THE BEAVER ARGUE

PATRIOTIC.

DECORATION DAY.
In conformity with the order of the Maj. General commanding the Grand Army of the Republic, Post No. 224, of that army located in Beaver, took the necessary preliminary steps for appropriate ceremonies and observances of Tuesday May 9th—the day set apart throughout the Union for honoring with flowers the graves of the patriot soldiers dead in the great rebellion, and the various monuments erected to commemorate those who sleep in unknown graves on the battle field and beneath the waters. During the night previous there had fallen a refreshing shower which laid the dust and cooled the atmosphere. The morning was ushered in bright and pleasant, and continued so until after the close of the ceremonies. All business was suspended from 2 o'clock until 3 p. m. There was a very large concourse of people from town and vicinity, extending from the base of the Grand Army of the Republic monument at their hall at 1 o'clock p. m., where—with their wreaths, bouquets and baskets of flowers—they were formed in line by their commander, Col. J. Weyand, and marched to the Court House, which had already been decorated with flags and bunting.

Wreath.

My friends, that spirit then abroad in the air, that enthusiasm which prepared for coming events, and when the alarm of war struck its ominous note, the army that came forth in quick response,—"for cultivation of intellect, for breadth of patriotism, for devotion to principle, and never to be mistaken, from made from first to last. Such an assertion would be too wonderful to believe. But this we do say, that his country's honor, and the honor of his nation, were in the hands of the brave men who were then engaged in the struggle. It was a struggle for the preservation of the Union, and for the maintenance of the principles of liberty and justice under which we were born.

Decorations.

But a religion without virtue is a power of self-impression. Man is prone to look at and receive consolation through formalism and ceremony. Hence the elaborate ritualism of the old Jewish religion and the impressive ceremonies of the Christian religion. The great truth enunciated in the Declaration of Independence and re-produced for our eyes in the motto of the 4th of July, constitute a system and evolve the doctrine of the best national religion ever known. It is a religion of ideas, it is the old religion of the world, it is the old religion of the world, it is the old religion of the world.

Decorations.

It was the mode adopted by human wisdom, to settle the great issues in controversy. Every thing was sought to be left undisturbed, even to the dividing lines of a farm. The northward extension of the line of the territory of the south, the other symbol of man's sordid progress; it is a religion of ideas, it is the old religion of the world, it is the old religion of the world, it is the old religion of the world.

FOLLOW-CITIZENS.
The return of the spirit of the day, the day of the nation's glory, the day of the nation's glory, the day of the nation's glory. The day of the nation's glory, the day of the nation's glory, the day of the nation's glory.
