"A PLEASANT JOB .- The late Abolition Know Nothing Congress contracted debts to such an enormous extent that the Government is compelled to make a loan (in the shape of Treasury notes) to pay them. It must be a pleasant job, indeed, for the present Congress to right the wrongs perpetrated by the Abolitionists when in power."—Bedford Gazette.

That's rich, rare, and racy! The fellow must think his Locofoco readers are such igno ramuses that they will gulp down anything be says, no matter how far his assertions may be ent of the Missouri Republican, a Buchanan from the truth. The last Congress Abolition organ, says that Denver a proves all the official and Know Nothing! But we presure the writer, Mr. Myers, ought to know, for at the an think of this? time of the election of that Congress, and dur-Ing its sessions, he was at different times a ed washington correspondent of the New York Whig, a Know Nothing, a Republican, and a the negotiation for the acquisition of Capa has been renewed, and that a sum it is neen named so Whig, a Kunw Nothing, a Republican, and a position Congress. In the Senate there were nearly two Loccfocos to one opposition; and even in the house, no party had the majority—being divided into Locofocos, Republicans and suspension until the loca of nec. November. Also Americans. If the last "Congress contracted that South Caronia and Georgia h wally dized in Americans. If the last "Congress contracted suspension of their banks, but to what time is not debts to such an enormous extent that the Gov-stated. - Wash. That wil do. deat, who had the valo power? It won't detry again, Mr. Meyers,, and account for the Government shinglusters in some other way.

but the best way would be to dispense with ! them altogether.

Louis Napoleon a Bogus .- A writer in Graham's Magazine for January has come forward with some important revelations, convicting the occupant of the French Imperial throne of the basest imposture.

He says that the real Louis Napoleon died io a fit, in & drinking house in New York, some years ago, and that a Yankee named Bowen, who had long been his companion in dissipation and revelry, assumed his name, sailed minediately for Europe, atrended Queen Hortense as her son in her dying moments, imposed himself upon the French people as a genuine Bonaparte, and succeeded in reaching the Inperial throne.

The story is well told, and the objections that would naturally be suggested are skilfully disposed of. Whether it will excite so much attention as the pretended discovery of the son of Louis XVI., in the person of a Mr. Williams, a few years ago, remains to be seen.

> For the Inquirer. ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.

Gifts from a people to the minister who labors among them, expressive of their attachment to him, are always gratefully received.— They are valuable to him not only on account of their intrinsic worth, but also, end chiefly, because of the assurance they convey that his labors are kindly received, and that notwith-standing his frailties, which are common to our poor humanity, they are mindful of the apos-tolic direction—"We beseech you brethren to know them which labor among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you; and to esteem them very highly in love for their work sake." There is another consideration, less selfish, which causes the faithful minister to rejoice in the reception of gifts from the people of his charge, which is, that if in the bestowment of these they have been actuated by christian principles, they will be repaid a Benedict, Mr. Andrew Reighart and Miss Sathousand fold by the great Head of the Church, rah Whetstone, both of Bedford Tp.
