hopewell tp. Poor House Director. SAMUEL McMANAMY, Economy tp. Trustees of Academy. S. J. CROSS, Rochester borough. JOHN BARCLAY, Beaver borough.

The County Convention, the Ticket, &c.

The Union Convention which met in this place on Monday was well attended—every district in the county sending its full proportion of delegates—and was composed of quite an intelligent body of men. The proceedings throughout were as harmonious as some conventions of this character usually are, and the delegates departed, feeling that they had discharged their duty to their friends as well as their party.

The ticket nominated is a good one, and will no doubt receive, as it should, the support of the party which selected it. We shall refer to it more particularly at some time in the future.

Our party friends in Mercer county were last fall encompassed with difficulties that caused them to lose a portion of their ticket. A leading citizen of the town of Mercer, and at one time quite prominent in this District, was then the cause of the misfortune of our political friends, and from recent developments in that county, we fear that himself and a few others, are again endeavoring to disorganize the party that has given them the political standing they ever had. A week or so ago, the chairman of the county committee, who is undoubtedly a disorganizer himself, issued a call for a meeting of the committee, and instead of having it published in the Dispatch, the central organ of the party, he gave notice of the meeting through the Greenville Argus, a paper published in an out-of-the-way place, and where not one out of every five members of the committee would be likely to see it. This was done only five days before the time fixed for the meeting, and the circumstances all went so that the design was to have, but few members attend, so that things could be set "wet up" to make it not a difficult matter to transfer a portion of the Republican party to the Democracy at the fall election. This programme was discovered in time to frustrate the plans of the disorganizers, in this prevent their doing any further harm to the party they are manifestly aiming to destroy.

Gen. Poppe, the commander of the Military District, in which Mobile is located, has made a report to the Government in which he says that Judge Kelly's remarks at the meeting at which the riot occurred, were courteous, patriotic, and not calculated to incite turbulence and risk as his previous charge. He also states that Major Withers and his police approached the disturbance at the meeting, and that the former went to his home a mile and a half distant, before the meeting began, and that he would not be present when the trouble commenced. The police were either too timid to do their duty, or else did not want to preserve the peace. Ascertaining this, he removed both the Mayor and the police, and appointed Union men in their stead. The President now mediates the setting aside of Gen. Poppe's appointments, and reinstating Mayor Withers and the old police.

What a President the people have!

Hon. Mowbray B. Lowry, has announced himself as a candidate for the State Senate in the district composed of Crawford and Erie counties. Some two or three months ago he positively refused to be a candidate, but now in compliance with the wishes of his "personal friends," he expresses a willingness to forego private inconveniences and again take a seat in the Senate. A politician's "personal friends" are occasionally very obstreperous, and refuse to allow him that rest and retirement which he certainly ought to have. Lowry and his "friends" are instances of this character.

The Pennsylvania Reserve Association met in the Hall of the House of Representatives, at Harrisburg on last Thursday. Major General R. W. Crawford presided, and Major John C. Harvey acted as Secretary. General McCandless of Philadelphia delivered the annual address. It is to be published and furnished to the members of the Association, about three hundred of whom were present at the meeting. An election for permanent officers of the Association was then held, and resulted in the choice of Ex-Gov. Curtin for President, and Major John C. Harvey for recording Secretary. The Association resolved to hold its next annual meeting at Pittsburgh on May 30th, 1898.

The cowardice and guilty conscience of the Administration could not be better illustrated than in its weak attempt to recommend in advance the Stansbury opinion by representing that it was endorsed by General Grant. By the country the Government knew that this opinion would be treated as a betrayal of the nation, and hence it pitifully sought to neutralize the effect of the storm of popular indignation by linking with the measure the name of the people's older, Gen. U. S. Grant.

On last Friday, the stores were closed in Hingham, Va., business of all kinds suspended, and the inhabitants, especially the ladies, were engaged in decorating the graves of the Confederate dead. 19,000 persons, it is said, visited Hollywood Cemetery on that day.

The Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives closed the impeachment investigation at Washington on Monday last.

On the question of impeaching the President, the vote was as follows: For impeachment, Boutwell, Thomas, Lawrence, and Williams. Against impeachment—Wilson, Woodbridge, Churchill, Eldridge and Marshall. So the Committee decided not to report in favor of impeachment.

A resolution censuring the President was then offered and carried by the following vote: Yeas—Wilson, Churchill, Boutwell, Thomas, Woodbridge, Williams and Lawrence—all Republicans. Nays—Eldridge and Marshall, both Democrats. After agreeing to make the above resolutions public the committee adjourned till the 25th of June.

A REBEL newspaper, called the National Republican was visited by the military at Mobile on last Thursday, on account of the publication of articles prejudicial to good order. Its further publication will be prohibited unless the proof-sheets are submitted to the commandant of the place, and if necessary, revised by that officer.

A foolish attempt was made a couple of weeks ago to injure Gen. Butler, by representing that he had written a private note to Miss Anna Surratt, in which he offered the Surratt family his professional services. The General has written a letter to a friend, denying the statement in every particular, and characterizing the story as it deserves to be—a copperhead lie.

The trial of John H. Surratt did not begin on the 27th of May, as was determined upon some time ago, but has been postponed until the 10th of June. The absence of material witnesses, is the cause assigned for the postponement.

Confession.

Thaddeus Stevens has just written a letter to a friend, in which his reasons are stated for desiring the confiscation of rebel property. Among these is the following one which certainly carries a good deal of force with it: "You live in a section which was two or three times invaded by the armies of Jeff. Davis. In the counties of Bedford, Fulton, Franklin, Cumberland, Adams and York, they visited almost every farmer and other inhabitant, plundered their houses, cattle, poultry, and money; when bound, besides in some detached cases, they laid in ashes one thriving village of six thousand people, and turned the inhabitants homeless, into the streets to seek shelter in force corners. No provision has ever been made or is making to reimburse the plundered citizens. By the law of nations a government makes no compensation for damages done by an invading army, unless such money be forthcoming when it always provides by treaty for payment. A government which neglects to make provision on behalf of its plundered citizens is basely negligent of its duty."

Magnanimity.

Mrs. Jane G. Swisshelm, makes this point against Horace Greely, for his interference in the release of Jeff. Davis. All must look upon it as truth, timely and cutting as possible. She says: "Mr. Greely may afford to be magnanimous, unless such magnanimity be shown to his father, or son in the war. He lost no limbs and carries no bullets, or the scar of them, in his body. Neither he, nor his shivered on the Isle, or prayed for death at Andersonville. It is easy to forgive injuries committed by a man who has not shed blood. He can afford to give $3,000 for the head of the rebellion, for furnishing material, and still retain a good will. But every one was not so fortunate."

Important Provisions in the New License Law.

The last Legislature, passed a very stringent license law, which we judge is very imperfectly, if it is at all enforced. Sheriff's Constables, Police-men, &c., should look upon what their duty in the premises is, and see that the act in question is not suffered to be lifeless on our statute books. Among other provisions of the law referred to, we find the following, which should be borne in mind by those who sell liquor, as well as those who are annoyed by its use: SECTION 3. No person shall sell, dispose of, or give away, or let licensed person, sell, suffer any person in his or her employment to sell, give away, or dispose of, any strong or spirituous liquors, wine, ale, beer, or any mixture of such liquors, or let licensed person, sell, or to any intoxicated person, or being under the influence of any such liquors, under penalty of forfeiture of license.

SELLING OR GIVING TO HABITUALLY DRINKING AID.

SECTION 4. No person thus licensed shall, against the request of any wife, husband, parent, or child, sell, give away, or dispose of any strong or spirituous liquors, wines, ales, or any mixture of such liquors, or any parent, or child, or any other person, under penalty of all the fines and forfeitures of this act.

ARREST OF INTOXICATED PERSONS.

SECTION 8. It shall be the duty of every sheriff, constable, member of police, or officer of police to arrest any person, who shall be found intoxicated in any public place, or highway, or in any public place, or places where strong or spirituous liquors, wines, ale or beer, are sold, publicly kept, or disposed of, or to take him, or her, before any magistrate of the vicinity; and if such magistrate shall order due inquiry, deem him, or her, to need to be fully examined, or to answer, him, or her, to be confined until he, or she, becomes sober, and then to be brought before a magistrate, and interrogated, under oath, or affirmation, as to the cause of such intoxication, and the liquor which caused the drunkenness; but such examination shall not be used in any prosecution, civil or criminal.

FINES.

SECTION 10. Every person who may and shall violate any of the provisions of this act, shall for each offense, be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be fined with a fine not more than twenty dollars, and in default of payment, with imprisonment of not more than five days.

Approved April 17th, 1897.

THE MILITARY FORCES OF RUSSIA.

The strength of the active army of Russia, which in 1888 consisted of 500,000 men, is now 800,000. At the commencement of the present year, 703,700 soldiers, and 23,632 military attendants, making a total of 727,332 men, were on the rolls. The number of regular troops, fixed at the calculation of the minister of War, could be raised to 1,180,000 men. Adding the total number of irregular troops, fixed at 300,000, the aggregate of the armed forces of Russia would represent nearly 1,500,000 men.

UNION REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The delegates met to attend the county convention of the Union Republican party on Monday last, and were called to order by Mr. W. W. Kerr, the Chairman of the county committee.

On motion of James Patterson Esq., Gen. W. W. Irwin was called to the Chair. John Slutz, A. J. Pettit, G. M. F. Fields, and Capt. John Boyle were selected as Vice Presidents. On motion of W. W. Kerr, W. W. Kerr and J. R. Harrah were chosen as Secretaries. The townships and boroughs being called over the following persons were reported as delegates.

LIST OF DELEGATES. Dover Borough—D. L. Imbrie, J. S. Rutan, G. W. Hamilton and Dr. D. McKinley. Northampton Borough—M. Darrough, Capt. G. W. Kerr and J. R. Harrah. Big Beaver Township—J. M. Imbrie, James Patterson, C. P. Wallace and M. P. Mitchell. Bridgetown—D. Woodruff, B. Brady and S. Mearns. Brighton Township—John Roberts, John Nevill and T. B. Hunter. Chippewa Township—John Wilson, J. W. Brittain and Joseph Welsh. Dorchester Township—C. Shurlock, S. Patterson, Nathan Eakin, and Joseph Cunningham. Economy Township—Leonard Berry, Wilson Neely and Thos. Gray. Franklin Township—H. Henry, Samuel Kennedy and G. W. Fields. Franklin Township—Henry Musser, John H. Bogly. Freedom Borough—W. W. Kerr, and Geo. W. McKee. Freedom District—Robert Sneed and James Parks. Green Township—James J. Trimble, James Brittain, Edward Spence, James Cameron and Samuel Nichols. Harrah Township—Frankfort—Samuel H. Leeper, David Anderson and J. M. Vance. McQuire—Thomas Bigger, A. A. Robinson and J. R. Crooks. Hopewell—Samuel Shrades, Wm. J. Reed and L. W. Scott. Industry—John Hays, Wm. Ammon and Solomon Dillinger. Independence—Arthur Shields and Robert Sterling. Marion—J. W. Bousis and J. Phillip. Moon—Wm. Springer, Robert Cooper, and Wm. Shrades. New Brighton, 1st Ward—Samuel Magaw, Samuel Dunbar and G. S. Barker. New Brighton, 2nd Ward—Benj. Bedison, Ralph Covert and J. C. Boyle. New Brighton, 3rd Ward—Benj. Wild, D. Stanton and C. W. Merrick. New Society—Henry Gehring, John Hensen and John Wagner. North Switzky—Milton Clow, Hugh M. Clow and J. M. Warnock. Ohio—Noble Graham, A. J. Pettit, David Reed and John Slutz. Patterson—James Patterson and J. E. Cralt. Philadelphia—James A. Irons and N. P. Dickie. Pottsville—Gen. W. W. Irwin and Ephraim Smith. Rochester Borough—J. R. Pendleton, T. M. Taylor, H. W. Seelye and P. M. Anderson. Rochester Township—A. P. Leacock and E. P. Stewart. Rowan—Joseph Campbell, Ross Taggart, Ellis Thurnburg and James Todd. South Switzky—Noble Graham, J. C. Duff, Scott Mitchell and Samuel Lawrence. St. Clair Borough—Jacob Hetchey and Jonathan Paul. The name of Robert Dieker was now withdrawn as a candidate for Prothonotary.

The name of T. J. Chandler was also withdrawn as a candidate for Assembly.

On motion a committee of three was appointed by the chair to report resolutions expressing the sense of the convention. This committee was comprised as follows: J. B. Stanton, Wm. Springer and J. M. Vance.

On motion the candidates having no opposition were nominated by acclamation. These were: Associate Judge—M. Lawrence. Jury Commissioner—Joseph C. Wilson. Auditor—G. K. Shannon. Poor House Director—Samuel McManamy. Trustees of Academy—S. J. Cross and John Barclay.

On motion the Convention adjourned till 1 P. M.

At 1 P. M. the Convention again assembled pursuant to adjournment.

The name of B. B. Wilson was withdrawn as a candidate for Assembly, as was also the name of James Wilson for Treasurer.

On motion the Convention proceeded to ballot for a candidate for Assembly, with the following result:

Table with 4 columns: Name, 1st bal., 2d bal., 3d bal. James Darragh... 23 21 18 Thomas J. Power... 10 10 10 Thomas Nicholas... 46 46 46 S. C. Caughey... 24 24 27 No choice.

Several more votes were taken with about the same result, when on motion the Convention proceeded to nominate a candidate for Prothonotary, with the following result:

Table with 2 columns: Name, Votes. John Caughey had 51 votes M. B. Welsh 40 Mr. Caughey was declared nominated.

FOR TREASURER. E. Barnes had 37 votes E. Allison 44 Mr. Barnes was declared nominated.

FOR COMMISSIONER. Wm. Ewing had 79 votes J. A. Fleming had 9 J. C. Ertry had 18 Mr. Ewing was declared nominated.

The Convention then voted again for Assembly, with the following result:

Table with 2 columns: Name, Votes. Darragh had 47 votes Power 10 Nicholas had 46 Caughey 23

No choice, and the voting continued thus until the 23rd ballot, after which Messrs. Darragh and Power both withdrew. On the 24th ballot Nicholas had 69 votes and Caughey 32.

Mr. Nicholson was then declared the nominee of the party.

J. S. Rutan Esq., Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, reported the following resolutions, which were adopted without debate.

Resolved, That the declaration of principles as set forth in the resolutions of the last State Convention, meet our hearty approval, and this Convention refer to said resolutions for a full and candid statement of the views of the Republicans of Beaver county.

Resolved, That the Republican party of Beaver county hereby present to the Republican party of the State, the name of Geo. W. W. Irwin as a candidate for the office of State Treasurer, having full reliance in his ability, integrity and fidelity to the principles of our organization, and that the State and Representatives from this district are instructed to support him for that position.

Resolved, That our Representatives in the State Legislature be instructed to vote for a Free Railroad Law for the State.

Resolved, That our Delegates to the State Convention be instructed to vote for Hon. Wm. Williams, of Allegheny county, for Supreme Judge, as the Western candidate, and in the event of the choice being confined to Eastern candidates to support Hon. John J. Pearson, of Dauphin county.

On motion of James Patterson, Esq., Hon. M. S. Kerr was elected Representative, and Col. W. Woodruff, Sergeant at Arms, to the State Convention. The names of the candidates being called upon, made a short speech, pledging himself, if elected, to vote for a Free Railroad Law, and the restoration of the Charter to the Conellsville Railroad.

On motion of C. Merrick, the County Committee was instructed to refer the question of adopting the popular vote to the people at their next ordinary election for that section, and determination. On motion Convention adjourned.

W. W. KERR, J. R. HARRAH, DAVID WOODRUFF, Secretaries.

A Dwelling and its Contents Sink into the Ground.

A few days since, a singular and startling accident happened near Girardville, at the foot of Mahoney Plane about six miles from Mahanoy City, Schuylkill county. It seems that at that point a "breast" of the Boston and Mahanoy Coal Company's colliery had been worked to within about twenty feet of the surface of the earth, and that located just above it stood a two-story frame building, occupied by Thomas J. Myers, a brakeman at the colliery, and his family. He also had a number of boarders, whose clothing, etc., was in the house.

About three o'clock on Friday afternoon, a heavy rain fell on Girardville, and the superintendent of the colliery, who was on a visit to the house, and Mrs. Myers were in the kitchen, they felt the house moving, and rushed into the open air. Two minutes later the house had gone to the house, before it sunk with a swinging swaying motion into a huge chasm to the depth of about eighty feet. Large masses of earth and rock from the sides of the chasm immediately fell upon the house, and it was completely down from view. The crash when it went down was tremendous. The complete entombment of the dwelling, which was about thirty feet long, may be imagined, says the reporter, by the fact that the ordinary routine of the opening of his court should be omitted, thus dispensing, as it were, with even the formality of justice. Crowds of enthusiastic on-lookers awaited his arrival, and the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Not to his political friends was confined the expression of admiration. His approval of the course some who have taken, whose tongues and pens had told it to the world, ready to extend to him the expression of friendly sympathy, and to afford him, too, a safe refuge from the hands of those who were with the blood of half a million murdered citizens, against whom have risen to Heaven the cries and tears of countless mother-wives and sisters, whose cheerless homes were daily filled with the work who have burdened the country with the heavy taxes under which it groans, and who stand before mankind as the leader of the most unjustifiable rebellion against national authority the very temple of justice, this arch-trial, was received with plaudits and congratulatory remarks.

Proposals for a General Jail Delivery.

Mr. Jefferson Davis, regarded as a rebel, is being held in confinement for his military offenses. He is being held in confinement for his military offenses. He is being held in confinement for his military offenses.

He deserted his flag and employed the skill and science of a soldier, which his country had put in his hands, in his effort to destroy the Union, and gave aid and comfort to his enemies in other deserts. In all his military history had done, and yet, without so much as a word of reproach, was he released from his military confinement and handed over to the civil powers.

He deserted his flag and employed the skill and science of a soldier, which his country had put in his hands, in his effort to destroy the Union, and gave aid and comfort to his enemies in other deserts. In all his military history had done, and yet, without so much as a word of reproach, was he released from his military confinement and handed over to the civil powers.

He deserted his flag and employed the skill and science of a soldier, which his country had put in his hands, in his effort to destroy the Union, and gave aid and comfort to his enemies in other deserts. In all his military history had done, and yet, without so much as a word of reproach, was he released from his military confinement and handed over to the civil powers.

He deserted his flag and employed the skill and science of a soldier, which his country had put in his hands, in his effort to destroy the Union, and gave aid and comfort to his enemies in other deserts. In all his military history had done, and yet, without so much as a word of reproach, was he released from his military confinement and handed over to the civil powers.

He deserted his flag and employed the skill and science of a soldier, which his country had put in his hands, in his effort to destroy the Union, and gave aid and comfort to his enemies in other deserts. In all his military history had done, and yet, without so much as a word of reproach, was he released from his military confinement and handed over to the civil powers.

He deserted his flag and employed the skill and science of a soldier, which his country had put in his hands, in his effort to destroy the Union, and gave aid and comfort to his enemies in other deserts. In all his military history had done, and yet, without so much as a word of reproach, was he released from his military confinement and handed over to the civil powers.

He deserted his flag and employed the skill and science of a soldier, which his country had put in his hands, in his effort to destroy the Union, and gave aid and comfort to his enemies in other deserts. In all his military history had done, and yet, without so much as a word of reproach, was he released from his military confinement and handed over to the civil powers.