

and the other a lad of about 12. They are copper coloured, and tattooed according to their custom, by puncturing the skin and introducing a dark liquid, which has a singular appearance. They appear to be indolgent youths, and as they are American citizens, having been adopted into the great American family, we trust they will be treated with kindness and hospitality.

THE PRESIDENT'S TOUR.

The line of the President's progress along the maritime frontier of North Carolina is not as easily traced as that which he made along the most part of the Atlantic border, two years ago. We hear of him however, now and then, wherever an established press affords the means of disseminating information; and from the American Recorder we learn that Friday, the 9th inst. was spent by the President and the Secretary of War, in Washington, N. C. and that he departed thence on the ensuing day, for Newbern.

The President was received at Washington with the usual demonstrations of respect, and an address delivered to him, to which he made the following reply:

"To the committee in behalf of the citizens of Washington."

"For the kind reception given me by the citizens of Washington, I beg you to tender them my best thanks."

"Having always considered the good opinion of my fellow citizens the highest reward for any services which I might be able to render, the favorable light in which you have viewed my conduct in the various offices with which I have been honored by my country, is peculiarly gratifying to me."

"The prosperous and happy condition of the United States is seen and felt by all. The cause is not less obvious. It is to be traced to the virtue and intelligence of the people, and the excellence of our republican institutions. Let us, then, never cease to cherish and support them by the most wise and efficient measures."

JAMES MONROE.

"Washington, April 6th 1819."

A public dinner was given to him by the citizens of the town and vicinity, at which Mr. John G. Blount presided, assisted by Messrs. Wm. Kennedy, Edward Quinn, and Wm. W. Rodman; and a number of appropriate toasts were drunk on the occasion. The President and Mr. Secretary Calhoun, after being affectionately entertained at Washington, were escorted thence several miles by a number of the citizens.

The following extract of a letter from our correspondent at Newbern, N. C. marks the next step in the progress of the President:

"Newbern, April 12."

"The President arrived here on Saturday afternoon, accompanied by the secretary of war, escorted by a large number of the citizens who had rode out ten miles for the purpose of meeting him. His arrival was announced by the discharge of cannon, ringing of bells, &c. He was conducted to the house prepared for him by the committee of arrangement. To day he partakes of a public dinner at the mansion Hall, and will leave town to-morrow for Wilmington."

Bank of the United States.—This day at 12 o'clock the ceremony was performed of laying the Corner Stone of the Building for this institution.

Enclosed in the stone was deposited secured in a leaden case, a Glass Vase containing several of the Gold, Silver and Copper coins of the United States, and the following inscription beautifully printed on vellum paper:—

On the 19th day of the month April, in the 43d year of the Independence of the United States of America, (being the year 1819 of the christian era.)

This the Corner stone of the BANK of the UNITED STATES, was laid by Langdon Cheves, President, and Jonathan Smith Cashier.

Attended by Nicholas Biddle, John Connelly, James C. Fisher, and Joshua Lipincott the building Committee; William Strickland, Architect—Adam and Thos Traquair, Marble Masons—Philip Justus, Carpenter—Daniel Groves, and Joseph S. Walter, Bricklayers.

And a numerous assemblage of the citizens of Philadelphia.

Chevalier Correa de Serra, the Portuguese Minister, has taken his departure northwardly from this city, for his summer residence.

Col. Atkinson, commanding the sixth Regiment of United States Infantry, passed through this city a day or two ago, on his way to join his regiment, which is destined to explore and garrison our remote Western territory.

Gen. Jesup, the Quarter Master General of the Army, departed from the seat of government at the same time as Col. Atkinson, for Pittsburg. It is understood his object is personally to direct every arrangement and preparation, in his department, to ensure safety and success to the expeditions moving to the heads of our great Western streams.

From Curracoa.—Capt. Whitmarsh in 20 days from Curracoa, informs that about an hour before he sailed, information was received by a Dutch government schooner that Lagaira was blockaded by a large squadron under Admiral Brion's flag; an embargo was laid on all vessels at that place and Porto Cavello, in consequence of the appearance on the coast of the Patriot squadron. It was also reported that the Royalists had recently been defeated several times on the Main.

Before the Circuit Court of the State of Kentucky, at Bardstown, was tried, towards the close of the last month, a suit for slander, in which Miss Des Marsley, alias Mrs Fishley, of Louisville, defendant. After a trial of two days, the jury being permitted to retire brought in a verdict for the plaintiff, and assessed the damages at twenty seven thousand nine hundred dollars.— This is a curious case; for the parties had been married, and the husband, the defendant had in a few days after marriage deserted his wife. However the verdict, it appears, falls to the ground; the judge having decided, that the marriage being a legal one, suit for slander could not be maintained by the wife against the husband.

DIED.—At his residence on the Grampian Hills, in Clearfield County, on the first instant, Dr. SAMUEL COLEMAN, in the forty fourth year of his age, after about two weeks sickness. He practiced as a Physician a number of years in Williamsport, Lycoming county, with great success and universally esteemed. He was remarkably charitable to the poor, who very much regretted losing him when he left Lycoming county for Clearfield. For some years before his death he had given over practicing, except in cases of necessity, or when compassion for some poor person excited his benevolence. His social qualities endeared him to all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance, and the general regret expressed for his loss, is a proof that society has been bereft of a useful and worthy member.
