ter, and found that neither the queen bee nor her attendants were quite dead. Reaumur exposed them to a gentle heat, by which they were revived. The plebian bees recovered first. The moment they saw signs of animation in their queen, they approached her, and bestowed upon her all the care in their power, licking and rubbing her; and, when the queen had acquired sufficient force to move, they hummed aloud, as if in triumph.

—The disinfecting power of water

-The disinfecting power of water has been receiving considerable atten-tion of late. With the exception of charcoal, it is said that no other subcharcoal, it is said that no other substance is so perfect an absorbent of odors. It absorbs its own volume of some gases, and more than six hundred times its volume of others. For instance, of ammonia gas, which is one of the largest products of decomposition, six hundred and seventy cubic feet is absorbed by one of water. Another offensive odor, always present where animal matter is decaying arises from sulphide of hydrogen. Water absorbs two and a half times its own volume of this. There facts are worthy of remembrance and practical attention. A quantity of water placed in an open vessel in a sick-

The McLeod Murder. Particulars of the recent horrible double murder near Fayetteville, North Carolina, have just come to hand. Neill McLeod, who, with his family of grown up children and an old batchelor brother, reside in a remote corner of Cumberland county, a short distance west of Fayetteville, were on the 25th ult., startled by the appearance at the door of their dwelling of three men, disguised by having their faces blacked. Before any words could be exchanged the ruffians fired on the McLeods, killing awords could be exchanged the rufti-ans fired on the McLeods, killing them both almost instantly. One of the girls made her escape from the house and ran toward a neighbor's; the other daughter and the mother attempted to run up stairs, and were fired on and both wounded—the mother in the arm, and the daughter in the arm and the daughter hard by, hearing the firing, ran to the house, and, on his approach, was fired on by the men, receiving fifteen buckshot in his body.
