W. W. BROWN, A. B. HUTCHINSON, Editors.

Terms, $2 per Annum, in Advance. BELLEVILLE, PA. Wednesday Morning, May 19, '69.

ADVERTISING.—The BELLEVILLE REPUBLICAN has a larger circulation than any other Republican paper published in the county. Our merchants and business men will please make a note of this.

Slippery Fellows.

We had occasion last week to propound a few questions to the Harrisburg Patriot and State Guard in relation to a list of names, published in the Patriot and copied in the State Guard, containing, as they alleged, the names of the "honest members" of the last Legislature. The Patriot, conscientious and, no doubt, ashamed of the injustice it did, not only to the members whose names it published, but to those it did not publish, attempts an explanation. It charges us with garbling "the article copied from the Patriot, so as to make it appear that we intended to complete the State Guard's list of honest men, by adding the names of Messrs. CLARK and BROWN," and then proceeds to quote what it did say, and its very quotation corroborates our statement, and casts a deeper and blacker suspicion upon that beautiful pair of noble brothers, the Editors of the Patriot and State Guard. The editor of the Patriot admits that he copied the State Guard's list of "honest men," and admits that he suggested the addition of "the name of Hon. J. R. CLARK, of Warren, whom we regard as one of the purest men in the Legislature. Hon. JAMES C. BROWN, of Mercer, also made good record, especially on the tax-bill. This is in substance what we said, but the Editor of the Patriot attempts a distinction without any difference. It always requires sharp practice to cover up, or work out of dirty little scrapes. Why did the Patriot not think of the name of P. G. MEEX, and say that it might be "safely" added to the Guard's list. Bah! In publishing the Guard's list of "honest men," and suggesting the addition of two names, we ask the Patriot, did you not endorse the list, and the two names you added, and thus, by insinuation at least, admit that all of the other members of the Legislature were dishonest men? This is the only legitimate inference. You and the Guard endorsed and approved W. A. WALLACE and C. J. T. MCINTIRE, and by neglecting to insert the names of J. K. ROBINSON, our own Senator from this District, and P. G. MEEX, the Democratic member from this Co., you disapprove their course and create the suspicion that they were dishonest men.

But the Patriot says "we have denounced those who, in our judgment, merited denunciation, and as a general rule, refrained from editorial eulogy on those who merited praise, acting on the principle that 'good wine needs no bush.'" Now, we argue that this statement is not correct, and that we have proved that the Editor of the Patriot is without good judgment, or he would not have published the Guard's list. We argue that by adding two additional names that list he not only approved it, but showed conclusively that his judgment was at fault, or the only other inference, his purse was well filled. Either born of the dilemma, sir, choose ye! Again: You have, to our knowledge, denounced but one member, and he a Democrat, while you have been pretty lavish of your praise and "editorial eulogy" on others. Your eulogy of P. G. MEEX in your recent article, comes with poor grace at this late day, and your course in relation to the subject in question makes your eulogies rather a doubtful honor. Others, perhaps, may think differently; but we would certainly prefer your eulogy to your praise. It is so hard for a Democratic Editor to tell the truth, or even adhere to-day to what he printed yesterday, that an honest man's character cannot easily be injured by anything which may emanate from that source; but we are sorry that our old friend of the State Guard has succeeded himself to get into, to any degree, or to any extent, such shabby and dishonest company. We again ask that he make the amende honorable by doing J. K. ROBINSON, and other honest and pure members of the Legislature, justice.

SPRAGUE'S LETTERS.—One hundred and twenty thousand copies of the Globe, with the private letters printed by Sprague, have just been put in wrappers at the Senate folding room and sent to Sprague in New York, where he is said to have opened some sort of a bureau. The letters cover thirty pages in the Globe in the finest type of that work. A lot just sent off in the mails filled thirty-nine of the largest sized mail bags.

SOME IRISH MAY APPLY.—Michael Scanlon, editor of the Irish Republic (New York city), has been appointed Assessor of Internal Revenue for the Third district of that State—an office worth several thousands of dollars annually. Mr. Scanlon is a man of fine talents, a bold, vigorous writer, a staunch supporter of Republican principles, and a first class representative of the genuine Irish genius and character.

Judge Henry W. Williams.

Thy Harrisburg State Guard, in referring to the fact that Judge Williams is now sitting on the Supreme Bench at Harrisburg for the first time since his appointment, pays him the following compliment: "It is but simple justice to say he fully maintains his well earned reputation as a jurist acquired in the western part of the State, by years of faithful duty on the Bench of the District Court of the county of Allegheny. His dignified and patient hearing of all questions, his uniform courtesy to counsel, his vigor of body and mind, and his evident capacity for labor, and the learning and ability displayed in his written opinions, all unite to proclaim him 'the right man in the right place,'" and point him out as every way worthy the public confidence, and the high regard in which he is held by the Republican party. As our readers are aware, he now holds his seat only by appointment of Governor Geary, in the place of Judge Strong, who some months ago resigned. We are of those who always considered him fairly and honestly elected by the popular vote in 1867; and that he failed to get his commission by no fault of his own, and for reasons we have frequently explained and denounced in these columns. This was both a public and a private wrong, which should be corrected without delay, and if we mistake not the signs of the times the day of complete vindication is near at hand. The Republican party and the friends of social order owe it to themselves and to the public to re-nominate Judge Williams in June next, for Judge of the Supreme Court, and to elect him in October, by such an overwhelming majority as will stand as a warning in all time to come to those who, by corrupt means, would defeat the popular will. We feel satisfied the members of the bar of all parties rejoice that the seat on the Bench so honorably filled by Judge Strong, is occupied by one so able, efficient and courteous as Judge Williams.

The Irish and the Negroes.

We look upon the following proceedings of a meeting of the Irish Republican Association of Washington, City, D. C., held on the 18th inst., as a move in favor of right and justice.—Our Irish citizens are becoming sensible. The following resolution was adopted: "Resolved, That we, the members of the Irish Republican Association, favor the nomination of a competent colored man on the general ticket. The President of the meeting said: 'This is a step in the right direction, and will tend to conquer a prejudice which exists against the race in this city—a prejudice from which the Irish have suffered as well as the colored people. But as both are armed with the ballot now, they can be acting together, defend themselves against prejudice and proscription rings, the enemies of one race are the enemies of the other, and the friends of one are friends of the other. Those who applied the lash so unmercifully to the colored man's back tried in and out of Congress to disfranchise the Irishmen and those who have always advocated the freedom of the colored man, such as Sumner, Wilson, Banks and Chandler are advocates of the Irish to-day in Congress, and are calling John Bull to account for his antagonism against the United States, as well as against Ireland. All the lives which were lost and the blood which was shed for the freedom of the colored people, and for the preservation of the Union, amount to nothing unless we vote as we fought, viz: for freedom and Union. Remember Daniel O'Connell, the 'idol of Ireland, the champion of the colored race.'" Will It Pay?

The question is frequently asked, says an exchange, in regard to the Pacific Railroad by business men and others who have thought some on the subject. The query can be answered better by figures than words. In 1868 there were about one hundred ships plying from the Atlantic Shore around Cape Horn, the tonnage of which was estimated at 80,000; of steamships connecting with China and California at Panama, there were 55, with a tonnage of 120,000, while the tonnage of overland wagon trains, stages, etc., was about 30,000. Here we have 230,000 tons going westward two years ago. The return tonnage by this year is fully as much. We may, therefore, assume that the freight both ways to-day is not less than 500,000 tons. Two years ago there were transported to and from, over all routes, per annum, 154,000 passengers. If the general rule of the increase of travel, which is deduced from an examination of railroad statistics, holds good, when applied to the Pacific road, these figures will be increased to at least 500,000. We have then 500,000 passengers at $1.50 each, $750,000, and, deducting 200,000 tons to be retained by the ocean routes, 300,000 tons of freight at $35, $10,500,000 making a total of $85,000,000 gross proceeds for the whole road.—This must be far above the running expenses, on capital and wear and tear of material, and we believe it to be not an over-estimate of what the Pacific railroad will earn in the year 1870, when it will be in complete running order. The history of railroads shows that the longest lines pay the best, and we believe that the Pacific road will prove no exception.

A SEVERE gale passed over Galveston, Texas, on Tuesday evening, blowing down a small two story dwelling, and slightly damaging others.

Minister Curtin.

The nomination and confirmation of Hon. Andrew G. Curtin as Minister to Russia, is hailed with delight by the Republican press generally throughout not only this State, but the whole country. We do not know that Gov. Curtin is an exceptional case, but in him is at least exemplified, in a remarkable degree, the fact that the noblest and best-loved among men cannot escape the shafts of envy, hatred and malice. There is a certain clique of politicians within the lines of the Republican party, which persistently makes Gov. CURTIN a target for slanderous abuse and malignant misrepresentation—assailing, not only his record as a public man, but even his private character. It must be humiliating, indeed, to find that such unscrupulous defamers, to find that all their open and secret attacks have been fruitless, to curse the inventors, and that even in the day of bribery and corruption, sterling worth and genuine merit have triumphed over venal chicanery, and demagoguery, in the appointment and confirmation of ANDREW G. CURTIN, to one of the most important missions under our Government. We do not think there is a Pennsylvania, whose name is so deeply engraven in the hearts of his fellow citizens of the State, as is that of Gov. CURTIN. There is not a soldier, who left his home to fight for the Stars and Stripes of his country, but loves and cherishes that name; and although Senator CAMERON'S wisdom, patriotism and statesmanship, doubtless contributed much to the welfare of the rebellion in the early days of the late rebellion, yet we feel constrained to take issue with the honorable gentleman in his assertion that Gov. CURTIN is not the choice of the Republican party of this State; for we feel satisfied that in a contest before the people—not the politicians—Gov. C. would lead the Senate five to one—at least if the voice of the press, as we think it may, can be taken as a fair index of popular sentiment.—Tamaqua Journal.

A Few Points.

We clip the following from the Mifflinburg Telegraph of the 18th inst.: "We take notice that the Democratic papers are endeavoring to make capital against the Republicans of Centre county for removing Maj. Foster, who they now characterize as a brave soldier 'in the war for the Union.'" Do they forget that for that honorable service the Republicans twice nominated and voted for the Major for the Legislature, and he was defeated by the Democrats, and denounced as an 'abolitionist, a turncoat and a renegade?' Do they forget that the Republicans gave him the Assessorship for his meritorious services, which they now take away on account of gross ingratitude and desertion to the very enemy whom he professed so heartily to despise? Such men have claims upon Gen. Grant's Administration! Why, sirs, if John-sonized Republicans were possessed of any susceptibility they could hardly look an honest Republican in the face, much less ask political favors of him.

PETER HERDIG, of Williamsport, is announced as a Republican candidate for Governor.—Montrose Republican. Well! If Uncle Peter gets hold of the crank of the gubernatorial machine, you may bet your last nickel there will be lively work.—Lansburg Chronicle. His conduct last winter gives evidence of his capacity to make a live Radical Governor, but the Good Lord deliver us from any more such rascals.—Jersey Shore Herald. Poor SERLEY! Are you afraid PETER would then lessen your ration of "Pea Nuts"? Don't get uneasy Col., for if "PETER" should be the "favored one" he would not be so cruel to such small "fry."

THE Meadville Republican says:—"The people of Pennsylvania are being sufficiently cursed with the influence which Railroad corporations afford exert in State legislation, the Democratic party will probably give itself over, body and soul, to the railroad ring, and nominate Gen. Cass as their standard bearer next fall. With the railroad King as Governor, it might be policy to abolish the legislative branch of the government, and let the railroad corporations run the machine to suit their own notions."

Do not our friends of the Belleville Republican know that Mr. Wallace is a member of the Committee on the State Library?—Harrisburg Telegraph. We confess we had over-looked that fact; but P. G. MEEX was a member of the same Committee in the House, yet he is classed among the dishonest members. The explanation is not satisfactory. Had Mr. MEEX no power as a member of the Library Committee? The State Guard owes an explanation to the Republican press of the State. The Hollidaysburg Register says:—"Prominent among the candidates mentioned for the nomination for Governor in this State, is General Harry White, of Indiana. The Gen. is acknowledged an able statesman and a gallant soldier, and would, beyond doubt, grace the gubernatorial chair with dignity, but we can't indulge him this time, as we have the present able Governor Geary to return to that post this fall, and we'll do it, sure."

MARGARET MURRY, an inmate of one of the nunneries in Chicago, who threw herself into the river on Sunday morning and was rescued, died on Tuesday morning from the effects of her cold bath.

From the Delaware American.] The Nomination for Governor.

The question of nominating a Republican Governor is now eliciting much discussion. The candidates are Gov. Geary, Major Gen. Hartranft, Hon. W. W. Ketcham, Hon. G. Dawson Calman, Gen. Harry White and Gen. Selfridge. It is said by the knowing ones that thus far Gov. Geary has a majority of the delegates, only one-third having been elected, and that the action of the Republicans of Lancaster, Chester, Delaware, Berks, Bucks, Lebanon and the tier bordering counties on or near Montgomery (the home of Gen. Hartranft) will have the power to decide the nomination. This may or may not be true, but true it is that many active politicians are shaping their course upon this presumption, and it is having nearly all the force of truth; so that it looks now as though the contest for the nomination will be between Geary and Hartranft. With the claims of the former all are familiar, and those of the latter are being prominently discussed. Some important information is comprised in the following paragraph, taken from the Norristown Herald: "Gen. Hartranft has given such universal satisfaction as Auditor General of the State—having been twice chosen by the people to serve in that capacity by most flattering majorities—and has withal such a commendable soldier record, that in all parts of the Commonwealth we see his name earnestly canvassed in this connection.—We have not observed a single Republican journal that contained aught against his nomination, and whilst the press generally commend our present Governor, no opportunity is lost to commend Hartranft in the most significant terms. We have heard it said that should he receive the nomination it would necessitate another election for Auditor General, and thus give our political opponents an opportunity to elect his successor. This, however, is a mistake, it being the duty of the Governor to fill the vacancy in the office of Auditor General for the balance of the term. As a citizen of Montgomery county, Gen. Hartranft has, of course, the special desire of her Republicans for such promotion as his distinguished services, both civil and military, justly demand."

The selection of the convention will probably rest between Geary and Hartranft, and we have faith in the power of the Republican party to elect either of them, or any good nominee. Gubernatorial Candidates. Some of the Republican cotemporaries are naming their special favorites for the gubernatorial nomination on the 23rd of June. Thus far Governor Geary has received the most liberal newspaper support, but the Belleville Republican is in favor of nominating Gen. John F. Hartranft, the present Auditor General. The Huntingdon Globe has brought forward Hon. D. J. Morrell, the member of Congress for that district. The Luzerne people favor their favorite leader W. W. Ketcham, while Indiana will press Gen. Harry White. The Lehigh Register presents Gen. Selfridge. Up to this time there has been a very kind feeling evinced towards all the candidates named. Apparently all are willing to sacrifice any personal preference for the good of the common cause in the success of the candidate nominated, whoever he may be, and we have no disposition to disturb that quietest kindness which exists on all sides. Our Democratic friends on the surface are getting along quite as harmoniously, but beneath it there is considerable jangling. Both their candidates are worth millions—theamout Senator Sprague expressed his contempt for, and when the "stuff" is about, lively times may always be expected among the clean and unwashed Democracy. Judge Packer is not disposed to take kindly the way some of the wire-workers are trying to shove him off the track for Gen. Cass (a paper General), of Pittsburgh. Cass is going to win; he knows better how to win his millions than Judge Packer. With either Cass or Packer as the candidate of the Democracy they will have "the stuff" to keep the "boys" in good spirits, and they will doubt much the campaign a lively one.—Lancaster Examiner.

The New York Evening Post calls attention to these interesting facts: The present century has seen four great events: 1. Morse's invention of the Telegraph. 2. The laying of the Atlantic Cable. 3. The death of Slavery in the U. S. 4. The completion of the Pacific Railroad. In twenty-five years the continent has been spanned by the wires of the telegraph. Ten years ago the lightning began to run beneath the sea.—Five years ago the war for freedom ended, and Slavery died. Yesterday the iron track was made complete from Portland to San Francisco. The young men of to-day, who have seen all these things accomplished, will have tales to tell to his grand-children such as no grandvise of our day can summon from the stores of his memory.

A BRONZE statue after Handen's marble statue at Richmond, Virginia, was set up and inaugurated in Lafayette Park, St. Louis, on Saturday. A large concourse of citizens were present, speeches made and a collation served.

Editorial and Other Items.

—Gen. Geo. H. Thomas leaves for California next Thursday.

—Lord Waterpash and Lord Berkeley, of England, are in St. Louis.

—The wheat, corn and other crops are reported very promising in all parts of Kansas.

—Rufus L. Lord, the victim of the celebrated Bond robbery, died in New York on Saturday.

—Ill's jewelry store in Canandaigua, N. Y., was robbed Saturday morning of $5,000 worth of goods.

—Charles R. McMurren, a commercial traveller, was drowned at Toronto, Canada, on Wednesday, last while boating on the Bay.

—On Saturday the little son of G. Durant, telegraph operator at Boyd's Station, Ky., fell into a tub of hot water, and was scalded to death.

—The General Court Martial, which has been in session at Richmond, Va. for two years, was dissolved on the 11th inst, by order of Gen. Canby.

—Gov. Wells, of Virginia, has commuted the sentences of Charles Taylor and Pleasant Richardson, of Henrico County, to imprisonment for 18 years.

—The house and barn of Jonathan Folsom, in Bristol, N. H., were burned on Wednesday. Mr. Folsom, aged 60, perished while endeavoring to remove goods.

—Memphis is making great preparations for the commercial convention. There are to be, among other features, a grand parade, excursions, banquets, hops, &c.

—Mr. J. W. Cotwood, President of the San Diego and Gila Southern Pacific Railroad, has arrived at St. Louis from California, on route to the Memphis Convention.

—It is said the United States Grand Jury, at Richmond, has found indictments against several office holders for perjury, in having taken the iron-clad oath after aiding the rebellion.

—The emigration from Canada still continues. On Monday, the 10th inst a train of 17 cars passed through St. Albans, crowded with French Canadians who intend to settle in the State.

—Fayette county has elected Hon. Smith Fuller Senatorial, and G. W. K. Minor, Representative delegates to the State Convention, instructed for General Harry White for Governor.

—The new whipping post and pillory at New Castle, Del., to supply the place of the ancient and worn-out one, was inaugurated on Saturday "with interesting ceremonies." What next?

—The steaming ship of Cork, which arrived at New York on Tuesday, is still detained at Quarantine with six hundred passengers, because one of the passengers had the small-pox. All on board have been vaccinated.

—It is stated that Mr. Howard, our new Minister to China, has been in consultation with the President. He urges that the mission to China should be raised to the grade of the British embassy. The President agrees with his views.

—A letter from Raleigh, North Carolina, states that that State is as firmly held in her Republican moorings as either Massachusetts or Vermont. The writer thinks she is good for a Republican majority of thirty or forty thousand for many years to come.

—The work of extending the track of the Jamestown and Franklin Railroad to Oil City will soon commence in earnest, and be pushed to a speedy completion. This extension will be, not only a great benefit to the road, but an advantage to this whole section of country.

—At an early hour Saturday morning an explosion occurred in Boehmer & Co's cotton and oil manufactory in Jersey City, and immediately after the extensive building was wrapped in flames. The building, machinery, stock, etc., were destroyed, involving a loss of $60,000; largely insured.

—The Richmond Whig has a half column of sales of land in Virginia, in all cases to Northern men. It says: "These lands have been purchased by bona fide settlers—men who come to be with of us, and not mere speculators, or those who pitch their tents among us, seeking office and the control of our local affairs."

—The amount of business done at the post office in St. Louis during April, including money orders issued and paid remittances from other post-offices, and postage stamps sold, was over two hundred thousand dollars. The number of letters and paper delivered and collected by carriers for the same time was 918,000.

The New York Mail says: "We are informed that the stockholders of the Tribune determined at their meeting last evening, to abolish the office of managing editor, and that Mr. Hassard will be in charge of the paper during the day and Mr. Whitelaw Reid at night. Mr. Young thence loses his position, but is not removed from it."

THE FOOLISHNESS OF SHAM DEMOCRACY.—The New York World grumbles at the Cincinnati Enquirer "What kind of Democracy they have in Ohio?" and in return the Enquirer will probably ask "What kind have you got in New York?" both papers being too stupid to discover that in neither State is there any genuine Democracy, but merely "diversified patterns of a shoddy sham."

The Tribune says: The building of thirty gunboats here for Spanish Government, for service in Cuban waters, is the most practical step we have yet seen toward the suppression of the insurrection. The contractors promise them in sixty days. But before that time the final services they are wanted for will be either needless or impracticable.
