Elsewhere, in the Arcivs to-day, will be found the resolutions of the State Convention of the Republican party, held at Harrisburg last week. No Republican in the State, we presume, has any fault to find with these resolutions, but a portion of the ticket nominated by that convention does not give general satisfaction. The nominee for Governor (General Hartranft at this particular time, does not possess the confidence of a large number of the Republicans of the State, and very many of the Republican papers have already caused this fact to be generally known. It is true the Evans investigating committee exonerate Auditor General Hartranft and State Treasurer Mackev from taying had anything to do with the Evansswindle; but, leaving put of the account entirely the letters, statements and figures published a short time ago in the New York Sun directly charging these State officials with being Evans' confederates, and notwithstanding the exoneration of the committee, there are a great many persons who do now and will persist in believing that the Evans plundidate for Auditor General. Both of these centlemen will doubtless receive the full party vote, and be elected by handsome majorities. THE reason of Governor Geary for refusing to sign the apportionment bill, will be found in his letter to the late Republican State Convention, published elsewhere in this paper. This course on his part leaves the congressional districts in this State as they have been for the last ten years; and as by the late census more members of Congress than she sary for the Republican Convention to nominate two candidates to be voted for by the entire people of the State, as no districts are provided for them. There is a probability of the further increase of the congressional representation from this State; as a

Governor's action in the premises has those of others; and his conduct is censured or applauded accordingly. It is just possible he was not governed in his action by its effect upon canexcludates, but by the interests of the State at large.

1 In another column will be found an editorial from the Harrisburg Telegraph touching the report of the Evans investigating committee. The Telegraph has not been friendly to Governor Geary for some years past, but in this instance it shows a disposition to treat the Governor fairly. The article referred to, corroborates what we have all along, believed viz: that the objective point of that committee, was to exonerate the Auditor General and State Treas. urer, and implicate Governor Geary.

-A terrible railroad disaster occurred Wednesday last, on the New Jersey Midland Rallroad. As the train leaving Patterson for Hackensack at 8 A. Twenty-five or thirty passengers were taken from the wreck in a more or less injured condition.
