

The Beaver Argus.

Beaver, Pa., May 27, 1868.

FOR PRESIDENT,
Ulysses S. Grant.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
Schuyler Colfax.

Republican State Ticket.

AUDITOR GENERAL,
GEN. JOHN P. HARTZMAN,
OF MONTGOMERY COUNTY.

SURVEYOR GENERAL,
GEN. JACOB W. CAMPBELL,
OF CAMBRIA COUNTY.

The primary meetings of the Republican party of this county will be held on next Saturday. Every Republican in the county should make an effort to attend and take part in nominating the ticket that will solicit his vote in October.

IMPEACHMENT did some good. It compelled Johnson to "keep his hands off Reconstruction" the last three months. As a result most of the Rebl States are so far on the path to restoration that he will now hardly be able to keep them out. When admitted, and local government secured to them, they will be able to take care of the traitors in their midst, and hold fair elections, which will enable the Republicans to carry most of them. This will ensure Grant's election.

We desire our Republican friends throughout the county to bear in mind on next Saturday, that they are called to vote either for or against the popular vote system of nominating candidates. The words "Popular Vote System," are printed on each ticket, and a blank left for the words "for" or "against." This blank is to be filled up by the Republican voter, and we would like to have the pleasure of announcing to our next issue that this conciliatory and just measure had been adopted by the people in whose behalf it is urged.

The Popular Vote System. A great many earnest Republicans of this county are inclined to the belief that the adoption of the popular vote system here will not stimulate county Republicans to attend our primary meetings. To such as these we commend the following which appeared in the Philadelphia Press the morning succeeding the primary meetings in Lancaster county a few weeks ago. The Crawford county plan works well, and in both trials given the system in that county, it had the effect of bringing more Republicans to the primary meetings than ever attended before.

Our special dispatch this morning from Lancaster county, giving the result of the delegate election held there on Saturday, bears remarkable testimony to the practical working of what is popularly known as the Crawford county system. Under the rule of the Crawford county system, the election was conducted, and we have a return of 9,383 votes cast—almost seven thousand. In 1867 the Republican vote of Lancaster county was 4,200, and in 1866, when the Governor was elected, the Republican vote was 12,750. In 1866 for Governor Geary, 14,202; in 1865 for General Hartman, 11,099; in 1864 for President Lincoln, 11,420. During the last four years, embracing a Presidential, gubernatorial, judicial and general State election, the average Republican vote of the county polled at a general election has amounted to 13,502.

On Saturday more than half the number of voters were brought out at a primary election. This speaks volumes for the system that elicited them. These familiar with the ordinary working of the popular vote system, they know how very rarely a primary or delegate vote approaches fifty or even twenty per cent of the full strength of the party. Most generally, under the popular vote system, the voters in the back room of a tavern, replete with the fumes of bad whiskey and worse tobacco, determine the whole matter for a ward or township of from three to five hundred voters.

Under the delegate system of nominating, candidates make it a point to visit and consult with the five or six leading men of each township. These same five or six persons are called upon by all of the candidates. They are left to be managed by the "leaders," and the result is they either stay away from the primary meetings entirely, or else they feel so little interested in the candidates as to vote for just such men as A. requests them to. The popular vote plan will work a reform in that particular. After its adoption every Republican in the county will know that his vote will count for the men of his choice. Every candidate will know the same thing, and instead of all the candidates visiting only the same five or six prominent men in each township, they will make it a point to call upon all the quiet, intelligent and unpretending, as well as upon the noisy and consequential. This state of things will bring about a better feeling among rural Republicans, they will take a lively interest in the respective candidates, attend the primary meetings, and do all they can for their favorite.

The platform of the National Republican party for the present campaign will be found in another column. Lay it away for future reference. We have neither seen or heard of any Republican who is dissatisfied with anything the platform contains. On the other hand we are told that the cops are universally "objective on it," not that it contains anything objectionable, but because they can find nothing in it to "reap" about. They are bent on our candidate, bent at the platform, and will be badly beaten at the election in November. They feel that in their "homes" and their attempts to hide it from the public prove wholly unsuccessful.

The Constitutional Union of Washington D. C. the National organ of the Democratic party, has come out in favor of Chase for the President, and urges the Democratic Convention at New York on the 4th of July, to adopt him as its candidate for that office. The Union's article urging this is said to have been inspired at the White House, and published with Mr. Chase's consent. So we go.

POPULAR VOTE AGAIN.

Error: After reading the last number of your paper, it is quite probable a large number of our readers will decline to pursue the popular vote argument further. I confess may excite, and your rejoinder, look very formidable in print, and occupy space enough to discuss one question pretty thoroughly.

As you replied to my communication, at length I am entitled to a re-butler, and feel I should reply briefly and to the point. Your whole argument is based upon the objection that the delegate system is liable to abuse, trickery and fraud than the popular vote system. This is the argument of all who favor a change. This assumes that delegates will not act honestly. That election districts will not elect honest men to represent them in county convention will not make. They are to be presumed to act honestly, until the contrary appears. You, Mr. Editor, have no right to presume that delegates will not act honestly in representing their constituents. The County Republicans of Beaver county are noted for their honesty and intelligence. We never else in a large county, and we have no reason to believe that they are any more dishonest than those of other counties. We have no reason to believe that they are any more dishonest than those of other counties.

Finally! Let us look upon the measure as a trial. To do so will work no harm to private individuals nor to the public generally. We owe this much to that large number of our Republican voters who are not satisfied with our present system. They have talked in favor of a change for years but a change has never been effected. They have therefore kept aloof from our primary meetings, and have refused to support the Crawford system nor will revive them politically. They will again take hold, gather under their party banner, help us to nominate our tickets, and aid us in fighting our common enemy.

The National Republican convention met in Chicago on the 20th and adjourned on Thursday evening the 22d. The ticket nominated will be found at the head of our editorial column. It is a strong one and its success is a foregone conclusion. The names of Grant and Colfax are so prominent in the country, and none know them but to honor them. The nomination of these two distinguished individuals is received all over the country with the warmest enthusiasm, and will be disappointed if they do not receive more electoral votes than ever given to any two candidates before since the Government was established.

Some five or six candidates were then put up for nomination by the county. They were supported by short, neat speeches from the chairmen of the respective State delegations. The first vote stood as follows: Wade 140; Fremont 132; Fremont 118; Fremont 112; Fremont 110. Remainder scattered. On the fifth ballot Colfax was nominated, Pennsylvania deciding the contest by voting for Colfax. The following is the platform adopted by the National Republican party of the United States, assembled in National Convention in the city of Chicago, on the 20th day of August, 1868.

We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system. We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system. We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system.

We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system. We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system. We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system.

We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system. We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system. We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system.

We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system. We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system. We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system.

ONE OF THE PEOPLE.

Mr. Editor: In a short time the Primary meetings of the several Districts will be held preparatory to the County Convention which will meet on the first of June.

It will be seen by the call of the Chairman of the County Convention, that the people are requested in obedience to a resolution passed at the last annual Convention, to instruct their delegates in regard to the adoption or rejection of the popular vote system of choosing candidates for the various offices to be filled at the general election in October next.

The present system of nominating candidates is not satisfactory, and it is impossible to have honest elections. The large and thinly populated districts would have no chance of securing the nomination of a favorite candidate, while in the more densely populated districts, the voters would be overruled by a few dishonest men who would vote for a candidate who would not represent them in any way.

The adoption of the popular vote system would be a great benefit to our country. It would give every citizen a voice in the selection of his representatives, and it would insure the election of the most honest and intelligent men to represent us in our county and in our national government.

We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system. We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system. We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system.

We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system. We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system. We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system.

We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system. We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system. We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system.

We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system. We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system. We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system.

We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system. We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system. We believe that the people of the United States are entitled to the best government that can be obtained, and that the only way to secure it is by the adoption of the popular vote system.

REGISTER'S NOTICE.

All persons interested in the following Administration and General Accounts of Deceased Estates, will be notified to present them to the Register of Wills, before the expiration of the term of office of the Register, to wit: the 1st day of June, A. D. 1868, for confirmation and allowance.

The account of John C. Adams, deceased, who was Administrator of the estate of John C. Adams, deceased.

The account of John C. Adams, deceased, who was Administrator of the estate of John C. Adams, deceased.

The account of John C. Adams, deceased, who was Administrator of the estate of John C. Adams, deceased.

The account of John C. Adams, deceased, who was Administrator of the estate of John C. Adams, deceased.

TO BRIDGE CONTRACTORS.

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Board of Commissioners of the City of Philadelphia, until 10 o'clock on Friday, the 27th of June, 1868, for the construction of a bridge over the Schuylkill river, from the city of Philadelphia to the town of Pottsville, Pa.

Notice in the Orphan Court. The following appraisements have been made in the Orphan Court, to wit: the estate of John C. Adams, deceased, who was Administrator of the estate of John C. Adams, deceased.

J.S. WINANS,

DEALER IN

Hardware, Iron, Nails, Glass, and Agricultural Implements.

Corner 3d St. and Diamond, BEAVER, PA.

BEAVER DRUG STORE.

Drugs, Medicines, PAINTS, OILS, VARNISHES, Putty, Window Glass, &c.

WALL PAPER!

Oil Cloths! Oil Cloths! Oil Cloths!

CARPETS!

BRIDGE CONTRACTORS. Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Board of Commissioners of the City of Philadelphia, until 10 o'clock on Friday, the 27th of June, 1868, for the construction of a bridge over the Schuylkill river, from the city of Philadelphia to the town of Pottsville, Pa.

PROPOSALS.

Proposals for the construction of a bridge over the Schuylkill river, from the city of Philadelphia to the town of Pottsville, Pa. The proposals should be addressed to the Board of Commissioners of the City of Philadelphia, and should be received by them on or before the 27th day of June, 1868.