The Middleton Murder—The Mystery Still Unsolved.

In the early part of last week the Grand Jury in session in this place passed a true bill against Thomas Burch, William W. John, George W. Johnson, George A. H. Parry, for the murder of Thomas Middleton, who was killed at the mouth of Brady's Run, in this county, on the night of the 14th of November, 1886.

MARRIED.

KILG-SMITH—Sept. 8th, at the residence of the bride's aunt, by the Rev. D. W. Carson, assisted by the Rev. J. G. Carson, Mr. Robert Hall and Miss Anna B. Smith, daughter of James Smith, Esq., all of Beaver county, Pa.

DIED.

MERRICK—On Thursday, the 8th inst., at New Brighton, Pa., May Evelyn, youngest daughter of Charles M. and Mary Merrick, aged 3 years and 6 months.

Notes of Northern Travel—Lake Superior—Jesuit Missionaries.

Editor ARGUS:—I am somewhat deceived in regard to your neighbor, the so-called editor of the "Local." I was led to suppose that he was some beardless youth, but that nature had been more generous towards him, by bestowing upon him less beard and more brains.

Programme for Teachers' Institute.

Select Reading, by Miss Jane Reynolds; Class Drill in Geography, by T. J. Hildinger; Essay, by Mrs. M. C. Lakin; Reading Periodical, by Miss Mary Whipple.

Arithmetic.

What will be the value of a triangle with a base of 100 rods and a height of 100 rods? (The method of solution?) A and B played at marbles, having 14 each; after playing several games, B having lost some of his, it was found that the difference of the squares of the number which each then had was 36.

Grammatical.

Respecting man whatever word we call may be used as relative to all. What part of speech is relative? Responde me vobis the cotiger and king, he who best respects the rights of his subjects, under the best of discipline, and listened to the practical sermon preached by Mr. L. with the greatest attention.

Western Papers.

The "Beaverites" when they from some kindly of the old Argus—The publishers as well as Democrats. Scarcely a week passes that we do not receive a bundle of papers from the kind to us. The latest issue of the Argus is from H. R. Moore, who sends us a large lot of western papers from Terre Haute, Indiana, where he is at present engaged in business. He has our thanks for the courtesy thus extended.

Fine Paintings.

A specimen of Middleton's National Oil Portrait was sent and subscribed for, at the Beaver Book Store, embracing the Centenary portrait of John Wesley—it is taken from a fine English engraving, procured through Bishop James Washington, in the Boston Athenaeum; Abraham Lincoln, Stephen A. Douglas, Gen. Grant, Gen. Sherman, Admiral Farragut.

AMNESTY PROCLAMATION.

WASHINGTON, September, 8.—The following pardon proclamation, although prepared yesterday, was not issued until this afternoon: BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, in the month of July, Anno Domini 1861, the two Houses of Congress, with extraordinary unanimity, solemnly declared that the war then existing was not waged on the part of the Government in any spirit of oppression, nor for any purpose of conquest or subjugation, nor purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of the States, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution, and to preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired, and that as soon as these objects should be accomplished the war ought to cease; and whereas, the President of the United States, on the 8th day of December, A. D. 1863, and on the 20th day of March, A. D. 1864, did, with objects of suppressing the then existing rebellion, of inducing all persons to return to their loyalty, and of restoring the authority of the United States, issued proclamations offering amnesty and pardon to all persons who had directly or indirectly participated in the then existing rebellion, except as in those proclamations was specified and reserved; and whereas, the President of the United States did, on the 29th day of May, A. D. 1865, issue a further proclamation with the same object before mentioned, and to the end that the authority of the Government of the United States might be restored, and that peace, order and freedom might be established, and the President did, by the said last proclamation, proclaim and declare that he thereby granted to all persons who had directly or indirectly participated in the then existing rebellion, except as therein excepted, amnesty and pardon, with the restoration of all rights of property except as to slaves, and except in certain cases where legal proceedings had been instituted, but upon condition that such persons should take and subscribe an oath therein prescribed, which oath should be registered for permanent preservation; and whereas, the said last mentioned proclamation of the 29th day of May, A. D. 1865, fourteen extensive classes of persons therein specially described, were altogether excepted and excluded from the benefits thereof; and whereas, the President of the United States did, on the 24th day of April, A. D. 1866, issue a proclamation declaring that the insurrection was at an end, and was therefore to be regarded as such, and whereas, there now exists an organized and armed resistance of misguided citizens or others to the authority of the United States in the States of Georgia, South Carolina, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Florida and Texas, and the laws can be sustained and enforced therein by the proper civil authority, State or Federal, and the people of said States are well and loyally disposed, and whereas, the President of the United States did, on the 24th day of April, A. D. 1866, issue a proclamation declaring that the insurrection was at an end, and was therefore to be regarded as such, and whereas, there now exists an organized and armed resistance of misguided citizens or others to the authority of the United States in the States of Georgia, South Carolina, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Florida and Texas, and the laws can be sustained and enforced therein by the proper civil authority, State or Federal, and the people of said States are well and loyally disposed, and whereas, the President of the United States did, on the 24th day of April, A. D. 1866, issue a proclamation declaring that the insurrection was at an end, and was therefore to be regarded as such, and whereas, there now exists an organized and armed resistance of misguided citizens or others to the authority of the United States in the States of Georgia, South Carolina, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Florida and Texas, and the laws can be sustained and enforced therein by the proper civil authority, State or Federal, and the people of said States are well and loyally disposed, and whereas, the President of the United States did, on the 24th day of April, A.
