LESSON FROM TREGALLOWS.

He is spoken of by those who knew him well as a boy of good disposition, uncommonly mild and amiable. Fond of the society of young fellows, and of a gay and frolicesome turn, he was easily led into bad company. He was put into business, but he would not stick to it, being led away by his associates who were idle and profligate. He became wild, reckless, and lawless. In the case of this young man who died for murder last Friday, the fatal mistake of the father was casting off the son; leaving him to himself; giving him up; refusing him the suffering great annoyance by the father's arm. Our heavenly Father never does so by us. We are way ward, wicked, ungrateful, rebeliious, profligate. But while we are a great way off he has compassion on us.
