Asin almost every other departmentof the Government, the desperate course of the Executive made the duties of his office too full of complications and uncertainties for an honest man to control, and he sought that relief which comes quickest-resignation.

Two "Conservative" soldiers of the country have taken the Cooper Institute building in campaign, under the "plan of battle" of the artisans and farmers from the Hoosier State, New York, for the purpose of holding a National Convention on the 4th of July, with the intention if possible of uniting with the Democracy on a Presidential ticket. on presenting the resolutions of the convention, was a splendid summary of the duties and objects of his compatriots, and the concluding passages are so magnetic that we re-

Our council has ended and you are our chosen chief.
You will find the volunteer army in good fighting trim, the ranks filled to their maximum, the commands well officered, and the supplies both ample and excellent. The twops are in the highest state of discipline. There was some defection, but it has all been remedied by the promptness and efficiency of a drumbead courtmartial. The necessity wrung bitter anguish from every loyal heart, heaving sighs of ardent hope and breathing silent but ferrent prayers to Almighty God that we should never look upon its like again.

We are stronger now than ever-most cours geoms and more determined. We have taken our position, we have possed our pickots, we have formed our lines, we have protected our finites, and are ably supported by millions of militia, with Schuyler Coltax at their head. At your command-"Forward it—we will move on the enemy's works. Here is our plan of battle (presenting the resolutions); "we will gight it out on this line if it takes all summer," and send the one-my "whiring down the valley." We will charge them in front, storm their breastworks, pierce their centre, flank their strongholds, and take them in the rear, when we will have to repeat the hmillar summons from our Commander-in-chief: "I demand an unconditional surrender." Our victorious Goierral shall then mount the pinnacle of fame, twice digalified by Westington, twice honored by our Lincoln. We have the honor, sir, to submit the plan of battle.

To which Gen. Grant replied in these sig-

milicant sentences:

Gestlemen of the Committee of Soleness and Satons: I will say that it was never a desire of mine to be a candidate for any political office. It is a source of gratification to me to feet that I have the support of those who sustained me through the great rebellion which we have passed. If I did not feet I had the support of those I would never have consented to be a candidate. It was not a matter of choice with me, and I hope, as I have accepted, that I will have your aid and support, from now until November, as I had it charing the rebellion.
