The Chicago Times Describes the Impossibility of Buying Whisky with Greenbacks Issued by. the Peam.

When the bill making greenbacks a legal ender was pending, Mr. George II. Pendleton made a speech denying the constitutional power of Congress to issue a note not bearing interest; also denying the constitutional pow er to compel any person to accept any such note, or any thing else than silver and gold coin, in payment of debts, books or mortgages, public or private. He insisted that the issue of these greenbacks was, in the language of the Democratic platform, "unconstitutional and therefore void."

Having exhausted his rhetoric in pointing ut their illegality, he made an argument

It contemplates a new issue of greenbacks, equal in amount to the bonds which it is proposed to redeem. Over twelve hundred millions of etore 1873. Five hundred millions are redeemable now. The way to pay them according to this plan, is to set the printing presses in motion. So long as the rags and lamp black hold out, we shall have no trouble in paying the bonds at maturity. When all have been thus prid, we shall have added to one payer money the triding indeed of the our paper money the trifling inflation of $1,-600,000,000, making, all told, a circulating medium of $2,300,000,000.
