On the final balnence in the party, who kept full and careful tally sheets, agree that Ewing really received 243 and Me-Cook only 221. The mistake arose entirely from unintentional mistakes in counting up delegations. By a blunder of one of the Sec'ys, the tally sheet from which the announcement was made was used twice, and hence the difficulty in ascertaining the exact official count. The State Democratic Committee will meet in a few days to consider the matter.

The particulars touching the bribery cases in Allegheny county will be found elsewhere in the Argus of to-day. Politically speaking, one party can make nothing off the other in canvassing these transactions, for while one of the corruptionists was elected as a Republican the other was chosen as a Democrat. We are heartily glad that these official scoundreds were taken by the throat and that, for once, corruption receives the punishment it deserves.

Thereupon Mrs. McWhorter procured a divorce, and after a year or two married again. Her second lord soon died, and some months since she learned that James was still living alone and prospering in the Golden State; that all the stories which had been circulated were malicious falsehoods. A mutual understanding was reached. James returned to Iowa, and a few days ago was married over again to his own wife and a dead man's widow. They are represented as happined.

It would take more space to tell the true history of Seymour's nomination than would be justified by an event of so little importance to the country. But there is manifest historical untruth in putting Vallandigham forward as the champion of Seymour—or as one favoring the nomination of that gentleman at all. Vallandigham went to New York in 1868 with no intention of taking an active part in the Convention. He was known to be hostile to the claims of the Ohio candidate—Mr. Pendleton.
