Manners, says the eloquent Edmund Burke, are of more importance than laws. Upon them, in a great measure, the laws depend. The laws can touch us here and there, now and then. Maners are what vex or sooth, exalt or debase, by a constant, steady, uniform, insensible operation, like that of the air we breathe in. They give their whole form and color to our lives. According to their quality they aid morals; or they totally destroy them.

L. E. New Brighton, February 15, 1872. Ohio River Improvement .- Pursuant to call, a meeting of the citizens of Rochester and vicinity, was held in Town | unantmous vote. Hall, Rochester, on the evening of the laws introduced to result inst. The meeting was largely attended, and proceeded to organize by appointing Dr. D. S. Marquis Chairman. and W. S. Shallenberger Secretary. On motion, the selection of the following named delegates to represent this MERTON-McSKIMEN.-On the 31st community in the Cincinnati Convention was duly ratified, viz: Thomas J. Power, Gilbert Pendleton and William B. Dunlap.

On motion, authorizing the chair to appoint a committee of three on resolutions, Messrs, William B. Dunlap, Samuel J. Cross and Dr. A. T. Shallenberger were selected said committee. Pending the report of committe General Power addressed the meeting by request, upon the relative merits of the plans proposed for the improvement of the river, and upon the vast importance of the work. The following preamble and resolulons were then presented, and on motion, unanimously adopted, separately and as a whole;

WHEREAS, A convention will assem ble in the city of Cincinnati, on the 20th inst., in the interest of the Obio River improvement; AND, WHEREAS, the citizens of Rochester and vicinity have met in public meeting, to discuss the objects ontemplated in the call for said convention, in order that the delegates they chives; and unless, during the four read also John third chapter, 3 and 16 wishes of this community in that body; therefore,

Resolved, That we heartily approve the call for the proposed convention, and there is the hope that a pian for the permanent improvement of our great manufacture inventions have is

Resolved, That the thanks of the entire river interest are due to Hon. William McClelland and Hon. James S. Pennsylvania Legislature.

SENATE Feb. 12.-Among the bills prosented were one conferring additional powers on the Town Council of Roches Council of New Brighton control of the Beaver and Mercer State Road. A resolution was sciopted for 2,000 copies of the Agricultural College Report. The majority of the committee in the McClure-Gray contested election case reported gainst McClure's right to contest under the existing law—he not having present ed his petition within ten days after the organization of the Senate. The minority of the committee reported that Mc-Clure had a right to contest, because he presented his petition within ten days after the election in the Fourth District for Senator: and the law contemplated Our popular and esteemed friend, Henry that a hearing should be had, in case of contest. An effort was made to pass a new act relative to contested election cases, out failed by a tie vote. A resolution for drawing a committee in the McClure-Gray case failed by a tie vote. A resolution was offered to alter the act regulating contested election cases, allowing ten days instead of five for the formation of a committee; but it was bjected to and the Senate adjourned. House -The House was not in session SENATE, Feb. 13 .- A bill was reported for regulating contested elections, inthe success of his claims—having secured | tended to cover the McClure-Gray case. A bill was introduced allowing an appeal to the Supreme Court on applications to the lower courts for charters for corporations, and alterations thereof. A motion to draw a committee in the Mc-Clure-Gray case, after a lengthy discussion was lost by a tie vote. But a bill allowing eight days in which to draw a committee was agreed to. The consideration of the bill to regulate such cases reported from the Judiciary was negatived by a tie vote, afterwards agreed to but without further action, adjourned. House.-The bill incorporating the Smith's Ferry Oil Transportation Company, was indefinitely postponed. The Senate bill allowing till Friday night to draw a committee in the McClure Gray case, was defeated. A substitute was offered and adopted, and the bill as amended passed to a second reading; but the House refused to suspend the rules to pass the bill finally; and this defeats the election contest-as the five days allowed by law in which to draw. committee expires to-night. The people will be led to believe Mr. McClure was defeated by fraud at the election, and a determination on the part of the Legislature to smother investigation. SENATE, Feb. 14.-The Speaker announced that a writ had been issued for the election of a Senator to fill the va cancy occasioned by the decease of Mr. Evans-the election to take place Friday, March 15th. The McClure-Gray contested election case occupied the remainder of the day, without arriving at any House.-The Local Option bill was reported. The Senate bill regarding proceedings in contested election cases tach wages due boarders was reported. SENATE, Feb. 15 .- The Speaker laid Philadelphia Board of Health for universal compulsory vaccination. A resolution was introduced referring the report of the Commissioner for the restoration of inland fisheries to a select committee of five, to be instructed to carry out the recommendations therein contained as to the propagation of fish and construction of fish ladders in dams of the Juniata, Lehigh, Susquehanna and Monongahela rivers and tribumries.— Adopted, and Messrs.Petriken,Purman, Dill, Warfel and Allen appointed on said the Romans, as is proved by the fact that | day by the majority of the McClurecontested elections was considered and postponed for the present, when the shields were carried by all soldiers, and | yesterday by a tie vote, the Republicans in form, material and size; and those the latter insisting on an amendment of of returns of the contested election. The conclusive action had, when the Senate House.—The bill from the Senate. en larging the powers of courts, so as to grant charters, was passed. The special order was the Constitutional Convention bill reported by Mr. White, providing for a convention next summer and the election of delegates on the 14th of May next. Mr. Elliott offered a substitute embracing the bill of last winter, but providing for an election next October to avoid the expense of a special election, and fixing April 15th, 1873, for the meeting of the convention. Adopted, when further consideration was postponed till Wednesday. The House insisted on its amendment to the McClure-Gray bill, and Messrs. White, Hewitt and Dougherty freer and sleep more soundly after this were appointed a committee of con-SENATE, Feb. 16.—The House insisting on their amendment to the Senate McClure-Gray bill, and announcing that they had appointed a committee of conference, a resolution for a similar com mittee on the part of the Senate, together with a new bill, was offered by Mr. Buckalew, which were adopted by
