All the Committee signed the report except Headly, a Republican member, who will make a minority report on Wednesday next.

The following is the bill, supplemental to the Local Option, introduced in the Senate by Senator Rutan and passed Thursday of last week:

AN ACT to permit voters of this Commonwealth to vote every three years on the question of granting licenses to sell intoxicating liquors, approved 27th March, 1873.

WHEREAS, under the provisions of the first section of the act approved March 27th, 1872, there is, or may be, some doubt as to the time of holding elections on the question of license or no license in certain cities or boroughs wherein the municipal elections heretofore by law fixed do not occur on the same days as in the townships of the county wherein said cities or boroughs are located.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted, etc., That now it is hereby declared to be the true intent and meaning of said act that the election under provisions of the first section thereof, should be held in all the election districts and precincts of any county, including the cities and boroughs therein situated, upon the same day, and whenever by law the municipal elections in any city or borough occur at a different date from the municipal elections in the townships of the county in which the said city or borough, or boroughs may be, the election upon the question of license in said city or borough or boroughs may and shall be held upon the day now fixed by law for holding township elections in such county, and by the proper officers thereof, under the provisions of the first section of the act to which this is a supplement.

SECTION 2. Whenever, upon the passage of this supplemental act, the day of township elections in any county may have passed, in which county there were any city, borough, or boroughs in which the municipal elections have not been held, the qualified voters in said city, borough, or borough in any such county may vote upon the question of license upon the day of the annual municipal election for such city, borough, or borough for the year 1873, when such annual municipal election occurs on or before third Friday of March, and triennially thereafter; but when such municipal elections in any such city, borough, or borough, do not occur on or before the third Friday of March, then, in any such case, the election upon the question of license shall be held on the day of the annual municipal election for such city, borough, or borough, and shall be held upon the day now fixed by law for holding township elections in such county, and by the proper officers thereof, under the provisions of the first section of the act to which this is a supplement.

A valuable horse, owned by Mr. James Lieper, of Hanover township, died last week from the effects of the epizootic.

We understand that Mr. John Montgomery, of Greene township, had a house burned week before last, caused by a defective flue. The fire was not discovered in time to do anything except to save some of the furniture and household ware.

The first lecture of the Beaver Independent Course came off Thursday evening last week, and was delivered by Col. Conwell, on "Lessons of Travel." The audience was not large, and though the lecturer was highly recommended, failed to give entire satisfaction. We were not present and can only speak from current report.

The citizens of Port Perry, Allegheny county, desire to return, through this paper, their sincere thanks to Miss Mattie Wynn of Beaver, for the valuable services which she rendered the committee, both in selecting the music for the concert which recently was given there, and in assisting to make the entertainment a success.

Robert M. Agnew, Esq., son of Justice Daniel Agnew, of this place, who has recently completed his legal studies, and has been admitted to the practice of the law, left for Lancaster on Monday, where he will hang out his shingle and enter at once upon his professional duties, in which occupation we wish him success.

Drowned.—On Friday afternoon of last week, the youngest child, two years old, of Mr. Enoch Engles, of Industry township, being missed from the house a short time, was discovered by the other children of the family, in the spring, near the house, dead. The child had fallen in the water, and there alone its spirit escaped to the Saviour who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me."

Alexander Brittain, son of James Brittain, of Shippingport, met with a terrible accident on Monday, while working in Harrold's planing mill at Beaver Falls. By some means his arms became entangled in the belt used in running the machinery, by which he was drawn onto the wheel, and before assistance came both arms were broken below the elbow. He was attended by Dr. Grim, and it is feared that one arm may have to be amputated. Persons cannot be too cautious while working with machinery.

The State Departments and the chambers of the Senate and House are draped in mourning out of respect to ex-Governor Geary.

The Case of Capt. McDaniel.

FURTHER PARTICULARS OF HIS DISAPPEARANCE.—We have already alluded to the fact that Captain McDaniel, of Canonsburg, who so mysteriously disappeared from New York some months since, had been heard from, having written to a friend from New Orleans. The Canonsburg Herald of last week gives the following "experiences" of the gentleman. The statement looks decidedly attenuated: "Since our last issue further particulars have been developed in the McDaniel mystery. From a second letter received by another member of the family we learn the following facts, as already known, of having met with a Mr. Ewing and traveling with him from Philadelphia to Jersey City on the morning of October 9th, that he noticed a fine looking man observing them very closely, and that being informed at the ferry by Mr. Ewing that he was on the wrong boat, he passed immediately to the other boat and there saw the same gentleman that he had before noticed. The stranger at once stepped up to Mr. McDaniel stating from the conversation he had overheard that he was a western merchant, introducing himself as a wholesale dealer in white goods and had just imported a stock which he could sell at greatly reduced rates, at the same time urging him to go with him at once and see the goods. The statements of the stranger were plausible, and McDaniel being desirous of any special bargains that were offered agreed to accompany the stranger to his place of business, intending immediately to go in search of his sister Mrs. Van Meter, whom it is known he expected to meet in the city. As they were passing along the street the stranger remarked, that as Mr. McDaniel had been traveling all night he was probably quite weary at the same time inviting him to step into a restaurant and have a cup of coffee. Mr. McDaniel having a severe headache caused by losing sleep and traveling at night, thought a cup would do him good and they passed in together. As soon as they got inside he did not like the appearance of the place and was about to go out again on some pretext when the coffee was brought in and he set down to it. While he was partaking of the coffee dinner was brought in, and, being hungry, he ate quite heartily. He only remembers of his head becoming dizzy and of darkness seeming to surround him, when he became unconscious. When he again became conscious his head seemed to be splitting with pain and very sore, his limbs seem paralyzed, and he was tormented with a most horrible consuming thirst. He was rocking about in what at first seemed to be a dark, damp, dirty room, but which he afterwards found to be the steerage of a vessel. He now became aware of having been robbed. He was almost unable to partake of the food that was brought him. He was finally put ashore, having no idea of the lapse of time or where he was, and found he was in a place where a strange language was spoken. Destitute and sick, it was a long time before he even found out where he was, but at length he learned he was on the island of Cuba. He finally worked his way to Havana in a most deplorable condition, from which place, as soon as he was able, he wrote to Dr. G. H. Cook, a friend of the family, about the first of December. This letter was never received. He then worked his way to New Orleans; from there he wrote a letter to his sister at this place, one to his sister-in-law in Kentucky, and another to a friend in St. Louis, all of which were received, containing the facts above stated."

FRANKFORT SPRINGS, Feb. 4, 1873. Editor Radical.—While your readers are entertained from time to time, by the recital of more interesting events transpiring in our cities and large towns, it may not prove altogether uninteresting, to some of them at least, to hear from our rural village.

Situated at a distance from the railroad, and deprived of the advantages which it affords, yet through the energy of some of our citizens we have been enjoying a course of lectures during the winter, which has been both interesting and instructive.

The first lecture of the course was by Rev. Thomas Hanna, of Pittsburgh; subject: Pennsylvania, or how keep, and how assert our Personality. It was full of instruction, and was highly appreciated by the audience. He was followed by Rev. M. M. Sweeney, Rev. James Prentley, D. D., President Hays of Washington College, and Rev. Pomeroy, each of whom delivered lectures which were well received by the people.

The last two lectures were by Rev. J. Benson Hamilton of Boston, Mass., a young lecturer of more than ordinary ability, who is already being recognized as one of our popular lecturers. The first lecture with which he favored us is entitled "Smoke," or Sham and Show. It is both an interesting and amusing lecture, which he delivered in his inimitable style. On the evening following, although the weather was very unfavorable, he had quite a respectable audience, that gathered to hear him discuss "My Wife and I." The theme was very felicitously developed throughout; at times humorously, but times with a pathos that was never strained, and in every case with originality.

We anticipate a career of success for Mr. Hamilton, should he still continue his labors upon the rostrum. We have been enjoying the sleighing for two weeks. The weather has been very cold, the mercury at one time having fallen to twentydegrees below zero.

"RURAL"

BEAVER FALLS, Feb. 7th, 1873. EDITOR BEAVER RADICAL.—Dear Sir: While reading THE RADICAL of the 7th inst., I noticed an article under the head of "Temperance," and signed by "Observer." Now I know not who this Observer is, nor how extensive may have been his observation, but he evidently fails to comprehend that the tendency of his article is to injure the cause of temperance. While Observer "in common with every well wisher of community, admits that alcoholic beverages are unnecessary" (he does not say injurious) he inconsistently gives to alcohol his commendation as a medicine; not only by saying that he has not one word of condemnation against its use, but by giving his special recommendation to "pure eye whiskey" as a diffusible stimulant.

Is Observer a medical man? If he is not, he should not assume the responsibility of recommending the medicinal use of any agent so potent as alcohol.

If Observer is a physician, I will take the liberty to propose the following questions for a friendly discussion through the columns of THE RADICAL, (with the editors permission): Is alcoholic medication necessary in the treatment of disease? This is a short and plain question, but one of paramount importance, as upon its proper solution turns the great issue of temperance. I shall be glad to answer, to the best of my ability, any argument that may be advanced in affirming the above question, either by "Observer" or any other intelligent man. T. G.

Everybody Look Out!—NEW STYLES, NEW GOODS and LOW PRICES.—We are now making up one of the largest stocks of clothing ever seen in Beaver county, from suits for three year old children to the largest man, suits for the tall, slender man or the short, corpulent man; at our popular low prices. Make it a point to call on S. & J. Snellenburg, the Beaver county clothiers, before you buy. If you want a suit made to order of the plain or nobby style, to fit faultless, and well made, go to S. & J. Snellenburg's in New Brighton, where you can see an assortment of goods that will astonish you. We will also have in stock a full assortment of gentlemen's furnishing goods, fine White Cheviot and Galico Shirts of the celebrated National and Manhattan brands, made expressly for our trade. Our stock of Hats and Caps will be the largest ever brought to Beaver county. Determined, as heretofore, to give the public goods of all kinds, at low prices, we hope by fair dealing and reasonable prices to merit a continuance of its favors. S. & J. Snellenburg, Merchant Tailors and Clothiers, New Brighton.

Special Attraction.—Umstead & Hartzog, manufacturers and dealers in Boots, Shoes, Gallers and Slippers, Broadway, New Brighton, are now offering special inducements to purchase in order to clear off a large stock of goods, to make room for a new spring stock. Call and see them and secure a bargain, as they are determined to sell regardless of cost.

A word by way of explanation. This firm has been long and favorably known for the great carefulness and good judgment with which they select their stock, and for the neatness and durability of all the goods manufactured by them; in proof of which see the premium list of our agricultural society, as they have universally taken the highest premiums for fancy work in all its branches. Those who manifest a desire to wear a shoe or boot not only in the fashion, but one that gives satisfaction in every particular, come to Umstead & Hartzog from all parts of the country, to have their work done. Their place is nearly opposite Bradford's Real Estate Office, Broadway, New Brighton. Feb14-2t

John Dillon, the importer and owner of Royal George, respectively announces to his friends and the public generally, that said horse is not dead as reported, but fat and hearty. Royal George is a sure foot gaiter, and the best stock horse in the county, and will be on his last year's stand in time to accommodate all who are interested in the improvement of horse stock.

Why Endure What is Curable?

"What can't be cured must be endured," says the proverb; but indigestion can be cured, and therefore it is the merest stupidity to endure it. Dyspeptics have certainly a right to continue dyspeptic to the end of their days if they choose, but as it is not supposed that any rational being prescribes physical torment to ease an indigestion, we are convinced that an absolute, reliable remedy has been discovered, which would, with one accord, resort to it. We most emphatically declare that such a thing does exist, and that its name is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The record of its success extends over a period of twenty years, and it is fearfully alleged that during the whole of that time it has never failed to afford permanent relief in any disorder or derangement of the stomach that was not organic, malignant, and incurable. The testimonials that go to establish this important fact can be counted by the thousand. Stomach complaints that had been aggravated by a total disregard of all dietary rules, and intensified and rendered chronic by medical treatment or drastic purgation, have in hundreds of instances been cured within three months by the systematic use of this celebrated stomachic alterative. It should be remembered that weakness of the digestive organs involves many other ailments. Biliousness, headache, nervous debility, spasms, palpitation of the heart, rush of blood to the head, nausea, vertigo, and sleeplessness are among its concomitants and results; and for all these the great vegetable tonic is a specific. It acts first upon the stomach, and through the stomach upon the secretory and nervous systems and the bowels, its general effect being always genial and beneficial. Feb7-1m

BY REV. JOHN H. AUGHY. After Sermon. Spirit of the living God; Water now thy precious seed; Slay the sinner with thy sword. Comfort to thy saints afford.

Satan, like the birds of prey, Strives to catch the seed away; Cares in countless numbers come; Burns with scorching heat the sun. Thus we see the Saviour's face, Strive to blast the seed he sows; In the hearts of young and old, Proper it a hundred fold.

Holy Spirit, Father, Son, Aid us till our work is done; Then from life's stormy sea, Take us home to Heaven and thee. Beaver, Feb 28, 1873.

A Sunday evening dispatch says of the Susquehanna ice gorge: The back water occasioned by an ice gorge at Chickies is filling the Pennsylvania canal and flooding its banks. About eight inches of water now covers the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad in the vicinity of the tunnel just west of this place. The canal basin is filling up and coal stored on the banks is being washed away. Families are leaving the shores and a disastrous flood is expected. Railroad travel via Columbia will be interrupted unless the ice breaks away and allows the water to subside. The Columbia Railroad and travel bridges is in imminent danger. If the ice holds at Columbia it cannot be loose below, but at Port Deposit this afternoon the water began to rise and pour into the town at Rock Run, and the streets were soon flooded, as was also the town above. The scene of parties moving household effects from the threatened point was repeated, and with much more excitement than heretofore. The water at four o'clock was higher than at any time since the freshet began, and the alarm of the inhabitants increased momentarily as the waters gathered around them. The Presbyterian church was surrounded, and the Methodist church Sunday School compelled to suspend services, the people with great difficulty reaching their homes. The minister was unable to reach his residence except by boat, and persons caught in the lower part of the town had either to come up by boat or take the hill path. The Friendship Hotel, near the centre of the town, is completely surrounded by water. As yet no movement of the ice is noted or reported from above. At six o'clock the water was still rising and the excitement increases momentarily. The various avenues from the river front to the main street, and all the cellars and first stories of houses along the river bank, are flooded. At seven o'clock the water gives evidence of slowly subsiding.

At midnight there is no material change in the situation. The waters continue to slowly recede.

A Bold Claim for Pittsburgh.—The Peoples Monthly of Pittsburgh claims, with its new type, new "heads," and tinted paper—to be the most beautiful, and appropriate illustrated paper for the home in the whole country. All its illustrations and reading matter, are chosen with the family in view. The "Household," and "Boys and Girls" especially are full of interest. At the end of the year parents will have a collection of home illustrations and home reading which they could get in no other way so cheap. An increase of circulation amounting to a hundred per day, and nearly two thousand ministers on its lists, attests the popularity as well as the character of this attractive paper. Every subscriber at $1.50 receives more than the value of the paper in chromo, or engraving. Premium list as liberal as any in the land; commission to agents larger than any. Three months trial only 25 cents. Send for sample, and agents circular, to Peoples Monthly, Pittsburgh.

Pennsylvania and Ohio Canal.—We learn from the Youngstown Register that a meeting of parties interested in the Pennsylvania and Ohio Canal was held in Warren some days ago and it was determined to re-open the canal. Whether this determination will open the canal further west than Warren we do not know. It is announced that it will be restored over the entire line but as that will necessitate the construction of new locks, and as it will seemingly answer the purpose of the A. & G. W. interest by which the canal is controlled, to keep it open as a competing line with the Pennsylvania Central road between this Valley and Pittsburgh, just as well, it is somewhat doubtful whether the expense will be undertaken.

A Governor's salute of fifteen guns as minute guns, was fired from capitol hill at noon Saturday by order of the Adjutant General, as a tribute of respect to ex-Governor Geary.

A team attached to a wagon ran off in Bridge water, on Monday, breaking the wagon and throwing Mr. Johnson, the driver, out, who in falling injured his thumb and wrist severely, but otherwise escaped unhurt.

The Greatest Machine in the World.—Such indeed can be honestly said of the Singer Sewing Machine. It is praised in every tongue. Where civilization has reached, there you can find a Singer Machine doing its work nobly, assisting man to wear all breeches of violence. E. STRAW & Co., No. 10 Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

CLEVELAND, April, 1872. Messrs. LEFFINGWELL & Co.: We have used the "Baymer, Bauman & Co.'s Strictly Pure White Lead," sold by you, and have found it uniformly and finely ground, very white and of excellent body. For Fairly, Durability and Superior Finish, we can recommend it to all parties wishing good Work done. JAS. HAYE, M. B. GIBBONS, J. CRUSS & SON, GEO. SCHOLEY, E. L. DENNING.

The time is now coming for public sales, and the place to get bills printed is in THE RADICAL office.

The Travelers Life & Accident Ins. Co. OF HARTFORD, CONN. A SOUND STOCK COMPANY. Assets January 1, 1873. $2,259,945.48! Issues both Life and Accident Policies. This Insures Against all kinds of Accidents.

By paying from $10 to $50 a year, an indemnity of from $5 to $50 a week during disability can be secured in case of any accident by which a man is rendered unable to attend to his occupation, and in the event of death by accident the same payments secure from $1000 to $5000 to his family. To Mechanical Farmers and other laboring men we especially commend the subject of Accident Insurance. A small sum paid yearly will, in the event of a crushed foot or hand, or finger, a broken leg or arm, or any disabling injury, secure a weekly income of from $5 to $20, until you are fully able to resume your work. A little money invested in Life and Accident policies will save a widow and orphans from misery and starvation. MEN OF FAMILY, THINK OF IT! Feb14-3m

ORDINANCE OF THE BOROUGH OF ROCHESTER, PA. SECTION 1. Be it enacted and ordained by the Town Council of the borough of Rochester, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same, That the owner or owners of any dog, or dogs, male or female, who shall permit the same to run at large within the limits of said borough, shall for each offence, on conviction thereof, forfeit and pay for each dog so offending, a sum not exceeding, in the aggregate, the sum of one dollar for the use of said borough; and every said animal so running at large shall be considered as public and common nuisance, and the High Constable, or special police, or any of them, are hereby authorized and required to seize and take into custody and impound every dog so offending, and to give public notice of said seizure, and if after four days public notice of said seizure by advertisements, posted in at least three prominent places in said borough, no person shall come forward, claim the same, and pay the said fine, and all costs and charges attending the seizing and keeping the same, then every such animal shall be sold at public sale by the Constable or any Police man, having first given public notice of said sale, of the time and place of sale, and after retaining the amount of costs and charges, the officer making sale shall, within ten days thereafter, pay the balance, if any, to the Treasurer for the use of the borough. Provided, That upon satisfactory proof of ownership offered within thirty days after said sale, Council shall order a warrant to the owner or owners for the amount of said balance. SECTION 2. The costs and charges for collection under the first section of this ordinance shall be as follows: For seizing and securing any of the aforesaid animals, fifty cents per head; for keeping any horse, mare, gelding or male, fifty cents per day, and for keeping any cow, fifty cents per day each. For advertising and making sale, in each and every case one dollar. Approved February 8th, 1873. Attest: T. M. TAYLOR, Sec'y. R. PENDELTON, Burgess.
