Grand Opening of Spring Goods-Having just returned from the East where I have purchased a large and choice stock of goods, consisting in part of Dry Goods, Notions, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, Queensware, &c., all of which fered to my many friends and the public in general, and to which I call your kind attention. Mr Samuel Blackmore, for many years engaged in the dry goods and notion trade, and whose ability is salesman is so well known throughout this county has given extra attention in selecting these goods, and having visited some or the largest houses in the East to select from feels confident that no such goods, either in quantity, quality or prices, has ever before been brought into this county, and hopes to be able to meet the demands of each and every one. Dress Goods of every style and variety, Poplins, Mohairs, Grenadines, Alpacas, Wool Delaines, &c. Percales, Chintzes, Prints and Ginghams of the latest patterns. Also a complete stock of White Goods, Linens, Muslins, : Nup kins, Towels and table Linens. I also call your attention to my large and fine assortment of Boots and Shoes. In selecting these goods we studied care fully the wants of our metomers, and all we ask is a careful examination of our immense stock, and be fully convinced that our stock and prices defy which we offer at the lowest market prices. Returning my sincere thanks for your past favors, I hope by close attention to business to merit a continuance of the same. James Allen, Industry, Beaver county, Pa.

An Ohio lady has in her possession a Bible which is 253 years old, having been printed in Holland in 1320. It is about two feet long, one foot wide, and ten inches thick. The covers are of solid leather, one half inch thick, and united by large brass clasps. It contains the family record or 200 years. The book is still in a good state of preservation.

But we have yet another that caps the the climax, owned by Samual Mason, Can ton, Ohio, 305 years old, published in the English language A D. 1568, containing the Old and New Testaments and the Apocrypha. Have we a Bible in the State of Ohio printed at an earlier date than the one above named? If so let us hear from the owner one said 2004

In 1589 it was published in octavo, in small but fine black letters. In it the chapters were divided winto verses, but without any breaks further.

The first Bible translated into the English language was the Wickliff's Bible, by John Wickliff, about the year A. D., 1360. but never printed, though there are man uscript copies of it in several of the pub lie lib raries.

The first Bible printed in the English language was in 1526, Aby. William Tvndale. It was revised and republished in 1530. In 1532 Tyndale and his associates fidished the whole Bible, except the Apocrypha, and printed it abroad.

The common version, at present in use was printed A. D., 1611. The only printed editions of the Greek Testament which were in existence at that time were Cardical Himenes', printed in A. D. 1514, Erasmus 1516, Stephens 1546, and Beza

The Waynesburgh Independent urges the establishment of a public library in that place. Every place of any considerable size or importance should have a public hall and library. RODHESTER, April 13, 1873 Editor Beaver Radical:

Have you ever been afflicted with that awful disease known as the 'Spring fe ver?" If you have you can sympathize with your correspondent, who has a severe attack of it, and it seems to be assuming an epidemic form. A gentleman triend-remarked that he was so lazy he could scarcely tell the truth. I also heard a lady say that she was melting. Gracious! I wished I was Ben Butler or a huge pewter spoon; but as I could not transform myself to each either, I must content and try to care myself with a light dose of hard work-the best diet for the majority of mankind. Speaking of ransformation reminds me that I would like to have that power long enough to become a borough constable. You are aware that we have an ordinadce in this borough prohibiting bogs from running at large. Our town guardians espied sev eral on last Saturday, violating the ordi nance. They straight way sought the necessary documents (huge clubs) to arrest them, which they did in a manner which showed firmness, intrepidity and a personal hravery rarely excelled. On the road to the pound porky became unmanageable and refused to accede to their unjust demands. The natural consequence was, the documents were brought into requisition, and that, too, with a sooth ing effect. I did not hear parky making any "tart" remarks to his captors, doubtless thinking discretion the better part of valor. Seeing this, oh! how anxiously I wished to be a borough officer; I could then show my boldness, fearlessness, and warlike courage to my constituents, and the hour of danger. Persons visiting Rochester will be sorry and surprised to see that grand and majestic old building, known as the water tank, leveled to the ground, and material removed by the Cable Brothers. When are we to have a new station house? Rochester certainly deserves a better depot building than the one now in use, which is totally unfit and inadequate for the accommodaunfit and inadequate for the accommoda-tions having been filed, the Court confirm the ac-tion and convenience of passengers or count of the Assignee in this case as stated, and freight goods. We noticed a few days ago a drove of cutten bared, patent cement-roofed-horses going east, the supposed owner having an urgent and pressing invitation to go west. By the way-of comment allow me BEAVER, PA., on Wednesday, May 7th, A. D., to say to farmers living in the rural districts to take THE RADICAL, or some other good paper. A few dollars a year judiciously spent for newspapers may save you from being victimized of a few hundred a year. Remember all men are notactuated by pure and unselfish motives, so when you sign an instrument of writing be careful that you know exactly what with foal, to be paid when that fact is ascertained; it, ig. wood in the second of the second of the vice is rendered.

In the way of improvements we notice that our kind friend, John W. Hankins. Esq., has erected, built, put up, or manu fictured, (I don't know which,) a balcony on the top of his awning; he being a jack of all trades commenced and completed the job himself. Some of the neighbors think it, is like a pig's tail-. more for ornament than use. But John evidently has an eye to business, and competition. Also a full line of select Groceries, about the first of August, after twilight, some of the neighbors will wish they had a balcony to go out upon, no matter if you can take it inside when it rains. Half Alive. It is a sad thing to pass through life only half alive. Yet there are thousands whose habitual condition is one of languor and debility. They complain of no specific desease, they suffer no positive pain; but they have no relish for anything which affords mental or sensuous pleasure to their more robust and energetic fellow-heings. In nine cases out of ten this state of lassitude and torpor arises from a morbid stomach. Indigestion destroys the energy of both mind and body. When the waste of nature is not supplied by a due and regular assimilation of the food, every organ is starved, every function interrupted. Now, what does common sense saggest under these circumstances of depression? The system needs rousing and strengthening; not merely for an hour or two, to sink afterwards into a more pitiable condition than ever (as it assuredly would do if an ordinary alcoholic stimulant was resorted to,) but radically and permanently. How is this desirable object to be accomplished? The answer to this question, founded on the unvarying experience of a quarter of a century, is easily given. Infuse new vigor into the digestive organs by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Do not waste time in administering tem. porary remedies, but wake the system up by recuperating the fountain head of physical strength and energy, the great organ upon which all the other organs depend for their nurture and

By the time a dozen doses of the great vegetable tonic and invigorant have been taken, the feeble frame of the dyspeptic will begin to feel its benign influence. Appetite will be created, and with appetite the capacity to digest what it craves. Persevere until the cure is complete-until healthful blood, fit to be the material of flesh and muscle, bone and nerve and brain, flows through the channels of circulation, instead of the watery pab nlum with which they have heretofore been imperfeculy nonrished.
