Published weekly, except on Sundays, at the office of the publisher, No. 101 North Second Street, Philadelphia, Pa., on Wednesdays.

Mr. DURBIN, for fifteen years past the editor and proprietor of the New York Observer, retired from the management of the paper last week. His three sons, who are all practical printers, succeeded him: The outgoing editor, and the two sons have been warmly welcomed by the subscribers.

In Shrewsbury, Vt., on the farm owned by William Gray, there is a granite boulder, lying on a gently sloping surface on the top of which is a spherical excavation, constantly filled with water, even in the driest time of the year, with no visible inlet. What makes it more curious is the fact that it never was known to run over, but it always full. Mr. Gray says that the water has been boiling out since it is immediately beneath the usual surface, without any rain.

The venerable Madame Prentiss, of Boston, died on Sunday at the age of eighty-seven years and nine months. She was born in New York, and where she had always lived. She was a constant attendant of the New South Church for more than seventy years, and though she had attended funerals or weddings in three other churches in the city, never listened to a discourse except from the pulpit of the church of her own faith. She was a devoted member of the religious training of childhood to be rare in this country.

It is generally understood that Secretary Jewell is about to conclude his collection of the various "penny" collections. The present understanding is that the Seventh and Ninth districts will form one; the Fourth, Sixth and Fifteenth one; the Sixteenth and Seventeenth one; the Twenty-first and Twenty-fourth one; the Twenty-second and Twenty-third one; the Nineteenth and Twentieth one; the Eleventh and Twelfth one; the Eighth and Tenth one; the Fifth and Sixth one; the Fourth and Third one; the Second and First one. The intention, we believe, is to take one officer from each district unless there is some reason why both should be dropped and two men appointed. The Senators will be allowed to designate what officers shall be selected in those districts which have gone Democratic, and the Republican members consulted about the others.

Who shall keep the keys? A notorious man, Marshall, has turned up in Cincinnati, whose official indignation at houses of prostitution has been constantly applied by present money of boxes of sundries and bunches of cigars. Not long ago, a wild reveler in one of these gilded halls of pleasure lost a large roll of money in one of the secret alcoves of the institution. Officer Marshall was called in, made a private search, found the money on the floor of the chamber, came out, and reported that he could find nothing; afterward negotiated with the loser, returned him a portion of the cash, and pocketed the balance. Verily, there is some one who has human nature as developed in the policeman's bosom. Cities other than Cincinnati have probably their Marshalls, all buttons and moral, but deplorably deficient in a nice moral sense. This whole matter of arrangement with people who have been plundered will probably result in a highly-accented nuisance that is thoroughly overhauling and reform will be inevitable.

MA. MORELLI joins the make-believe movement for relieving members of Congress from the duty of saying "No" to office seekers. He proposes to impose a tax of one dollar upon all applications, and the same for every signature attached to the office holder's petition. If this measure were passed, it would result in the immediate bankruptcy of the gentleman and ladies engaged in keeping hotels, gambling, and other places of entertainment in the Capital City. Mr. Boutwell would have to enlarge the Treasury Department to hold the avalanche of resultant greenbacks, and the finances of the government would be disordered by the instantaneous payment of the National Debt. It is further stated that the tax was exacted, the Secretary should wish to raise the wind, all he would need to do would be to create a new clerkship, and inform Newspaper clerks of the fact. The tax of the hopeful souls would fill his coffers by return mail. But these golden visions have no basis in fact. The measure will die in committee. There is not a member of Congress who does not vilipend the office-seekers, and not a man of them who would give up his "patronage" sooner than he would his eyes-teeth.—N. Y. Tribune.

The executors of the will of the late Hon. Thaddeus Stevens have suffered no little defamation of character within the past few weeks, on account of their delay in filing an inventory of his personal estate, as required by law, and it was intimated that the object of the executors was not to conceal the fact that Mr. Stevens owned over one hundred and twenty-seven of the entire stock of the Northern Pacific Railroad. This stock, it is alleged, was sold by the executors to the late Jimmie Wallace. The Hon. O. J. Dickey, Mr. Stevens' successor, and the Hon. Edward McPherson, Clerk of the House, who are the executors, say that there is no truth in this statement. They say that Mr. Stevens did not own any Northern Pacific stock, and the delay in rendering the inventory has been chiefly occasioned by a large claim made upon the estate by the colored woman who was Mr. Stevens' housekeeper, who demanded pay for 55 years' service at that capacity. This claim the executors have finally compromised. The estate was valued at $300,000, which was divided. It was claimed, Mr. Stevens inherited several years before his death to build a local railroad. If this claim had been allowed, it would have swallowed up nearly all the personal property belonging to the estate. Mr. Stevens' real estate has been sold by the executors to amount to $180,000, and his personal property to $40,000. Washington, D. C., Jan. 5, 1877.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5, 1877. Much to the disappointment of everybody, yesterday, the proceedings of both houses were suspended for the time. This fact can only be accounted for by reason that the extreme cold weather, during the day, rendered it impossible to hold the session. The House adjourned at 10 o'clock, and the Senate at 11 o'clock.

What an Entertaining Doctor made by a Judgment of the President's Health. Helmholtz's big sleigh was out in the park yesterday, with a load of Judges and Generals. A San man, in the sleigh, asked him how much the sleigh cost. "They're gold plated. There are 200 of them. They cost me $200,000. I have a little of the medical world."

Further inquiry the reporter learned that the harness cost $1,500. Thinking that a man with such a turnout ought to be worth something, he inquired of the driver, and he hunted up the doctor's assets.
