

The Beaver Argus.

J. WAYLAND, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.
Beaver, Pa., December 12, 1860.

FOR NEWSPAPERS, BOOKS, ETC.

JOHN W. GEARY,

Meeting of the House of Representatives.

General Order, No. 108, 1860.

The Union Republicans, State Convention, met at Harrisburg, on the 11th instant, at 10 o'clock, a.m.

The President of the Wisconsin

Association, to a canal between Lake

Michigan and the Mississippi river.

Referred to the Committee on Commerce.

A memorial signed by citizens of Dakota Territory, and the D.

of Wisconsin, etc., referred to the Committee on Territories.

Mr. Howe presented a memorial of the Legislature of Wisconsin to a canal between Lake

Michigan and the Mississippi river.

Referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Mr. Quay, after having written the above, at least one and one-half inches larger in the ninth than any previous time in his history, said, when Odeh was made to see the sting of his sabre, "We began to think when we got it off, we gave it back,"

GARRET A. GLOW,

Chairman of Com-

G. W. HAMMOND, Secretary.

J. R. MCNAUL, Secretary.

It is reported from Washington that the Abby party is likely to succeed in carrying their amendment through in the 40th. House.

This evidently abandons the embarking policy, the modesty which on that Treasury shall guarantee to meet an admitted amount of funds, & in this doings we have drawn the final opinion—that the new proposition is equally liable to the objections which have driven both Houses from entertaining the application for aid in its previous form. Why will Senate or Representatives persist in encouraging these speculators to hope for any sort of national endorsement to their schemes? There is absolutely no wisdom or safety for the Treasury in the present condition of our finances except in an inflexion referred to loan the public credit for a dollar, in any direct or indirect mode.

It is reported from Washington that Senator A. W. Taylor has himself, or his next friend, made an attack upon us from Hare-rburg in the Railroads because we took a stand in the 40th. House.

In addition to the members writing to or seeing country editors on this subject, we notice that the subordinates of the Legislature are also writing communications to country journals denouncing every paper or person that has emerged to protect against legislative extravagance. They express great fear lest the boldness of the anti-extravagant Republican papers of the State will not altogether disappear with the course of the 40th. on the reas-ing and folding question, but he has had too much political experience and in what he shuns a political to write such a vote. He is to be found in the Harrisburg correspondence of last week's Advertiser, according to the Akron & its editor.

With Mr. Taylor himself we designe to have a little conference, as possible. He has not in his answer denied the authorship of the resolution referred to, nor has he given a good reason for its adoption. Until he does both or either of these a further reference to the subject will be useless and unnecessary.

PHILADELPHIA has a man named

Klecker in the House at Harrisburg who appears to want two or three passing and failing for the House for $5,000, which last winter cost $7,000, and went with doing that he made a personal attack in the Legislature a few days ago upon Mr.

Rauh for offering it. Mr. Rauh in his paper (Advertiser) replies, that the Representative between wind and water, little else.

Columbus Klecker, one of the members of the House of Representatives from Philadelphia, on Monday last in his usual caustic way, pronounced

Mr. H. Rauch a "Hoosier."

Last evening Mr. Klecker conceived the idea of introducing a resolution for bimonthly contributions to the United States Senate for raising

Hon. Edwin M. Stanton as Secretary of War, and not having brains enough to write it, he called on the members of the Democratic Party to do it for him, and so he did.

See Advertiser, page 78, & Col.

page 78, & Col. K., or Mr. Strong or any other "folly" of the past schoolroom, "Hoosier" will cheerfully accommode them.

The Committee on Ways and Means, says the Pittsburgh Commercial, at Harrisburg are unanimous to be engaged on an annual appropriation bill. We shall be curious to learn whether it will, which will include the bill of the twenty odd thousands to pay the twenty seven additional officers whom causes without law, and in defiance of law snuggled into the House. The law which stands on the statute book says the House shall have forty officers no more. Any over that number will be there without the shadow of authority—the virtuous Mr. Elizur

W. Davis to the contrary notwithstanding any interest to see whether the Senate can disown becoming a party to the feelings of those who are to be paid.

It is said that Mr. Quay for many months afterward thought to beat the above paragraph out to his friends as the greatest "folly" of his life.

He imagined it was all over with sharp points. It appears now that from that day to this no one else had thought to employ

it, and he did.

The present editor of the Advertiser

is the man who had employed

Odeh to drag that bill through the House.

He does this for this man who will compensate who?

It is said that Mr. Quay for many months afterward thought to beat

the above paragraph out to his friends

as the greatest "folly" of his life.

He imagined it was all over

with sharp points. It appears now

that from that day to this no one

else had thought to employ

it, and he did.

The present editor of the Advertiser

is the man who had employed

Odeh to drag that bill through the House.

He does this for this man who

will compensate who?

It is said that Mr. Quay for many months afterward thought to beat

the above paragraph out to his friends

as the greatest "folly" of his life.

He imagined it was all over

with sharp points. It appears now

that from that day to this no one

else had thought to employ

it, and he did.

The present editor of the Advertiser

is the man who had employed

Odeh to drag that bill through the House.

He does this for this man who