Oldest and Best.

The Singer Sewing Machine the Pioneer of all Others-Good, Better, Best, and Now Beyond Competition, for surpassing Excellence-The First Introduction Here. It cannot be denied that the Singer Sewing Machine is the PIONEER of all. other inventions of this description. That the inventor possessed an original mind, of elmost illimitable inventive power, is demonstrated by this fact of precedence and that all other machines since brought into use were but felot imitations and defective devices to evade the patent laws. The Singer Machine was good from the first-it became better as time wore on; the wonderfully inventive faculties of the constructor of the first Sewing Machine brought into requisition to corre rect defects and render them more and more adapted to the wants of a progressive age. The mind which could conceive the idea of this matchless labor-saving machine, was surely capable of reaching a grandeur in this branch of mechanical art not attainable by others. It has now reached a point of perfection which places it far in advance of all others for simplicity and ease of workingthe beauty and durability of its stitches-its adapttability to all kinds of work-and freedom from any liability to get out of repair, with other manifold advantages that render it at once preferable to any and all others ever introduced.

R. STEAW & Co., General Agents, No. 10 Sixth street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Everybody in Raccoon township knows where Christy's store is, and also know that Harvey will do the fair thing in a trade. He has a good stock of goods on hand which he will sell cheap.

-- The friends of Edmund Perry, of Allegheny, feel considerable anxiety relative to the personal welfare of that gentleman, he having disappeared | this number. last week without letting any of his acquaintances know that such was his intention, and it is thought

been engaged for a long time at Douthett'a dry

So Nice to be Engaged. Every one must have noticed the great difference, as a general thing, between the conduct of the betrothed man and the young betrothed woman. He, the braver and stronger of the two, is utterly confused and bashful, and seeks to make a secret of the fact. She, on the contrary, tries to parade it, is proud of it, assumes a certain air of proprietorship over him, and offers to her friends little delicate confidences as to how dreadfully jealous he is if she looks at any one else. The cause of this is just one thing-the man is in love, the girl is not.

I have studied human nature, I have looked into the depts of hearts, I have made man and woman the study of my life, and I aver that the girl in love is]rarer than the black rose. She simply has for her lover the same feeling that the young mother has for her baby. She has an anxious desire to see to him for life, to make sure that he is comfortable, that his buttons are all right, and that his food is what it ought to be. She understands that he is in love with her, and rejoices in the knowledge. The idea of losing his love is madness to her, but of herself she does not understand it.

A woman who is not selfish, and greedy, and mean, who does not smile on any one who can give her fine clothes and grand establishment, overflows with the mother feeling all her life. She expends it on her dolls in childhood, on her poodle, or her kitten, or her canary afterward, and, when the time comes, on her lover. Many a man would lose a great deal of his conceit and vanity if he knew just how the him really felt. She, also, would be surprised to hear that she was not in love at all, but only delighted to have some one in love with her.-Er.

Shenango Presbytery-Temper ance.-The committee appointed to prepare a minute in regard to the law of the Commonwealth proposing a vote on the sale of intoxicating drinks, which election will be held before our next meeting, propose the following:

1. Resolved, That this Presbytery, in the exercise of their function as a testifying body, do most carnestly and solemnly testify: First, against the use of intoxicating drinks as a beverage, as inevitably tending to make drunkards, and to the spread of the worst evil known in our country. Second, against all such social habits among our people as tend to encourage the use of such drinks. Third, against all supineness and neglect of ministers, elders and people of christian duty in regard to this matter. "To him that knoweth | Mobilier, the shareholders of the latter, and the to do good and doeth it not, to fiim it is a sin." James 4:11.

2. Resolved, That our ministers be requested to preach in favor of voting liquor out of our bounds and that they perform such other labors as may lead to the spread of sound principles. That eldere, deacons and members of our congregations be exherted to use diligently all lawful and honorable means to carry the vote against the nefari. ous traffic of intoxicating drinks.

3. Resolved, That it be earnestly recommended that special and earnest prayer be offered that God will influence the hearts of voters to do right in this great matter.

4. Resolved, That this paper be published in the Presbyterian Banner and in the county papers of Mercer, Lawrence and Beaver.

PADDY'S VERSION OF EXCELSIOR,

BY G. W. H.

'Twas growing dark so terrible fasht. When through a town up the mountain there pash t

A broth of a boy, to his neck in the shnow : As he walked his shalalah he swung to and fro, Saying, "It's up to the top I'm bound to go, Be jabers!"

He looked mortial sad, and his eyes were as bright As a fire of turf on a cowld winther night, And divil a word that he said could ye tell As he opened his mouth and let out a yell, "it's up to the top of the mountain I'll go, Onless covered up with this bothersome shnow, Be jabers !"

Mon

Through the windows he saw as he traveled along, The light of the candles and fires so warm; But a big chunk of ice hung over his head; Wid a shnivil and groan, "By St. Patrick !" he said. "It's up to the very tip-top I will rush, And then if it falls it's not meself it'll crush, Be jabers !"

"Whist a bit !" said an owld man, whose head was as white As the shnow that fell down on that miserable night; "Shure ye'll fall in the wather, me bit of a lad, For the night is so dark and the walkin' so bad " Bedad ! he'd not lisht to a word that was said, goods store, on Federal street, and for over a year | lees." past boarded at the Girard House.

-The Pittsburgh Mail eays : On Saturday evening a lad named Sigmond, whose parents reside on East street, Allegheny, was dangerously wounded by the accidental discharge of a revolver. It appears while handling the revolver, one of the chambers was discharged. The ball entered Sigmond's head near the eye, passed around and lodged near the base of the brain. The lad's injuries are said to be of a serious character, and ners, by Karl Merz; and "Little Beauty March," his recovery is considered doubtful.

-The Boston Traveller publishes a very interesting account of the organization and character of the Credit Mobilier. It tells of the manner in which it did business with members of Congress, how it got a bill through Congress, the provision being concealed in the tail of the army bill; and by it the United States Government is to pay the interest for thirty years on its own bonds issued for the benefit of the Pacific Railroad. The railroad company, and by shrewd arrangement of the members of Congress whose stock was in Oakes Ames' name, got the benefit of interest on sixtyfive millions of United States bonds for thirty years

-The express train from Albany to New York on which Governor Dix was a passenger, narrowly escaped being thrown over an embankment twenty feet high on Friday afternoon. The engine, tender and baggage car were thrown off the track by a broken rail, sending the engine ploughing its way a distance of thirty yards, when suddenly stopped. All on board escaped it injury.

-In the National Senate the Indian appropriation bill was discussed at considerable length, considerable opposition to some of the amendments being developed.

-Reports have been made to Secretary Belknap on the advisability of reserving the island of Yerba Buena (or Goat Island) for military purposes and on the question of ceding a portion of said island to railroads.

-Senator Wilson has introduced a bill providing for a commission to inquire into the results of the egalized traffic in intoxfcating liquors. -The New York Times says : "There is in the Republican party, a few men who imagining them. selves the ensire organization, and it is these men who are dangerous at such a time as this. Some of them may not be corrupt, but they are de luded with the idea that the way to party success in the future is to seize every possible office for the present benefit of party hacks. This was the creed of the Tammany Ring, and any party which adopts it must certainly soon resort to practices as corrupt and in the end meet with a fate as ignominious."

-We are glad to notice that the Post-master General has agreed to give to the Philadelphia International Steamship Company the contract for carrying mails to Europe. The contract price, $150,000 per year, while very far from being sufficient to support the line, will have the effect of giving to it stability from the start, and the wisdom of the Government in giving this encouragement and substantial aid to the new corporation is worthy of commendation.

-Mrs. Bonaparte, the widow of the ex-Emperor of France, will, it is rumored, shortly issue a proclamation to the effect that she has assumed the regency during the minority of the Prince Imperial. Precisely what Mrs. Bonaparte is regent of, it is somewhat difficult to say, and. so far as we can see, there seems to be no particular rea-
