

SELECT MISCELLANEOUS

MOUNTAIN CHALLENGE

BY JOHN THURGOOD

Some four years ago I happened to be in the uniform of the boys-in-blue to showers, and while I was drifting about the woods seeking for some place where I could find a quiet spot to rest, I happened to see a man in a military uniform and a woman in a dress, both of whom I had never seen before.

He proposed that we should join a party of four, and I was glad to do so. The man was a young man, and the woman was a young woman, both of whom I had never seen before. They were both of them very handsome, and I was glad to see them.

We made satisfactory arrangements with the innkeepers, and on the appointed day we started for the land of our hunting party. The party consisted of a doctor, a lawyer, a horseback, and a wagon well stocked with provisions and provisions drawn by four stout horses, and the most famous Mountain Charlie.

This individual was a singularly built fellow, and in the rough dress of the Plains, which he wore with a figure of great advantage. He was, to an extent, effeminate in appearance, and his eyes were large and delicate for a woman.

As we rode along I watched him closely. He rode with a grace and ease that was unusual in a man of his build. He did not seem to care to have much to say to anyone but himself, and he was very much interested in the country.

We had been out just about a week from St. Louis, when an accident occurred which gave them an insight into the character and history of Mountain Charlie. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Mr. Stubby in Delaware—His appreciation of the Democracy of that State. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Washington. Their idea of Senators had been formed from Southey, and they were very much interested in the country. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Believe in ghosts? Well, I can't say I do; and yet something I saw in Virginia, one night during the war, has never come out of my mind. I never know exactly what to think of it. I know, though, that Tom had a ghost in his room.

Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte—the Bonaparte in Tennessee. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, eldest son of the Emperor Napoleon's younger brother, Jerome, died June 17th at Baltimore. This event will probably bring to a close one of the most remarkable lawsuits of the age.

Mr. Stubby in Delaware—His appreciation of the Democracy of that State. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Mr. Stubby in Delaware—His appreciation of the Democracy of that State. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Believe in ghosts? Well, I can't say I do; and yet something I saw in Virginia, one night during the war, has never come out of my mind. I never know exactly what to think of it. I know, though, that Tom had a ghost in his room.

Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte—the Bonaparte in Tennessee. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, eldest son of the Emperor Napoleon's younger brother, Jerome, died June 17th at Baltimore. This event will probably bring to a close one of the most remarkable lawsuits of the age.

Mr. Stubby in Delaware—His appreciation of the Democracy of that State. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Mr. Stubby in Delaware—His appreciation of the Democracy of that State. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Believe in ghosts? Well, I can't say I do; and yet something I saw in Virginia, one night during the war, has never come out of my mind. I never know exactly what to think of it. I know, though, that Tom had a ghost in his room.

Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte—the Bonaparte in Tennessee. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, eldest son of the Emperor Napoleon's younger brother, Jerome, died June 17th at Baltimore. This event will probably bring to a close one of the most remarkable lawsuits of the age.

Mr. Stubby in Delaware—His appreciation of the Democracy of that State. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Mr. Stubby in Delaware—His appreciation of the Democracy of that State. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Believe in ghosts? Well, I can't say I do; and yet something I saw in Virginia, one night during the war, has never come out of my mind. I never know exactly what to think of it. I know, though, that Tom had a ghost in his room.

Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte—the Bonaparte in Tennessee. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, eldest son of the Emperor Napoleon's younger brother, Jerome, died June 17th at Baltimore. This event will probably bring to a close one of the most remarkable lawsuits of the age.

Mr. Stubby in Delaware—His appreciation of the Democracy of that State. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Mr. Stubby in Delaware—His appreciation of the Democracy of that State. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Believe in ghosts? Well, I can't say I do; and yet something I saw in Virginia, one night during the war, has never come out of my mind. I never know exactly what to think of it. I know, though, that Tom had a ghost in his room.

Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte—the Bonaparte in Tennessee. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, eldest son of the Emperor Napoleon's younger brother, Jerome, died June 17th at Baltimore. This event will probably bring to a close one of the most remarkable lawsuits of the age.

Mr. Stubby in Delaware—His appreciation of the Democracy of that State. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Mr. Stubby in Delaware—His appreciation of the Democracy of that State. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Believe in ghosts? Well, I can't say I do; and yet something I saw in Virginia, one night during the war, has never come out of my mind. I never know exactly what to think of it. I know, though, that Tom had a ghost in his room.

Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte—the Bonaparte in Tennessee. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, eldest son of the Emperor Napoleon's younger brother, Jerome, died June 17th at Baltimore. This event will probably bring to a close one of the most remarkable lawsuits of the age.

Mr. Stubby in Delaware—His appreciation of the Democracy of that State. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Mr. Stubby in Delaware—His appreciation of the Democracy of that State. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Believe in ghosts? Well, I can't say I do; and yet something I saw in Virginia, one night during the war, has never come out of my mind. I never know exactly what to think of it. I know, though, that Tom had a ghost in his room.

Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte—the Bonaparte in Tennessee. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, eldest son of the Emperor Napoleon's younger brother, Jerome, died June 17th at Baltimore. This event will probably bring to a close one of the most remarkable lawsuits of the age.

Mr. Stubby in Delaware—His appreciation of the Democracy of that State. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Mr. Stubby in Delaware—His appreciation of the Democracy of that State. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Believe in ghosts? Well, I can't say I do; and yet something I saw in Virginia, one night during the war, has never come out of my mind. I never know exactly what to think of it. I know, though, that Tom had a ghost in his room.

Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte—the Bonaparte in Tennessee. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, eldest son of the Emperor Napoleon's younger brother, Jerome, died June 17th at Baltimore. This event will probably bring to a close one of the most remarkable lawsuits of the age.

Mr. Stubby in Delaware—His appreciation of the Democracy of that State. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Mr. Stubby in Delaware—His appreciation of the Democracy of that State. The doctor and lawyer were both of them very much interested in the country, and they were both of them very much interested in the country.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

Mountain Charlie had risen to his feet while speaking, and he walked over to where Bailey was sitting, his eyes cast down upon the ground and his fingers clasping each other nervously.

ADDRESS TO THE NERVOUS AND DEBILITATED WHOSE SUFFERINGS HAVE BEEN PROTRACTED FROM HIDDEN CAUSES AND WHOSE CASES REQUIRE PROMPT TREATMENT. LOOK HERE! DRUGGIST, 594 Broadway, New York, and 104 South 10th Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

NO MORE Running to Pittsburgh AS LONG AS Schiff & Steinfeld Offer Safer Bargains. They are now selling Good comfort collars at 10 cents. Splendid dress collars at 10 cents. The very best dress collars (elegant patterns) at 10 cents. Spring styles of collars at 10 cents. 4-14 malleable and malleable at 10 cents.

THEIR STOCK OF CLOTHING, OF THE FINEST MAKE, IS NOW COMPLETE. BUCHU FLUID EXTRACT. In the great district, and is a certain cure for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gavel, Drops, Organic Weakness, Female Complaints, General Debility.

COOKING - STOVES. THE GREAT WESTERN has no superior for this locality. STOVES. The Great Republic Cooking Stove has the best Record of any stove ever offered in the market. IT TAKES LESS FUEL. LESS ROOM TO DO MORE WORK. BEST BAKER. MOST DURABLE ALTOGETHER. EXTENSION TOP. Five Hundred Persons. THE GREAT REPUBLIC COOKING STOVE. THE BEST STOVE IN USE.

DRY GOODS, CASSIMERE, GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS, NOTIONS, ETC. They have purchased in the East at the low, low prices, a heavy supply of Domestic & Foreign DRY - GOODS, CASSIMERE, GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS, NOTIONS, ETC.

HELMBOLD'S Black and Colored Alpaca 25 per cent. less than last Fall. Good unbleached Socks, 3 pair for 25 cts. Good bleached Ladies' Hose, 10 cts. All other goods at correspondingly low prices.

First Class Milliners, and will take pleasure in showing You the Finest Bonnets and Hats. Ever made in Beaver County. We have Facilities for supplying RETAIL DEALERS Equal to ANY EASTERN JOBBER HOUSE. M'CALLUM BROS. 51 Fifth Avenue, PITTSBURGH, PA.

A. HANAUER, and also to Pennsylvania. Corner Bridge and Market Streets, BRIDGEWATER, PA. THE LATEST STYLES OF Spring and Summer Bonnets & Hats, RIBBONS, OF ALL WIDTHS AND COLORS, FINE LACES, ONE TON FRENCH FLOWERS & ORNAMENTS. Pure White Lead. 50 Bbls. Massillon WHEAT FLOUR. CARPETS, Oil Cloths, &c. Wholesale and Retail. At Lowest Prices. M'CALLUM BROS. 51 Fifth Avenue, PITTSBURGH, PA.

Dry Goods. GOLD PRICES. S. J. Cross & Co., ROCHESTER. Have received, within the last few days, the following goods, which they propose to sell at GOLD PRICES. SPRING STYLES OF DRETTES, MUSLINS, FLANNELS, TICKING, CHECKS, JEANS, BENTONS, TOWELING CRASH, HOSIERY, &c., &c. BOOTS & SHOES, COFFEE, TEA, SUGAR, MOLASSES, SYRUP, HONEY, LARD.

100 Kegs of Shanberger's Junnata Nails. FINE LACES, ONE TON FRENCH FLOWERS & ORNAMENTS. Pure White Lead. 50 Bbls. Massillon WHEAT FLOUR. CARPETS, Oil Cloths, &c. Wholesale and Retail. At Lowest Prices. M'CALLUM BROS. 51 Fifth Avenue, PITTSBURGH, PA.

First Class Milliners, and will take pleasure in showing You the Finest Bonnets and Hats. Ever made in Beaver County. We have Facilities for supplying RETAIL DEALERS Equal to ANY EASTERN JOBBER HOUSE. M'CALLUM BROS. 51 Fifth Avenue, PITTSBURGH, PA.

A. HANAUER, and also to Pennsylvania. Corner Bridge and Market Streets, BRIDGEWATER, PA. THE LATEST STYLES OF Spring and Summer Bonnets & Hats, RIBBONS, OF ALL WIDTHS AND COLORS, FINE LACES, ONE TON FRENCH FLOWERS & ORNAMENTS. Pure White Lead. 50 Bbls. Massillon WHEAT FLOUR. CARPETS, Oil Cloths, &c. Wholesale and Retail. At Lowest Prices. M'CALLUM BROS. 51 Fifth Avenue, PITTSBURGH, PA.