The Annual Conference of the M. E. Church, which was in session last week at Salem, adjourned on Tuesday. The appointments for the year will be found elsewhere in the ARGUS. Since the same body met one year ago, three of its members have died, viz: Revs. H. Brown, R. Cunningham and Allen Gallaher.

A conference will be held next year at Greenville.

Beaver County Builders.—We see in one of our Ohio exchanges that Messrs. S. Harrold & Co., of Beaver Falls, have the contract for building the new Court House in Coshocton, Ohio. They are to erect the entire building and when finished, to supply it with heating apparatus, the whole of which is to cost the concern county the snug sum of $65,000. We congratulate our Beaver Falls neighbors on securing the job and hope they will realize a handsome profit from it.

New Goods, New Styles, and Great Bargains.—Mr. William Reich of Bridgewater has just received his spring and Summer stock of cloths cassimeres, coatings &c., &c., and feels assured that a better assortment can not be found in this country. His workmen are careful, experienced, and competent, and all clothing made at his establishment will be found not only in weight well but in fit and addition. Prices moderate. Give him a call before getting your spring suits. mar19-4w

A Reunion is contemplated at the Steubenville Female Seminary, some time in June, of all the graduates of that institution. We are informed that the institution has turned out about 1,500 graduates. A member of each class has been selected as historian. It is expected by this means to obtain a complete history of every graduate of the institution. Mrs. Julia Ray, of this place, has been appointed historian of the class of '29.—Wellsburg News.

Free of Charge.—Call at Hugo Andriessen's Beaver Drug Store, Beaver, Pa, and get a sample bottle of Dr. A. Boschee's German Syrup, free of charge. It has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and for any person suffering with a severe cough, heavy cold settled on the breast, consumption or any disease of the throat and lungs it has no equal in the world. Our regular size bottles 75 cents. In all cases money will be promptly returned if perfect satisfaction is not given. Two doses will relieve any case. Try it. nov29-1y

Wooden Wedding.—I am happy to say that one of the grandest affairs of this kind occurred in the town of Rochester, on Monday, 24th inst., at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Line:

A large number of friends and acquaintances from Allegheny and Rochester were in attendance, to partake of one of the most sumptuous dinners that could be gotten up, and nothing was wanting that could add to the comforts of the inner-man; and upon the whole it was a most enjoyable event and a decided success. It is needless to say that many nice presents were the result of the occasion, and the guests will long remember the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Line. M.

Excitement at Drug Stores.—There has been a general rush the last month at the Beaver Drug Store of Hugo Andriessen, for Dr. A. Boschee's German Syrup.

It has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and for any person suffering with a severe cough, heavy cold settled on the breast, consumption or any disease of the throat and lungs it has no equal in the world. Our regular size bottles are 75 cents. In all cases money will be promptly returned if perfect satisfaction is not given. Two doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sample bottles free of charge.

L. M. GREEN & SON,
Proprietors, Woodbury, N. J.

We Published, a week or two ago a paper, said to have been signed by 177 property holders, merchants, mechanics, &c., of Beaver Falls, stating that they, the signers, were satisfied with the reply of the Economy Society on the Chinese labor question, and that the agitation of that subject would now cease. Since that publication, the opponents of Chinese labor have been alleging that there is no such paper so signed in existence, and as proof of their assertion they claim that no such document has been seen, and cannot now be produced. In answer to this we have only to say that the paper is in Mr. Hice's hands, and can be seen by any one calling at his office in Beaver Falls. So much for that "croorback."

Advice Gratis.—A word or two to teamsters and owners of steeds may not be out of place just now. When you have occasion to stop your team while in town, make it a point to stop it right on the street crossing. This will afford you a fine opportunity of hearing pious people swear, and besides you will have the exquisite gratification of seeing them flounder in the mud and soiling their clothes in the effort to get around your vehicle.

If you happen to be in town on horseback, and want to transact some business or "see the sights" in the village, be sure to hitch your horse to the finest maple tree you can get your eyes on. He will "go for" that tree at once, and the way he will make the bark fly will cause you to laugh all over. In addition to the sport his operation yields you, you can indulge in the pleasant reflection that it will take a couple of dollars and a few years waiting for the owner of that tree to repair damages. This is sarkasm.

Gen. W. W. Irwin, who has been suffering for several weeks past from an attack of quinsy, has so far recovered as to be able to be about again. He put in an appearance at Beaver on Thursday of last week.

The most complete stock of furniture will be found at the Mammoth Furniture Establishment of C. G. Hammer & Sons, 46, 48 and 50 Seventh avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. This house is the oldest and largest house in this line of business, whose floors, if spread out on a level, would require one and one-half acres of space. This house carries more stock than any other house west of the mountains. Among their enormous stock may be found the following: 73 new styles of Parlor Sets, at from $60 to $2,000, 46 new patterns of Chamber Sets, at from $30 to $1,750. Library and Dining Room sets, Hat-Racks, What-Nots, Office Furniture, &c., of all descriptions and prices. They guarantee superior work at 20 to 30 per cent. less than eastern prices. Photograph Price Lists sent on application, or when in the city don't forget to call. See advertisement in another column.

Dr. Ewing, an intelligent and prominent citizen of Industry township, died last week, and on Friday his remains were deposited in the Cemetery near Beaver.

We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement in another column, of the Brooks Sewing Machine Co. of New York, they advertise, what is indeed a valuable invention, a first-class Sewing Machine for five dollars. feb.5-1y

Court Proceedings. — SECOND WEEK—The following cases were disposed of during the second week of court:

Isaac A. Harvey vs. C. W. Taylor.—Replevin for one organ of the value of $500. Jury sworn and verdict for plaintiff for $545.

W. M. Duncan vs. G. L. Eberhart—plaintiff takes a non-suit.

Stevenson & Wittish vs. F. M. Robinson—Plaintiffs take a non-suit.

Isadore Oesterle vs. George Cable—Jury sworn and verdict for Plaintiff for $131.74.

Bently & Goring vs. Charles Coale—Stricken off.

E. P. Kuhn, esq. has been quite unwell for the last two or three weeks, He is now, however, on the mend, and will probably be about as usual in a few days.

We would call the especial attention of our country merchants, shoe dealers, and readers to the advertisement of J. H. Borland, 53 and 55 Wood street, Pittsburgh, which appears in our paper. He is receiving the largest stock of boots, shoes, gaiters, balmorals, brogans, slippers, ever brought to the city. He manufactures women's, misses', and children's goods. Buying his stock for cash, he offers to duplicate any eastern bills. He has also opened up a Family Retail store, 98 Market. Give him a call when in the city, and examine his stock and prices.

For good buggies, wagons, carriages, spring wagons, sulkeys, buck-boards, &c., go to Ingraham Boyd's, near the depot, in Rochester. All orders promptly attended to. sept4;1y

A Crystal Wedding.—On Tuesday evening of last week, Mr. T. W. Devore and lady, (nee Miss McCreary,) of Beaver, celebrated the 15th anniversary of their marriage, by inviting a large number of their friends to meet with them at their residence on that evening. These friends, as a matter of course "came down" with the crystal, and the display on the occasion was sufficient to stock a first class retail store. A sumptuous repast was spread before the invited guests, and a good time generally was indulged in. Before the company separated, Rev. D. P. Lowary, who is "at home" on occasions of this character, requested the happy couple to "stand up," and, after getting the crowd about him, procee ded to link Mr. and Mrs. D. together anew. The ceremony was gone through with in a half serious and half comic manner, and a number of his sallies had the effect of "bringing down the house." After Mr. Lowary succeeded in making the couple one, Rev. Dr. Riggs was called upon to lead in prayer, and in offering up his supplications invoked the Divine blessing upon Mr. and Mrs. Devore, thanked the Creator of all good for allowing those present to mingle together on so joyous an occasion, and trusted that the returning years would bring about no change of feeling on the part of those whose marriage anniversary was now being celebrated. The guests departed at a late hour, and all having full faith and confidence in crystal weddings.

It Runs like a Prairie Fire!—We will say of Dr. Walker's Vinegar Bitters that it runs like a prairie fire. The fame of the great Temperance tonic is, however, but poorly exemplified by that figure of speech; for a prairie fire runs only in one direction, whereas the reputation of the Bitters spreads toward all points of the compass with equal rapidity. We do not believe there is a square mile of inhabited territory in the civilized portion of the United States where this meritorious preparation is not appreciated. If any theoretical gentleman thinks he is prepared to show that there is "nothing in it," we advise him to go to the Prairie States, to the Mississippi Valley, to the deltas of the southern rivers, to New England, in fact, anywhere within the limits of "Uncle Sam's real estate," and ventilate his views. By so doing, he can raise a hearty laugh than has ever yet shaken the sides of an intelligent people, persons who have been cured can't help laughing at other people who tell them that the medicine which saved their lives is a failure.

A request having been made to the Elders and Trustees of the Reformed Presbyterian congregation of Fairview, for the use of the church for the purpose of holding a temperance meeting at a regular meeting of the congregation. This request was refused, eight members only being present, five voted against granting the church. Another meeting was called on the 24th of March, at which the following preamble and resolutions were passed:

WHEREAS, At a regular meeting of the R. P. congregation of Fairview, a vote was taken closing the doors of the church against all meetings except for religious purposes, and the preaching of the the gospel.

WHEREAS, Said vote was taken, not on the ground that the congregation was opposed to temperance, but for the purpose of excluding from the church other meetings not consistent with religion, and that said action was taken in a rash and hasty manner, unbecoming to a Christian congregation before considering that temperance is a part of religion; therefore

Resolved, That we, the Elders, Trustees and members of the congregation present, do re-consider and rescind the action of the former meeting, and hereafter open the doors of the church for all meetings for the good of the congregation, the church and the furtherance of the gospel.

Rev. J. Alford, Chairman and Pastor of congregation, Daniel D. Dawson, Secretary and Ruling Elder.

The "Heathen Chinee."—The following debate occurred in the Senate of Pennsylvania a few days ago. We clip it from the Legislative Journal:

Mr. Wallace called up Senate bill No. 1066, entitled Joint resolution instructing our Senators and requesting our Representatives in Congress to introduce and vote for a bill to prevent the introduction of Chinese laborers into the United States.

Mr. Davis (Berks)—I would suggest to the Senator from Beaver [Mr. Rutan] whether he has well considered this matter, for the time may come when he will want to give the Chinese the right to vote.

Mr. M'Kinley. I hope that the Senate will not pass a resolution of this magnitude until some good and sufficient reason is given for its passage. It occurs to me that the Senate should have more self-respect. Congress has adjourned, and I don't know exactly what Congress the resolution proposes to instruct.

Mr. Chalfant. These men are taken from China by parties and brought here the same as negroes from Africa. That is what we want to get rid of; it is not to prevent them coming here of their own volition.

Mr. M'Kinley. Will the gentleman allow himself to be interrogated? Is this a political question?

Mr. Chalfant. It would hardly come under that head.

Mr. Cutler. Mr. Speaker, I do not see any reason for the passage of any such bill. I do not know why we should pass laws to prevent Chinese from emigrating to this nation more than any other people. They are certainly superior to some races, and why we should single out the Chinese and ask Congress to prevent them from coming to this country, I cannot see. It occurs to me to be absurd upon the face of it. I could name a great many races of men that I consider far inferior to the Chinese; they have the most ancient civilization of any people on the globe. I would rather they would come here than many that are already in this country, and who will probably emigrate here.

If the object of the gentleman is to prevent the slave trade, we have laws for that already; if he wants anything more stringent, let him introduce a bill for that purpose. This bill does not propose any such thing.

Mr. Davis (Berks). Will the Senator from Erie [Mr. Cutler] allow me to suggest what, in my opinion, is a valid reason for voting for this bill. The Chinese, it is well known, are filling up California very rapidly. They are coming in large numbers, we being a Christian people, they might corrupt us.

Mr. Rutan. Mr. Speaker, as I introduced this resolution it is proper for me to say I did so in obedience to the request of fifteen hundred petitioners, citizens of Beaver county. This Chinese question is a living issue in that county. The Beaver Falls cutlery company have employed about two hundred Chinese laborers who are now at work in the borough of Beaver Falls, in my county, and I am informed it is proposed to import an additional hundred.

The cutlery company formerly employed about three hundred American and English workmen, many of whom settled in that borough and bought property there because of this employment. These workmen allege that they have been driven out or are about to be before their property is paid for by reason of this importation of Chinese laborers, and they will not only be thrown out of employment, but will lose their savings of years of economy. I don't know how this is, but I give their statements and the reasons urged by the petitioners in favor of this resolution and the interference of Congress. The memorialists, the petitioners are the best citizens of our county, and the reason given for the introduction of these laborers is that it is impossible to continue the manufactury of cutlery at that place unless they are permitted to employ cheaper labor. There has recently been an effort to compromise this difficulty, which I trust may be done to the satisfaction of all parties. I cannot disguise the fact, however, that there is a strong feeling against the company for their action in this matter, but I shall not undertake now to say whether or this is just or whether it is only a selfish prejudice, as some suggest. To my mind the principal objection to Chinese labor grows out of the fact that it is a species of slavery, if the statements made are correct. These men are brought under a contract for a specified period, during which time they are at the disposal of a master. This contract, I am informed, is binding after their arrival here, and would have been enforced there. The contractor, during the period of the contract, exercises the authority of a master and controls the two or three hundred men as slaves were once controlled in the South.

They get twenty-five dollars per month, I am informed, where our workmen got eighty—and of course competition is out of the question.

Then, again, they come here not as other foreigners do, to become citizens—but for a term of service, with the express condition that they shall return to their own country. This is a strong reason why Congress should interfere. While all who desire to come to this country are welcome, we cannot open our doors for the importation of laborers who intend to turn our workmen out of their places for a time, and carry our gold to China in the end. We have a protective tariff, to enable our manufacturers to compete with the pauper labor of Europe, and while that continues is it not right to prevent the importation of pauper laborers here under contract at paupers prices? This is the question our workingmen are asking.

Mr. Wallace. Mr. Speaker, the great difference between this race and all other races, and the reason why we should not permit them to come among us and take control of the labor of our country is, that they do not come here to make themselves of us, they come here and earn money and return to their own country; they are among us, but not of us. They do not by their presence make this their abiding place; they do not come here to help increase our population and nourish our institutions. That is the reason why I am opposed to their introduction here to interfere with the labor of those people who come among us to reside permanently. I think the bill ought to be passed.

Mr. M'Kinley. Mr. Speaker, now seriously the idea of Senators—men who believe in the inspired will of God as embraced in the old and new testament, who believe that God made of one blood all nations who dwell upon the face of the earth, who believe that Adam was the federal head and representative of the entire race—

Mr. M'Clure. Ain't that too far back?

Mr. M'Kinley. I hope the Senator from Philadelphia will keep in order.

The Speaker. The Senator from Philadelphia will keep himself in order.

Mr. M'Kinley. The idea of offering a resolution to exclude men from coming and settling among us, when it has been the proud boast of America for almost a hundred years that this is the land of the free and the home of the brave; that we offer here upon our shores an asylum for the down-trodden and oppressed of every nation, kindred, tongue and people. And yet here is a resolution asking Congress to prevent these Chinese from coming here and settling among us, because, forsooth, the Senator from Clearfield [Mr. Wallace] says they do not come here for the purpose of making it their home.

I would point the Senator to the State of California that has now within its borders one hundred thousand Chinese. Many of them have embraced the Christian religion—many of them are as good citizens as are to be found in California—and I doubt to-day whether the Pacific railroad would have been built had it not been for the Chinese labor employed in its construction.

Now it is said by a Senator on the left, that they are brought here by contract. I would remind him that hundreds and thousands of Europeans were brought here from the Old World by contract; they came here and engaged to work out their passage after they came. I would like to know the difference between hiring a man for seven years or five years, as the case may be, to come here and work. I would like to know why we have not just as good a right to go to China and hire a hundred men to come here and work for five years if we pay them for it, as we have to go to the State of Virginia and hire colored men to go to Ohio and put them into the coal mines, as they have been doing. I would like to know whether we have not a right to go anywhere in this broad world and hire laborers to come here and do our labor. House servants are brought to my own county to do our domestic work, and their passages are paid, which they agree, before leaving their native country, to refund, and their conditions are bettered by these arrangements, and many of them make our most worthy and trusty servants, and are a class of citizens that are greatly needed.

How does the Senator from Clearfield know that these Chinese will not become citizens.

I have a very strong impression on my mind that the Senators on the other side of the house are afraid that these Chinamen will be brought here and enfranchised, and then may vote the Republican ticket. I hope Senators will not be needlessly alarmed; they have just as good a chance to send missionaries among them and convert them to their faith as we have to make Republicans of them.

I hope gentlemen will not vote for this resolution and shut the Chinamen out any other nationality out of this blessed land of freedom. Let them come here, God welcome them! There is another point in this thing: We are a Christian people; we are sending missionaries to China, to preach the Christian religion. Now I would ask Senators on this floor, if the Christian religion is worth being sent to the heathens, is it not better to Christianize the Chinamen that are here and send them back as missionaries to their native land? Answer them to the Christian religion, and teach them the civilization of the nineteenth century, of which we are so justly proud?

Mr. Peterman. I think the gentleman addressed by the Senator who has taken his seat, sits worthy of consideration. I am sorry to see a resolution of this kind introduced and pressed. I do not propose to debate the question, but to enter my most emphatic protest against it.

Mr. Rutan. I desire to amend the resolution by adding at the end of it the words "under contract for service."

This is not to prevent them coming here, but the bringing them here under contract for service.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question, Shall the bill pass?

The yeas and nays were taken, as required by Messrs. Rutan and Mr. Fitch, and were as follow, viz:

Yeas—Messrs. Chalfant, Collins, Crawford, Davis (Berks), Graham, Humphreys, Knight, M'Clure, M'Sherry, Nagle, Perkins, Pinyard, Randall, Rutan, Wallace, Weakley, and Anderson, Speaker—17.

Nays—Messrs. Cutler, Delamater, Fitch, Heilman, Mealey, Mikesell, Stadtfeld and Warfel—8.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The following is the resolution as passed:

Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that our Senators in Congress be instructed, and our Representatives be requested to introduce and vote for a bill to prevent the further introduction of Chinese laborers into the United States under contract for service.

MR. EDITOR:—In common with many citizens of our county I would like to have a little more light on the change of venue in the cases of Sims and Proudlock, indicted in the Sessions of our county. The law has entrusted this power to the Legislature to be used only when public justice demands it; now I would like our Senator,—Rutan,—and our Representative,—Cross,—to tell us on whose petition and for what reasons said act was passed. I have inquired of Messrs. Wilson and Wickham, counsel for the defendants, and they disclaim any knowledge of the matter until the certified copy of the act was placed in their hands on Saturday before court. Let us hear from you gentlemen,—your constituents demand an explanation.

Removed To New Castle.—Joseph T. Dunbane, esq., who has been residing in Beaver for some time past, moved back to his old town—New Castle—on last Monday. Mr. Dunbane, while here proved to be an intelligent, upright citizen, and we were sorry to see him leaving us. His numerous friends here earnestly hope that his years may yet be many in the land, and that peace and plenty may attend him and his family as long as they live.

We must acknowledge ourselves this week, the recipients of specimens of the various kinds of cake, prepared for, and used on the occasion of Mr. and Mrs. Devore's crystal wedding. May they enjoy the remaining days of their life as well as the cake was good; and we *hope they enjoyed the occasion of the re*union as well as the types of this office relished the treat.

Public School Exhibition.—At the close of the public school a few days ago, in Sharon, the last term of which was taught by Mr. A. E. Evans, the pupils gave an exhibition of so interesting a character that the citizens have asked for its repetition. In accordance with this request, and Mr. Evans having been prevailed upon to stay, Tuesday evening, April 8th has been selected as the time, and the Sharon school house as the place for the second entertainment. The performance will consist in part of a repetition of the previous entertainment, but in the main, the dialogues, declamations and select readings will be different from those repeated before. A small fee will be taken at the door, which will be used in the purchase of a bell for the use of the school house. It is to be hoped that the citizens of the district will all turn out and give the little folks a good house on the occasion referred to.

Consumption—Judge and Investigate.—The victims that perish yearly by Consumption, Rot, form a long and fearful list. Their lives are often sacrificed by neglect of the disease when it first begins—when the cough, like a small spark, is lighting up a fire which will consume the constitution and the life. Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure will arrest the disease in its infancy. It will cure it during its progress to the last stage. It will preserve the sources of life in the last stage of that disease, and rid the constitution of that poisonous matter that taints the blood and renders it unfit for renewing the body.

Dr. Keyser's office, 167 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, Pa. An essay sent free, on application. Price of Lung Cure, $1 50 per bottle, or $7.50 per half dozen.

OHIO TOWNSHIP, March 29, 1872.

EDITOR ARGUS:—I noticed in the ARGUS of the 19th, a report of the election of officers and managers of the Agricultural Society for the present year. I am very well satisfied with the persons chosen, and think, in some respects, we have an improvement on last year; but why has not a financial exhibit of last year's operations been published? We are all interested in knowing how the "machine is running," and unless we see the "dots," we are quite in the dark on that subject. Won't those whose duty it is, see that the people are furnished with a statement of the receipts and expenditures of last year? I am not alone in asking for this mere act of justice.

Yours Truly, D.

In Every quarter of the Globe where it is known, and there are few indeed where it is not, the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT takes precedence of all similar preparations. Its transcendent merits have obtained a popularity seldom reached by any proprietary medicine. In its infancy the fiat of its success was pronounced in the wide-spread endorsement which it received from physicians, veterinary surgeons, horsemen and the public generally. No one now thinks of questioning its claim to be considered the Standard Liniment of America.

Two young bloods of Susquehanna Depot, Wayne county, aged nineteen years, named Frank Brue and Michael Drooney, had an altercation Tuesday afternoon of last week, which terminated in murder. The local papers give the following particulars: Brue is a wiper in the Erie engine house, and Drooney is a tailor. Both have been trying to keep the company of a young lady of the place, Drooney got the better of Brue, and while the former was walking out with his lady love on Sunday night, Brue used insulting language to his rival. Tuesday afternoon Drooney walked into the round house, met Brue and had some words with him. As he left Brue caught up a bottle that was filled with oxalic acid, which they use in scouring engines, and started after Drooney. Just as he got to him Drooney partially turned around, and as he turned Brue struck him with the bottle on the left temple and across the left cheek, cutting a deep gash in his face and smashing in his forehead. The acid ran into the wound, as the bottle was broken into a thousand pieces. He was taken home and died of his injuries shortly after. Brue left town, but is is reported that he has since been captured.

Hotel-Keepers' Manual.—Mrs. Catharine E. Beecher and Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe have published a work entitled the house-keepers manual. It is devoted to the principles of domestic science, and purports to be a guide to economical, healthful, beautiful and Christian homes. The book is well bound, neatly got up and the agent, Master Franklin Cooper of Sharon, this county, is now canvassing for subscribers in this locality.

Soldiers' Union.—At a recent meeting of the committee appointed to make preparation for effecting a permanent Soldiers' Union, to perpetuate the pleasant memories of the camp, the field and the bivouac, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That a banquet be given at New Brighton on the anniversary of Lee's surrender, April 9th, inst. and that all honorably discharged soldiers in the county, be invited to attend, and that all who propose to participate, be requested to give immediate notice of their intention to the society, either in person or by letter. DAVID CHRISTLOW, Chr'm.

G. L. EBERHART Sec'y.

Medical Class.—We learn that the applications for membership in this class, indicate a very promising beginning of this new department at the College. Let the leaders of the county be invited to attend, and that all who propose to participate, be requested to give immediate notice of their intention to the society, either in person or by letter. DAVID CHRISTLOW, Chr'm.

Important Announcement.—S. & J. Snellenburg have received their new Spring goods.—It is really refreshing to see enterprise and industry rewarded, especially when coupled with fair dealing and affableness. agreeable temperament, as is the case with the reliable well-known and popular firm at S. & J. Snellenburg, the Beaver county clothiers.

In our strole up Broatway, New Brighton, the other day, we made a short call with this firm at their Clothing Emporium, and were astonished at the huge piles of spring goods of every variety and style. Suits for men and boys to please the tastes of the most fastidious as well as of the most fastidious. The county on either side being literally covered as much as a foot or more in depth with coats, pants and shirts of every conceivable make and quality of well selected materials exhibiting a business tact, and a sagacity that the senior member of the firm, Mr. S. Snellenburg is known to possess in the purchase of such goods as cannot fail to please a discriminating public. This firm has also a large new, stock of Reseys Meltons, Cravats, Cassimeres, and cloths and will make up suits to order on short notice at reasonable prices. The stock of gents furnishing goods, hats, caps, umbrellas, trunks, valises, &c, &c; is also large and attractive. Come then from all parts of the county and buy a new spring suit, and receive gratis a perfect likeness of yourself which will be furnished by this firm on application. Only think a perfect likenass of every man, woman or child in the county free of charge, Broadway, New Brighton.

Resolution of respect bought. Amaranth Lodge, No. 294, I. O. of G. T, of Rochester, Pa.

WHEREAS, God the Almighty Governor and Ruler of all things, has seen fit to remove from our midst our beloved Brother, Dwight Coe, therefore be it resolved:

1st. That in the death of our beloved Brother, we have sustained a loss which we deeply feel; one who had here an irreproachable character, and whose genuine temperance principals and Christian graces, won for him the respect and esteem of all who knew him, and engendered his example worthy of imitation.

2d. That while we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the parents and friends of our departed brother, we can also rejoice in the right to reflect that he has gone to dwell forever with his Father in Heaven.

3d. Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning, and that the members wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

4th. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the parents of our deceased Brother, and to the county papers with request that they be published.

SHARON, March 24 1873.

EDITOR ARGUS:—On last Friday, with about thirty other persons, I had the pleasure of witnessing the closing exercises of the Sharon public school. These exercises consisted of an examination in the different branches taught in the school; and, which plainly manifested the care and anxiety of the teacher, Mr. A. E. Evans, for the advancement and well being of his pupils; the examination was conducted without the aid of the text book, and with questions promptly answered. In Geography, the use of the outline maps, which decorated the walls of the school room, and the singing of capitols added much to the interest. Rewards for the most punctual attendance at school; for the highest percentage in classes; and, cards as tokens of teacher's well wishes were distributed, each pupil being the recipient of something. After the orderly and agreeable ending of all these, and, the interesting addresses of Messrs. Matson Darrah, James Moffit, Joseph Beaner, directors and others, Mr. Evans closed the exercises with a telling valedictory.

Independence Again.

INDEPENDENCE, March 27, 1873.

EDITOR ARGUS:—That you and your readers may know something more about Independence, and surrounding vicinity. I set me down to write.

The election is over. The talk about Local Option is ended, and the people have again turned their attention to education. An educational meeting was held in school room No. 1 Tuesday evening, the 25th inst, but owing to the inclemency of the weather, there were but few in attendance. The meeting was addressed by Prof. J. H. Veazey and J. F. Reed and J. C. Reed esq. Our sister township, Hopewell, is also alive in the cause of education, especially old Frogpond district, where the school room was crowded to the overflowing, with parents and friends of education, to witness the closing exercises of the school, where they were cordially welcomed, and entertained with good music by the teacher and the scholars. We are sorry to say that groudhog was a better prophet of the weather than "Now and Then" was of the vote on license in Independence township.

SYLVESTER.

The Revival at Norwalk, Ohio.—During the past winter a very extensive revival of religion occurred in Norwalk, Ohio and, vicinity. It extended into all of the churches in that locality, and a great many conversions occurred. Rev. A. W. Taylor, formerly of this place, but now residing at Norwalk, has written a history of the great revival and published it in book form. We have seen a copy of the volume and find it full of interesting details. It is sold at 50 cents per copy and can be obtained either at Rev. J. K. Miller's book store in Beaver, or from an agent who is canvassing for its sale.

Sudden Death.—Our town was painfully shocked last Monday evening at a little after 8 p. m., to hear that the Rev. D. P. Lowary of this place had died a few minutes before. Mr. Lowary was the beloved pastor of the Presbyterian church of Beaver, and has had charge of that congregation for the past 12 years. He filled his position with great ability, and the church prospered under his ministrations. Deeply pious, full of charity, and with a pleasant word for all, whether they belonged to his church or another, he came to be a general favorite in our community, and the whole neighborhood is stricken with grief at his early and sudden death. He was 47 years of age, and leaves a wife and a young daughter to mourn his loss. He had been in ill-health for a couple of days preceding his death, but no fatal result was apprehended until a very short time before he ceased to live. The funeral services will be conducted at the Presbyterian church in Beaver, at 12-30 p. m. to-day, (Wednesday) after which the corpse will be taken to Washington, Pa.,
