PRINCETON COLLEGE.

Extract from Princeton, December 25

"There was, about two weeks since some disturbance in the College, which wore the appearance of rebellion. The particulars, as I have heard them related, were these: One of the students, for some misconduct, had been suspended by the faculty; but this measure not squaring exactly with the notions of right entertained by a few of his companions, they set themselves at work to rectify it. Having called a meeting of the students, they bound themselves by a written obligation not to recede until their companion should be restored. I have understood, that there were about thirty who thus pledged themselves. The officers of the institution took immediate cognizance of this proceeding, and of the fictitious persons; but permitted them either to make a suitable apology for so gross a violation of decorum, or to take a dismission. As they did not stoop to an immediate apology, the greater part were sent home to their parents for permission to be dismissed. I understand that several of them have already returned, and have made a proper confession. The affair did not amount to an open rebellion; nor did it materially disturb the tranquillity of the college. All has since been quiet and peaceable. The young men acted in a foolish and precipitate manner; they mistook the man they had to deal with in Dr. Carnahan. Though mild, he appears to be firm and inflexible, and to govern with a steady hand; and I was told, that most of the delinquents went home, heartily wishing themselves out of the business. I did hear that one of the professors and a tutor went into the room where they assembled with their hats on, and were ordered to pull them off, which they refused to do; but I did not hear that martial law so far ruled, that they were put under arrest for disobedience. These are the facts as I have heard them; and the affair may be of advantage to the college, as it will shew that there is some discipline and authority in it. Com Adv.

We learn from good authority that the United States bank has already received at their office in Cincinnati real estate to the amount of one million of dollars at the prices it was received at!

The treasurer of the Greek Fund in New York, has received 102 dollars from Whitehall, Washington county; and 14 dollars and 50 cents from the servants of the City Hotel.

FROM THE NEW YORK AMERICAN
A meeting in favor of the Greeks has been held in Boston, and resolutions in the best spirit adopted. Professor EVERETT was appointed secretary to the committee.

Piracy.—The crew of the privateer brig named Scipio is stated in a letter from St. Thomas of the 18th ult. to have mutinied at Porto Rico, and after doubling her complement of men, to have commenced piracy in the Mona Passage, by plundering two or three Havana vessels. And what have they to fear, even should they be taken, tried and convicted in our courts of justice?

LATEST FROM SPAIN.
Captain Winsor, of the brig Susan, arrived at Boston from Malaga, states that Ceuta had been taken possession of by the French, who had openly declared they would never give it up so long as the English held possession of the Rock of Gibraltar.

MARRIED—On Thursday the 1st instant, by the Rev. James Linn, Mr. SAMUEL BLAIR to Miss MARGARET EAKINS, both of Potter township, Centre county.

RELIGIOUS MISCELLANY.

In a few weeks the first year of our editorial labors will be completed; after having furnished our patrons with 832 pages of matter chiefly all of a religious nature. Whether we have secured, in the course we pursued, the approbation of our supporters, generally, or no, we will not undertake to say; we are confident, however, of having labored to secure this. We are really thankful to the religious community, who have seconded our views, in promoting the spread of the information published in the MISCELLANY; to our correspondents, and to our patrons at large.

The year which is about to be registered on the catalogue of time, has been marked with many striking events. Missionaries have been sent to Palestine, the Sandwich Islands, and elsewhere, and the white sail, as it glides smoothly o'er the mighty deep, begins to bring good news from far countries. Many things have transpired to make the general religious intelligence, peculiarly interesting. For details of which we refer the reader to our pages.

The one before us, may be anticipated, to transcend the passed one in many particulars, which we cannot here hint at. The journal of the Missionaries, employed in the Holy Land, are deeply interesting, both to the Antiquarian, the Christian and the Historian. These journals will always be published in the Miscellany, and will of themselves, be worth the subscription money required for it. Our correspondents are increasing in number and talents; and there are many societies in the interior of our state, whose reports, when obtained, will be inserted. In short, we will endeavor to make it a miscellaneous work, worthy the patronage of the Christian community.

We ask, in our behalf, the interference of ministers, and other benevolent and influential persons, in obtaining subscribers. And we request Editors, to whom this number is forwarded, to publish this circular, and we will favor them with an exchange.

Our conditions are as follows, which will enable any person disposed, to avail themselves of the work.

FLEMING & GEDDES.

I. The Miscellany is published in the Borough of Carlisle, on Friday of every week, at Two DOLLARS per annum; to be paid half yearly in advance.

II. It is printed on new type and fine paper, in an octavo form; each number containing 16 pages.

III. It comprises, without distinction of sects or party, whatever intelligence is thought to be acceptable to such as wish and pray for the general interests of the Redeemer's kingdom; such as authentic information—with regard to Missions and missionary labors, in all parts of the world;—Bible Societies, Tract Societies, Sabbath Schools and all other associations formed for benevolent purposes—also well attested Narratives of Revivals of religion. Interesting Conversions. Obituary Notices—and whatever may relate to truth and piety.

IV. Original essays upon some practical subject, may occasionally find a place for insertion—but nothing whatever, that is of a controversial nature, also a Summary of the principal events which transpire in the world, both Religious and Political.

V. Any person procuring ten subscribers and becoming responsible for the same, shall receive the eleventh copy as a compensation.

A title page and index shall accompany the last number of each volume.

Letters post paid and directed to the Editors of the Miscellany, Carlisle, Pa. will be attended to.

PENNSYLVANIA INTELLIGENCER,

Legislative Reports.

This paper will report the proceedings of the legislature, as usual.

The terms of subscription will be the same as heretofore.

For the session only, $1 50

For 6 months, session included, 2 00

For the year, 3 00

No doubt the proceedings this session will be unusually interesting. The matters that are expected to come before the legislature are very important. The most prominent of these will be the renewal of the bank charters; the free road question; appropriations to various objects of improvement; among which will probably be the Potomac and Ohio canal. There will be, we are happy to say, much talent and experience, in the legislature; and we have no doubt that every public question will receive a due share of attention, deliberation and discussion.

We shall endeavor to keep our readers apprized of the progress of business—giving a general epitome of the arguments, on public questions, & some of the speeches, at length.

Such as wish to avail themselves of the whole history of the proceedings, had better send their names early:

Good opportunities will be afforded by the members to make applications

HARRISBURG CHRONICLE, LEGISLATIVE PROCEEDINGS

The proceedings of the Legislature of Pennsylvania will be reported for the Chronicle at the ensuing session, as they have been for several years past, briefly, faithfully, and impartially. The Chronicle will be issued twice a week, at $1 50 the session to be paid in advance.

It has not been the practice of the editor of this paper to make extensive promises with regard to any of his undertakings, and he does not intend to enter upon it now. The size of this sheet, and the necessity that exists of devoting a part of it to advertisements, are of themselves bars to the publication of every thing that is said and done in the legislative body.

All, therefore, that we wish to be expected of us, is what we know we have the ability to perform, and that is to furnish a brief sketch of the origin, progress and termination of all matters agitated, with a condensed view of the arguments advanced upon subjects of a general nature, and occasionally, what we conceive to be, the best of the arguments at length. The re-chartering of the Banks, the Ways and Means, the Free Road, &c. are topics that will claim much of the attention of the Legislature, and of the people, and of the proceedings upon them our patrons shall have early and accurate advice.
