

Local Department.

BELLEVILLE, PA.

Wednesday Morning, March 10, '89.

Coat, Southridge & Co. have just received a very large consignment of Wilkes Barre and Shamokin Anthracite Coal.

The Drut Store of F. P. Green will be removed, April 1st, 1889, from Brookershoff's row, to the new Hotel of Bush & McLain, over the creek. Jan. 20th.

For Sale - A first class farm, within two miles of Belleville, is now for sale. Any person wishing to buy, can learn full particulars, by calling at the office of the Belleville Republican.

"CENTRAL CITY." - We thank our correspondent, "Central City," for his contribution. As late, see some sketches written on the subject of the contemplated Railroad from Belleville to Lewisburg, in Union county, an enterprise, if carried into effect, would do more to enhance the value of property in Centre county, than all the improvements yet made. Your farmers and miners all claim that we are right, and our taxes are very heavy.

Progressing. - The new building, on the corner of Bishop and Allegheny streets, commenced a few weeks ago by Mr. Edward Brown, is progressing rapidly. We hope that, as the Spring opens, money will become easier, and that new houses will spring up all over our hills.

Groceries. - Persons wishing good and cheap groceries, canned fruits of all kinds, dried peaches, apples, cherries, the best sugar-cured hams, &c., should call without delay upon Mr. Runkle, at his cheap Grocery store, on Allegheny street. It is certainly the largest, as well as the cheapest Grocery store in town. Give him a call.

SOMETHING NEW. - We were shown a pair of boots last week, manufactured by Jno. Powers, for Mr. George Hastings, that surpassed anything of the kind we have ever seen. They were the Napoleon riding boot. Mr. Powers is a first class workman, as everybody here knows, and by the manufacture of the first pair of Napoleon riding boots ever made in our town, has added another laurel to his already splendid reputation. Call and see him.

Roberts McKeim. - We were in error last week, when we stated that Mr. McKeim was about to erect two fine two-story houses on High street. We should have said Central street. We were wrong in the name of the street but correct in the fact that two more houses were to be added to our town. We hope he will not stop improving until he has built ten or a dozen houses. He owns several of the handsome lots in town. There should be a house on every one of them.

F. S. Wilson. - I afford as pleasure to state that there is no truth in the rumor, set afloat, that F. S. Wilson intended to remove his Drug Store from the Bush & McLain building, near the Depot. It is a false rumor. He will continue in the old stand, Room No. 1, in Brockerhoff's row. Mr. Wilson has just returned from the city, where he purchased a large stock of perfumery and fancy articles, which he offers for sale at reduced prices. The ladies, and all their friends, should call and see him.

A MERITORY ARTICLE. - We are tired of this idea of "puffing" humbug medicines that are constantly thrown into community. But when an article comes into the market that is really worthy of comment, we are happy to make public acknowledgement, trusting that some benefit may arise therefrom. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., is the proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and we know it to be a good article, and a sure cure for that loathsome disease, Catarrh. It is sold by most Druggists, or may be obtained for Sixty Cents through the mail by addressing the proprietor as above. - Centennial Herald.

BELLEVILLE & LEWISBURG R. R. - We learn from the Lewisburg Chronicle and the Millburg Telegraph that Union county is becoming fully aroused to the importance of a Railroad from Belleville to Lewisburg. We hope they will continue to agitate the question. Our Pennsylvania farmers and merchants should lose no time in showing their Union county neighbors that they, too, see the importance of this road, and are ready to co-operate with them, to the utmost of their ability. For the benefit of those interested, we copy the following communication from the Telegraph:

The road would add to the value of their bridge investment more than would compensate for the risk in the railroad stock. What is wanted to insure success is vigorous and liberal action on the part of those immediately interested. The people in the main are right but they must have leaders. Let them be men of courage and will, men who will set an example of liberality, not afraid to spend their time and their money, and success will come. Well directed, constant and united effort succeeds in all its enterprises, and fails in none. Your people, and those still farther west, are more deeply interested, let them strike the first blow, and they may rely on a substantial response from this place.

"March 1, 1889. "Lewisburg."

MILLSBURG, Pa., Mar. 8, 1888. Messrs. Brown & Hitchcock, Editors of the Belleville Republican: - I have, of late, seen some sketches written on the subject of the contemplated Railroad from Belleville to Lewisburg, in Union county, an enterprise, if carried into effect, would do more to enhance the value of property in Centre county, than all the improvements yet made. Your farmers and miners all claim that we are right, and our taxes are very heavy.

Well, that is all true, but many a man would have been ruined by debt, had he not made another debt to help him. I rode night and day, part of the time, for two years, assisting on people of means to contribute money to make the E. V. Railroad. They invariably said, "one or two horse teams can do all our freighting, and a two-horse coach is not kept busy carrying the passengers to and from, and how are you to support a Railroad, even if you had it made?" Well, after a great deal of pressure, it was made. The county is well vested in the grand results.

No, gentlemen, you can make the railroad road with out investing a dollar. How? I answer, let each property holder, who does not want to invest money, place a mortgage on his property of 10 per cent. of the value thereof, say to run ten years, with 6 per cent. interest payable semi-annually. Let these bonds be placed in the hands of such a man as W. F. Reynolds, who can raise the money on them, and let the company be organized, create a loan on the road for a like amount, and in lieu of said mortgages, let each man have transferred to him a like amount of said bonds.

Well, one fellow says the bonds may be paid. Let us look for a moment, taking for granted what is not likely, but for the sake of argument, we will admit about six months since, I changed to be in Lancaster city, and business called me to a business man's desk. In a short time a German gentleman stepped up and inquired of the gentleman whether it would be convenient for him to work over a small sum due him? "Certainly," was the reply. "Been purchasing another farm, I suppose?" "Yes, I bought a fifty-acre lot the other day." "What! that d, rickety fifty acres, without house, barn or fence?" "Yes." "Suppose you did not pay much?" "No, not much."

"Well, what did you pay?" "Why, I got it cheap; I only gave four hundred dollars an acre, cash." "What!" said I; "four hundred dollars an acre?" "Yes." "Why, said I, "come up to Centre county, and you can buy more than four times that amount of good land for that money, and better land than you have in Lancaster county." "Why," said he, "what would I do with it away up there, where there are no markets?" Well, you would soon find these fellows coming up your new Railroad, and where you cannot now get eighty dollars per acre, you could get three hundred, how much dollar mortgage was never paid; but that is not as it would be paid, and pay you back one thousand per cent. But come, gentlemen, no excuse for not having a Railroad right along. Pay one or two good men to spend six months in this enterprise, and it must come. That's not all; you will be much gratified when you get a ride at the rate of thirty miles per hour over it. If any person has ought to say, let him say it now, or forever he'll be silent. Who will take hold? CENTRAL CITY.

Our Western Letter. Written March 4th - Afternoon. DEAR REPUBLICANS: - I thank God we have now an honest man at the head of our Government. An hour ago he took the oath of office, and we shall now have peace. The greatest ass that ever disgraced the Presidential chair has been removed. The last of the "democratic impost" - rendered odious by the conscripts - rendered infamous and damned by the assassination of Abraham Lincoln - was now ago banished over to his friends for his intervention in Tennessee. There let him remain forever! For the sake of humanity, and common decency, don't attempt to resurrect it. Don't expose the rotten old excess to the public gaze, unless the citizens of some Ku Klux town want to be addressed by somebody's "naive vitings."

I hope the whitened sepulchre, in which this mass of corruption has rested since its decease, will be thoroughly renovated by the new President, and his "guide wife," will be asked to accept it. I wonder what they will do with the rubbish? Where will they put the old bottles - and what will become of the empty barrels? Will they throw them into the Potomac, and renew the "battle of the Yegs?"

We bid Andy good-by with few regrets, and hope he will "cut stick" for Tennessee. To whom? I wish I had the privilege of cutting the stick and applying it to Andy - just where I want to I would cut a good heavy one of good loyal wood, and there would be "big" in the application.

Good-by, Andy, old-saker good-by. Be sure to take with you your gut rotting eye. Joy go with you and a little of brandy.

Be sure to take with you your gut rotting eye. Joy go with you and a little of brandy.

Be sure to take with you your gut rotting eye. Joy go with you and a little of brandy.

MISCELLANEOUS.

To have you say longer would be very handy.

You have now stayed so long, that to have you stay longer.

Wouldn't make the usual round the White House grow stronger and stronger, away to the mountains of old Tennessee. There you can spread out your continuous spree.

G. V. Andy, go; and leave the White House - For I tell you true, Andy, you're entirely "spit out."

The time has come, Andy, when you must cut loose, You can go to your shop and cook your old goose.

Come, Andy, quick, gather up all your pillows, And strike for the South and your own native village. Where you know you can again try for Allegheny.

But if you stay here you may get in the halter, man.

If on your way South you tire of your roads, You can stop and see Nabby at Condit's Cross roads.

You will find the Old Postmaster feeling quite frisky. And you can replenish your stock of bad rig-bang-snap. There, the machine is broke, and that is the end of my doggerel. I don't mean that it is written about a dog! It is my maiden "pome."

I don't mean it's written about a maiden, for Andy ain't a maiden - There would be no "vibe" in such an assertion. I claim this "pome," and I caution your Democratic newspapers not to copy it without credit. It is solemnly and prayerfully dedicated to a Johnson, late Alderman - Conspirator and President. Your own
