Mr. Lawrence moved to amend by adble, accurate and complete. The title of his latest work is "Law of Business," and is published in fine style, by Measrs Parmeles &: Co., of Philadelphia and Cincinnati. His other works have been written expressly for lawyers, and have all become, as they deserve to be, standard anthority on all the subjects treated. The Judge on the bench, and the Lawyer at the bar, acknowledge at once, that here is no higher authority than Prof.

Parsons. This work now before us, The Law of Business, has been prepared for the peoplo in general, as well as for lawyers. The author in his preface mys this volume is prepared "for wide and general use." It has been in his mind for twen-
