MELANCHOLY OCCURRENCES Extract of a letter to a gentleman in Portsmouth, dated Snowhill, Maryland, July 3, 1821.

"Several unfortunate occurrences have lately taken place in this county ISAAC DREDDEN, residing near Newton, murdered James Henderson, by knocking him overboard into the river with an oar. Dredden is now in jail.
William Scarborough, aged 18 years, only child of Edward Scarborough, being alone in a small boat near home fishing, unfortunately fell overboard and was drowned. Mr. Edward Scarborough has had 21 children, of whom William was the only surviving one and doated on by his parents. A negro woman belonging to Rackliff Ponteur, being informed that she had been sold to the negro buyers, first cut the throat of her child, and afterwards her own; their bodies were found a few days afterwards near home."

INDIAN WAR—We have before us numerous particulars relative to the state of Indian affairs in Arkansas; from which it appears that a war between the Cherokees and Osages will inevitably take place. The authority of government has not been properly exerted to prevent it. Although the parties have been warned to respect the property of our citizens it cannot be expected, living as they do among the Cherokees, and contigious to the other party, that they can escape the evils of the conflict.

A newspaper, in Chautauque county, New York, relates a singular accident of desperation in an Indian, which happened a short time since at Mack's ferry, Cataugus Creek. A white man and a stout Indian who goes by the name of THE DEVIL'S RAM-ROD, after an altercation proceeded to blows. The white man got the better of the Indian. The combatants were separated, and the Indian set across the ferry, mounted on his horse. He was, however, too much grieved to depart, and dismounted and jumped into the creek. He was taken out and again mounted, but quickly dismounted, and again plunged into the creek. He was taken out a second time and mounted, when he rode off a short distance, waited for a favorable moment, returned and leaped into the creek, from which he was taken out lifeless. The Indians of his tribe have threatened vengeance on the white man, who they say must have first killed their brother and then threw him into the creek.

Great attention is paid to the manufacturing interest throughout France.
The manufacture of rich cashmere shawls is spoken of in exalted terms.
With the aid of the king, the manufacturers have imported upwards of 400 of the downy goats of cashmere, from their native mountains, and constitute a part of the cherished stock of the kingdom.

From the London Traveller, June 18.

Turkey was never in so critical a position and in such an extraordinary state of feebleness. Prince Ypsilanti, whose plan was to pass the Danube without stopping, has met more than one obstacle. The necessaries of war, which his friends had sent him, were stopped by a superior order at the frontiers of Russia. But in the end his partizans sent him by sea forty pieces of cannon, which were lately received at Galatz. At the same time the prince, without losing time, prepared the rest of his armament in the country.

Every one agrees that Ypsilanti possesses the qualities necessary for the chief of so daring an enterprise, and knows particularly how to animate others with his own courage and intrepidity. When the thundering declaration of the Russian consul, published at Jassy, on the part of his sovereign, and which produced so great an effect in Moldavia, arrived at his head quarters, he ordered it to be read before the whole army. He afterwards addressed the army in which he said none of the sovereigns would dare march against them. But supposing that possible, he was certain no soldier present would survive the disgrace of his country. "If there are such," continued he, "let them pass to the left." The whole army passed to the right, shouting "death rather than such an outrage."

The greatest disorder prevails at Constantinople; and to crown it, a violent dissension has broken out between the three powers who compose the government. The body of Ulemas reproached the ministry with having pushed the Greek people to despair, by the unlimited exactions of the Pa-chas. The ministers on the other hand reproached the Ulemas with having chosen Cadjis who provoked insurrection by the iniquity of their judgments. The Jannissaries, on the other side attribute to the first, and particularly to the second, the cause of the revolt, and demand the head of Halet Effendi, the Sultan's favorite, who has been they say for a long time, the soul of the most pernicious counsels that ever were given to an Ottoman Prince.

Constantinople.

May 10.

Affairs were at their Climax about the 4th and 6th instant, when an appen-danted insurrection of the Janzaries put the whole city in a panic. Their demands were however, evaded by a tribute of eight millions of piastres, about £220,000 sterling, and some police regulations have restored us to apparent tranquility. Business cannot be resumed however, till our situation be more secure, and we fear that under the most favorable circumstances to be hoped for, some time must elapse before things return to their former channel. The cause of the Greeks is quite abandoned in the provinces adjoining Russia, and it must in the event prove equally hopeless in the Morea. Complete ruin has been entailed on that nation in the capital, and the same measures we understand are to be adopted in the provincial cities also. Our newly arrived grand vizier remained in place but eight days, owing, it is believed, to his opposition to the violent and indiscriminate proceedings that were carrying on. The Patriarch was hanged on Easter Sunday, together with several of his bishops, and nearly all individuals who could not escape, belonging to the principal Greek families, have suffered.

DIED—In Walker township, on Thursday, Mrs. Mary M'Brice, consort of Mr. Robert M'Brice, late of his town. She was a good christian, and consequently an excellent member of society, which, combined with her other good qualities as a wife and mother, renders her death a matter of regret not only to her affectionate husband, but to the community at large.

NOTICE.

Board of Property,

July 3d 1821.

Present,

A GREGG, Sec'y Commonwealth.
JAMES BRADY, Sec'y L'd. Office.
SAMUEL COCHRAN, Sur-Gen

James Williams and Jeremiah Tallman, administrators de bonis non &c. of Robert Martin, deceased, represented to the board by their petition, That the said Robert Martin was the owner of a tract of land now situate in Potter township in the county of Centre, containing two hundred and sixty four acres and a fourth, surveyed in the name of John Coothers, and by some means a patent issued for the same tract to a certain Peter Faulkner, which is recorded in patent book No.
20, page 170. The petition further states, that an ejectment was brought by Robert Martin in his life time against a certain Nathaniel Frampton, and the said Robert Martin obtained the possession of the land in the year 1801 and has had possession thereof ever since by persons claiming under the said Robert and his heirs.

They therefore pray the board of property to rescind the patent improperly granted to Peter Faulkner, and issue one to John Ausbaugh, to whom the administrators were bound by agreement to make the title.

The board after considering the prayer of the petitioners, DO order that the first Monday in October next be appointed for trial, and that notice of the time and place of hearing be given to

Peter Faulkner,

if he can be found—if not, that public notice be given in two weekly newspapers, one in the borough of Harris-burgh, the other in the county where the lands lie, for three successive the day of hearing.

ing is correctly extracted, and copied from the minutes of the proceedings of the Board of Property.

I have hereunto set my hand and caused
