Beaver, Pa., Peb. 15th, 1871. THERE are rumors that in case Mr. Murphy carried out his intention of resigning as Collector of the port of New York Gen. D. E. Sickles will be requested to return from Spain and take charge of the Custom House. It is thought his energy and power of organization will be most useful in the coming cumpaign freedom from any embarrassing complications in the recent feads appears propitious for such a trans-on Monday, but nothing of any im-fer, as Gen. In the account of the Court Reception of the Czar of Russia on last New Year's day at St. Petersburg, we notice very special attention was paid, both by the Emperor and Empress, to the American Ministerx-Gov. Curtain. The account says: Marked attention was paid to the British and Turkish Embassadors and to the Prussian and American Ministers. The Austrian Minister was received somewhat cooly, but the Marquis de Gabriae, the French Chargo d'Affaires, had several moments of conversation with their Majestics. To the American Minister the Emperor expressed his great satisfaction at the pleasant relations existing between the two countries, and hoped that they would draw still closer to each other. He added that the Grand Duke Alexis was looking forward to his visit to the United States next June with great pleasure, The Empress, who was exceedingly cordial and shook hands twice with Mr. Curtin, mentioned her great desire that peace should soon come to Europe, and that no war should come to trouble it still further. It may be added, with regard to the visit of the Grand Duke Alexis to America, that he will leave St. Petersburg toward the end of May in the frigate Svieteana, and as that ship can carry coal but for five or six days, he will sail and notsfeam over The Grapd Duke will expect to return to St. Petersburg by the end of September. He is delighted with the proposed trip, and is now dillgently reading up on the United States and their institutions with Mr. Mechin, his former English tutor.

THERE are still echoes of the reports-in Washington circles-which prevailed last week, that the President is about to make a revolution in his Cabinet, and every prominent man who has recently spent a week at the White House has been at once placed by rumor at the head of one of the Departments. It is proper to say that early in the season Gen. car were scattered in every direction, an apple and took a silver half-dollar Grant sent invitations to six of his friends, including ex-Govs. Jewell entire express train in flames. > probable terms of settlement: England will be liberal on all the ques tions involved. In the questions of the fisheries, it is possible that unles s reciprocity treaty can be arranged, the plan will be for the United States to acquire the right to fish everywhere and anywhere for a fixed pecuniary idemnity, to be annual or in gross. The free navigation of the St. Lawrence may be arranged in payment of the same. Tolls are levied upon Canadians in order to keep up the canals. The claims of the Alaba ma will very likely be admitted and paid. Those of the other cruisers England will probably agree to refer to arbitration. As for the San Juan boundary, it is a natural subject for arbitration or a pecuniary satisfac-tion to the party giving up the isand. The expectation of public men to-day is, that everything is going to be settled, and every body apparent ly is gratified at the prospect of a soution of the question. The Senate of the United States or the 10th inst., in Executive Session, promptly confirmed the nominations missioners sent in by the President ; and agreed not to adjourn two powers had closed their session. It is not expected that this body will settle the matters in controversy, but only agree upon the basis of an arangement. All speculations as to the result are of course premature.
