Remarkable Stone, The State Guard, of a recent date, speaks as fol-lows of a remarkable stone in the pos-session of Dr. Daugherty of Mechanics burg, Cumberland county, Pa.:—Nearly a century back as old gentleman was pas-sing along a road in lower Virginia where a party of worthy emigrants had been encamped some time before. As he walked leasurely forwed a rabbit crosse the path. He paused, and in a momen the little animal returned. Coming bec the third time, the old man stopped pick up a stone to throw at it. As he fled his arm in the sunlight, his stiontion was attracted by the beautiful manner in which the stone refracted the light and instead of throwing it he put it into his pocket. Returning home he gave i to his children to play with, only re garding it as a singular, beautiful stone, without attaching any special yaiue to it. Some days afterward on thtelligent physician called at the house, and observing the stone on the floor, examine it and offered six dollars for it. The old entleman argued that if it was worth six dollars It was worth more and declin ed parting with it. Soon an opportunity offered to sen the stone to England by a trusty friend went to consult an old 'lapidary by the various styles of manufacture and the able to buy that stone." The young him materials used, by, which means they then went to an old Jew who dealt in precious stones. He was one of you ervous suspecting kind of individ ind said at once, "put that in your pock et, and do not come out again without guard. You would be robbed were khowit you had this." The agent, alarm ed at fintling himself the on rest a treasure, avoided any further e fort to bring it to notice, and availed his self of the first opportunity to retu me over from Maryland and offered i lands and negroes what was consid lars. The owner argued as he did who it came into the hands of Mr. Daugherty of Mechanicability, whose children are legal heirs. The Doctor applied the various tests, and found it to possess the respresentatives, and thus remove the characteristics of the diamond. His opinion was confirmed by toveral scient lous and avaricious executives who hav forman, giving in accurity, what purported to be a one thousand dollar bond, but which was in reality, a certificate of a Life Insurance Company worth nother than the possible state. It is of course in its rough and may again defeat the ends of Justice and barter away the protection of society hardness, and readily cuts glass. It has been the possible states and so their wholesale pardoning of traitors, has double refractrous power, and is col-offees and transparent. There is only and made honorable by persons in high one suspicious circumstance connected with it, and thatis its also. It is, somewhat larger than any diamond hitherto described. For prudential reasons Dr. D. has been quiet in regard to this stone, waiting, as Macawher would say, for "something to and enforce our laws we can have then turn up." Recently a combination of vital security to the perpetuity of our es hordering on the marvelous, has led to further investigation. The stone has been sent away to pass the scrutiny of the stitest ectentific men of this country, and there is every reason to believe that America can boast stie-ingest diamond in the world.
