TRIP TO BLMIRA, NEW YORK. Educational Association - Papers Bev. Thos. K Beecher-Hon. Horatio Seymour, &c., &c.

Leaving Pittsbürgh on the 13,20 P. M train on the Central, reached Harrisburg in time for a good night's rest and invigorated for a day light tide up the Susquehanns to this place. I need not speak of the beauty and grandeur of the scenery so well known as characteristic of this route, nor the safety and comfort of these roads, now, I believe, entirely controlled by the Pennsylvania Central, as this fact is a sufficient guaranty that no expense will be spared to secure these ends to the traveling public.

The immediate object of my visit here at this time is the 13th Annual meeting of the National Teachers' Association. Four readers may gain some idea of the importance of the gathering, when in formed that twenty-nine of the States are represented in this meeting. The array of talent gathered here has never been equalled at any former session of the Association. Possibly larger numbers have attended at some former session, yet l learn that the enrollment of members has never been so large. Another improve ment observed is the heartier co-operation of College and Public School men, and the larger attendance of the former

The General Association is presided over by Prof. B. H. Northrop, of Conn, one of the best presiding officers this or any other gathering ever possessed. In the afternoon the Association divides is self into four sections, meeting in differ. ent portions of the city, namely, the Normal Department, Department of Higher Instruction, Department of Elementary Schools, and Department of Superintendence. Carefully prepared papers are read by distinguished educators, in each of these followed by discussions on the points presented in the papers. By this plan much more is accomplished than if the Association met as a whole all the time. General meetings -are, however, held in the morning and at night, where a similar order is pursued. This arrangement gives to each teacher the opportunity to be present and take been giving some heavy knocks on the private character of Dr. Eldridge, who, fosoth, is not a church member, but has spent $200,000 on his park, and throws it open to the city, and has fitted up a beautitul stand for the ministry, with comfort. able seats for 5000 persons. He seeks to bring the people there at an hour when there is no service in the churches, and invites the ministers of all denominations to preach to them. Surely every one possessed of the true spirit of the Great Teacher will say God bless bim. The Dr., who is said to have been in the old Erie Ring with Gould and Fish; has added 200 acres to this park, making 400 in all, which he is going to fit up in the best style and present it to the city. This is a beautiful town situated on the Chemung river, a branch of the Susque hanns, and contains about 20,000 inhab itants. It has not been my privilege to visit a town more "beautiful for situation" in respect of extent or expansion and beautiful drives than this one, about ten miles from the Pennsylvania line. The citizens have vied with each other to render the stay of the Convention pleasant, while the local committee, with the Mayor at its head, has proved very efficient. The results of the Convention cannot tail to be widely beneficial. Elucators will go down from this place, having listened to sturdy thoughts on their call ing, and many a teacher will be lifted out of the "rut" into which he had uncon sciously fallen. The cause of popular education was never of more importance, nor was it ever dearer to the great Amer ican people. May God speed the day when broader views shall be entertained and when everywhere there shall be found the disposition to foster with a liberal hand our educational institutions, the conservators of our liberties, and the surest means of elevating and blessing Yours, the race.

A paper on Upper Schools, by Dr. Mc-Cosh, of Princeton College, elicited considerable discussion, and was full of practical, earnest thought. The Dr. pleads for the fostering of Higher Schools, that shall form the connecting link between the Common School and the College proper. One of the sharpest papers that I heard in the Normal Department, and one which was severely handled and as ably defended, was read by Miss Delia Lathrop, Principal of the Training School at Cincinnati; subject, Training Schooltheir place in Normal School work. She plead earnestly for more distinctive professional training on the part of the schools, and less attention to the study of the branches to be taught, claiming that Breech-Loading Shot Guns, $40 to $300. Double the candidates for these Normal Schools Shot Guns $8 to $150. Single Guns $8 to $28. Rifles $8 to $75. Hevolvers $5 to $15. Pistols $1 should be required to pass rigid examinations in these branches before admitted to the Training School.

Dr. Wickersham, Superintendent of the schools of Pennsylvania, addressed the Association at different times, and is always happy in his remarks. Prof. Atkinson, of the Institute of Technology of Boston, Mass., read a paper on "A Liber ral Education for the Nineteenth Century," in which he took ultra ground against the study of the Clussics, but failed to carry the Association with him. The view in which the most strenuous admirers of the Classics harmonize is that their study should be used as one of the means for securing a liberal education. The Prof. is one of the finest speakers in the Convention.

The first morning after I reached here stopping at the Rathban House, the waiter seated me at the head of the then nearly empty table. Soon he seated on my right the Superintendent of Education from Loui-ians, and on my left Prof. Langston, of Howard University, Wash ington, D. C., both colored, yet intelligent and, I may add, accomplished. The latter is a graduate of Oberlin, and is the first colored lawyer admitted to practice in the Supreme Court of the United States.

Hon. J. C. Gebbs, a very dark negro. Superintendent of Education in Florida, read an interesting paper on the "Causof Education in the South." These colored men were as warmly received and as highly honored as any men of the same culture, and occupying the same public and responsible positions, and why not? All speak hopefully of the South because of the interest taken in the cause of edu-
