 I have concluded to have two sessions in the year, of fire months each, instead of three of three months each, is heretofore.
 Many of our best schools are returning to this division of time, and with decided advastage to the pupil. It saves nearly a month of time now lost in vacations and atranging of classes, and gives time to complete in one session many studies now interrupted by the three term arrange thent. The cost is the same—a pupil now paying $10. a session for: three scations.
 A full corps of experienced tenchers will be employed, and our aim will be to secure thorough ness is every branch of study. Pupils in music will be received who do not senter as pupils in other branches, and we hope for even more than our nemal success in this department for the coming year.
