The House, at Harrisburg, this morning, (March 26th) after a brief America, where I went at the close of op the oil production, would fill a volume. At first he was laughed at Intemperance and the gambling as a lunatic or a visionary specula-table, he said, had wrought his ruin. tor. When success crowned his labors, and the first oil well attested the correctness of his theories, i found him broken down in health, paralyzed, and without a cent; he lost his investments in oil lands, and the great crowd of speculators that now took hold of the business marched over poor Drake's blasted hopes, so far as personal advantage was con-cerned, to their varied fortunes of wealth and bankruptcy. Some years ago the oil producers raised two or three thousand dollars for Mr. Drake, but that is now exhausted and he is living in a state of extreme destitu-
