AMERICAN WASHER

The Fatigue of Washing Day no Longer Dreaded, but Economy, Efficiency, and Clean Clothing, Sure.

Dreaded, but Economy, Efficiency, and Clean Clothing, Sure.

In cilling publication to this little machine, a lew of the invaluable qualities, (not possessed by any other washing machine yet invented,) are bere chamerated:

It is the smallest, most compact, most portable, most simple in construction, most easily operated. A child ten years old, with a few hours' practice, can theroughly comprehend and effectually use it. There is no adjusting, no screws to annoy, no delay in adapting f it is always ready for use! It is a perfect fittle wonder! It is a miniature giant, doing more work and of a better quality, than the most claborate and cratty. One-half of the listor is fully saved by its use, and the clothes will last one-half longer than by the old plan of the rub board. It will wash the largest blanket. Three shirts at a time, washing theroughly! In a word, the ablution of any fabric, from a Quilt to a Lace Curiain or Cambrie Handkeichlef, are equally within the capacity of this LITTLE GEM! It can be fastened to any tub and taken off at wit.

No matter how deep rooted a projudice may exist against Washing Machines, the moment this little machine is seen to perform its wonders, all doubts of its cleansing efficacy and utility are banished, and the doubter and detractor at once become the fast friends of the machine.

We have testimopials without end, setting forth its numerous advantages over all others, and from hundreds who have thrown asfde the unwidely, useless machines, which have signily tailed to accompile the object promised in prominent and loud sounding advertisements.

It is as perfect for washing as a wringer is for wringing. The price another paramount inducement to purchason, has been placed so low that it is within the reach of every housekeeper, and there is no article of domestic economy that will repay the small investment so soon.

$3.50. All that is saked for this GREAT LABOR SAV-R, is a fair that. We guarantee each machine to ts work perfectly.
