J. WHYAND, ENTORAD PROPRIETOR

Beaver, Pa., April, 13, 1870. THE Connecticut election has gone Democratic. A dispatch dated Hartford; April 6, says, the latest revised footings of the election returns at The Courant office, the returns being not be worth more than the paper on mainly official from town authorities give the total vote 87,428, and English's majority 832. The Senate is as aiready stated, 11 Republicans to 10 Denrocrats. 'The House has a Republican majority of 18.

AT a special election held for member of Congress in the 10th Ohio District, a few days ago. Dr. E. D. Peck, Republican, was elected over Hill, Democrat, by a majority of 2,-757. This District elected a Democratic Congressmen in 1868 by a ma-jority of 912. How about the "reaction" which our Democratic friends ure wont to talk about, in this case ? The "boot" seems to be on the other
