I went into a corn field to look for melons. I then went to the fence and sat on the gate, and looked over towards Mr. Matthews' house, and then thought I would walk over that way. I did not know certainly that the Matthews were gone, as they thought on Saturday that they might not finish their own grain. I did not think of hiding my tracks or of doing the deed until I struck the Farmington road. I then looked up and down, and saw no one. I tnen crossed into Matthews' field and went on to the house. As I went to the numb I saw Mrs. Matthews at the mount I saw Mrs. Matthews at the melons. I then went to the fence independent may be in the matter. NATURE'S GREAT REMEDY

FOR THE

It is gratifying to us to inform the public that Dr. L. Q. C. Wishart's Pine Tree Tar Cordial, for Threat and Lang Discases, has gained an enviable reputation from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and from thence to some of the first families of Europe, not through the pices alone, but by persons throughout the State actually benefitted and cured at his office. While he publishes less, so say our reporters, he is unable to supply the demanuits gains and holds its reputation—

First. Not by stopping cough, but by loosening and assisting nature to throw off the unhealthy matter collected ab ut the throat and bronchial tubes, which causes irritation.

Second. It removes the cause of irritation Second. It removes the cause of irritation (which produces cough) of the mucous membrane and bronchial tubes, assists the lungs to act and throw off the unhealthy secretions, and purifies the blood.

Third. It is free from equils, lobella, specac and opium, of which most throat and lung remedies are composed, which allay congh only, and disorganize the stomach. It has a soothing effect on the stomach, acts on the liver and kidneys, and lymphatic and nervous regions, thus reaching to every part of the system, and in its invigorating and purifying effects it has gained a reputation which it must hold above all others in the market.
