WEDNESDAY MORNING, June 30,'69.

From the Dallas \Tex.\ Herald The Honest Man. BY J. LARKIN. 0 the honest man. On the good old plan Who lives by daily labor;

Who pays his debts Without regrets, I claim for friend and neighbor. The welcome door Of many a poor,

But worthy humble peasant, I've often sought, And often thought The greeting there most pleasant.

Their hearts are light, Their faces bright, With love of truth and candor; Their dress is neat. Their food is sweet. Their tongues are free from slander.

Their constant rule. Of wisdom's school Is virtue by profession; Guided by s nsc, Without pretense, Is better than profession

That rarity, True charity, Is seen in all their actions: None are abused. Faults are excused, They banish party factions When I'd away, I'm pressed to stay. Not from flattery or fashion : But from desire. Far nobler, higher, Than enthusiastic passion.

Their real worth. Is nobler birth. Nor is it altogether edd: "The honest man," If right I scan, "Is the noblest work of God." The Apple Worm.

The American Entomologist, a publication which should have a wide circulation, furnishes the following:

"It has long been known that by thing of that nature, in the crotch of an apple tree, the apple worms may be decoyed into building their cocoons underneath it, and thus be destroyed wholesale. Dr. Trimble's methodwhich amounts to the same thing, and has been found to be practically beneficial—is to fasten two or three turns formed on the bark underneath it.

practical importance of picking up | man may, in some, tie his hope and and destroying the wormy apples, as fast as they fall, either by hog-power, or, when that is inconvenient and impracticable, by man-power. The practical utility of allowing a gang of hogs the range of the apple orchard thro'out the summer is undoubted. When we consider that every female moth that hatches out in July or August. from the first brood of apple worms, will probably deposit an egg in some two or three hundred nearly matured apples, thereby rendering them more or less unsalable, the importance of as fame and reputation may stretch Cloths, destroying the wormy windfalls-in the forepart of the season at all events -becomes at once annarent."

Curing Hay.

Experience proves that grass sho'd be cut for hay when the stalks are in bloom. The best time of all, both for clover and other grass, is just in full bloom, and the earliest blossoms are beginning to fade. If not too heavy it can then be cut in the morning, and, if carefully scattered, can be hauled in the barn in the afternoan of the same day. This makes the best quality of hay. It retains more of the nutriment of grass than if it is left exposed to dews and rains for a few days, and goes much further for fattening stock | month, to breathe quantities of poisand for producing milk. But when the grass is very heavy and is cut with | and physical constitution of children, a mowing scythe and thrown into gradually to draw an ounce of blood heavy swaths or rows, it will not cure | from their veins during the same thoroughly until two days, and it is length of time, than to send them to not so good for food as that cured and | breathe, for six hours a day, the lifeput away in one day. Dew and mois- less and poisoned air of some schoolture always effect the fibre of cut grass, and weakens the strength of hay. They also injure and destroy the sugary matter contained in the stems, and render them dry and tasteless. When a branch of hay can be cal aid be not at hand, the children twisted tight without showing moisture or juice it is dry enough to be afterward.—Horace Mann. stowed away. A little salt scattered over hay which has been caught in showers will improve it, and renderit more palatable to stock. A HINT TO STRAWBERRY GROW-ERS.—Growers (remarks the editor of the Horticulturist) desiring to extend their beds by transplanting runners, will do well to remember this simple to the House of Commons with the rule. The first runners from any plant are the weakest, the second but little stronger, while the third is best of all. Cut off the 1st and 2nd growths of run- and Lords on this and other amendners after fruiting, but leave the third root, and they will invariably make good, strong, healthy plants.

INSECTS.—If any tent catterpillars' eggs have been left, the little webs will soon manifest themselves. They are most readily seen when the dew is not suit their ideas of right and wrong, on them in the morning. They are should buy type and publish an organ easily destroyed by the hand, with a of their own. Let them try it for a corn-cob, or by the use of a swab, with | while, and if they don't get some new lye. Destroy them at any rate. Borers are to be cut out. Where there is a depression in the bark, the knife will usually reveal a borer.

Miscellaneous.

FORT SCOTT, KANSAS, June 25, '69. COL. W. W. BROWN:-Dear Sir :- I receive the REPUB-LICAN every week, and can truly say that it is a replete and spicy sheet, and indicates that its editors thoroughly understand their business. Col., I am spending a portion of mv time in Montgomery county, which lies on the South line of the State and bordering on the Indian Territory .-The Verdigris River runs thro' the centre of the county, and on this river is some of the finest timber in the State. The tributaries of the Verdegris river are all well timbered. The Verdegris Valley is acknowledged to be the finest portion of the State of Kansas, and the valley's of the tributaries to the Verdegris are second to

We have started a town on the Verdegris river, just below the mouth of Drum river, called Verdegris City, in the centre of the county, and have the centre of the county, and have The Simplicity, Ease and Certainty with succeeded in getting the county or-which it operates, as well as the uniform ex-centred and Verdegris eity appointed cellence of its work, certainly place it far in ganized and Verdegris city appointed the County Seat. This place is 70 miles from Fort Scott. We have plenty of good water, wood, coal, and a soil that cannot be beaten anywhere in the western country, and now the only thing we need in addition, is good men and women to develop the resources, and then we will have a country second to none beneath the canopy of Heaven, and I should like to see people from the old Keystone State enjoy a portion of these lands. They can come on with their land warrants or homestead, or buy the land at one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre. The treaty was only ratified this spring, and at the present time we have fifteen hundred inhabitants in the county, and the emmigration is only commencing. There is no doubt but there will be an immense emmigration this summer and fall.

The emmigration to Fort Scott at present is immense, the hotels and boarding houses are not able to acmodate more than half of the people. placing an old cloth, or any other Gulf R. R. will be completed to this The Missouri River Fort Scott and place by the 1st of August.
