Representing the above first class insurance Companies, acknowledged to be amongst the best and most reliable in the world, and representing a gross cash capital of nearly $16,000,000, I am enabled to take insurance to any amount desired. Applications promptly attended to, and Policles written without delay, and at fair rates and liberal terms. Losses liberally adjusted and promptly did. INSURE TV "PAY! By one day's delay you may lose the savings of years. Delays are dangerous, and life uncertain; therefore, Insure today!" "One to day, is worth two to-morrows."—Quality, also, is of the utmost importance. The low priced, worthless article, always proves the dearest. The above companies are known to be amongst the best and wealthiest in the world.—"As ye sow that shall you reap."

Grateful for the very liberal patronage already bestowed, I hope—by a strict attention to a legitimate business—not only to merit a continuence of the same, but a large increase the present year.

Mr. STEPHEN A. CRAIG is duly authorized to take applications for Insurance and receive the remaining to the same in adjuding towashirs.

MISCELLANEOUS THIEVES.

Seven thousand miscellaneous thieves subsist by stenling. They stone. Members of this class occasionally

Under this head we also include ward decamp with everything available. To this class belong the hall thieves; who will enter a front door and carry off overcoats, fur capes, hats, umbrellas, and even overshoes. The different silver gangs are among this number, and the lead pipe, and old brass, and ash box thieves, and number of other piratical rascals, of

This seven thousand are like the starving wolves, the coyotes, and buzzards. Anything and everything is fair prey for them.

PICKPOCKETS. Among the professional thieves are four thousand pick pockets, bold, "What is that you're saying ?" Su- to the community. We find them plying their trade at theatres and "Sure sir, and didn't ye hear that political meetings on the public

A rope is stretchd across the room, on which are hung coats, pantaloons and dresses. Pocket books and watches are then placed in the pockets of the garments, and the children strive to extract hem without moving the clothing. After they had been thoroughly drilled, they are sent out on the streets to operate in real earnest.

Three or four pickpockets usually form a gang or working force. Each one has some particular part to perform. In operating on the cars, for instance, one of them will obstruct the passage way, another will place goods under the eyes of some watchful clerk, is astonishing. The females are provided with large pockets concealed in the folds of their garments. Some of these receptacles are capacious enough to hold three or four bolts of muslin. An elegantly attired lady was arrested the other day walking gracefully away from a large drygoods establishment on Broadway. She was conducted to a private room and relieved of one roll of Lyons velvet, fifty yards of Antwerp silk, and a box containing

A favorite mode of opperation is to have one of their number engage the attention of the clerk while a confederate takes the goods. BURGLARS. Nine hundred burglars are prowling about the streets night and day. These men are daring, hardened criminals. They seldom hesitate to commit murder to escape capture.

The brutal murder of the old man Nathan and the shooting of Mr. Phelps illustrate the desperate character of this class. "FENCES." Five hundred receivers of stolen goods carry on a thriving business in this city. Some of them are very wealthy. One of their number is worth over half a million dollars. Another owns a church, bought with the proceeds of robberies. The straight-laced orthodox congregation who worship in this sanctuary little suspect that it is owned by a notorious "receiver," Among this class are dealers in every kind of stolen property. Burglars, pickpockets, and other rascals
