At the request of a young friend at Hopewell we cheerfully give place to the following lines on the death of the late Dr. Donsey, of that place. They were originally published in the Shirleysburg Herald :

ON THE DEATH OF DR. DORSEY.

BY THE BARD OF MOUNTAIN GLEN.

Ye Brothers in the bealing art attend, And drop one tear for a dear, noble friend, Whom tyrant Death hath rudely from you torn, And made humanity and friends to mourn! Insatiate Death! thy name is fraught with fear, E'en to the wretch to whom no tie is dear, bitter bane, a terror and a dread. To men in irons or to misery wed, Or to the aged whose fond hopes are dead. In any shape thou art a fearful thing, In any shape thou art a fearful thing, But doubly bitter in life's blooming spring, When the young life-blood in full vigor flows, And future promise to the fond view glows,— When hope is high, and fancy to the mind Paints brilliant goals of happiness to find,— When love burns warmly in the gladsome heart, And some dear object seems of us a part— 'Tis then that pity's self must drop a tear, When ends in night ambition's bright career. O, noble Dorsey! frank and gen?nus friend ! When that has known thee but deplores thine end f Kind to a fault, and ready to fergive, Who that has known thee but deplores thine Kind to a fault, and ready to forgive, True, open-hearted, scorning to deceive; Blind to all faults, and oft forgetting wrong, Oft made the victim of the heartless throng; Gen'rous to frieads in sorrow, weal or woe, A friend to all, but to yourself a foe! Fair genius weeps at thy untimely fate, the marked the are marked theo are Fair genus weeps at thy untimely tate, For Time but tarried to have marked thee great ! And must thy spirit take so sudden flight, When life's fair prime just ushers into light These noble qualities of heart and mind ? Must buoyant hope such quick oblivion find ? Must the pale May-moon in sweet sudness weep O'er thy dark grave where worth and goodne elsen?

sleep ? The wild Spring flowers, which plucked and with ering, Of thy hard fate a sad remembrance bring ; Of thy hard fate a sad remembrance bring; And the soft breeze that wafts above thy tomb Sings a lone requiem o'er thy narrow home. Aspiring man 1 and this thy certain doom, To live and love,—to languish and desire,— To taste life's mingled pleasures, and expire! Peace to thise ashes, friend, so lowly laid; Thy debt of mature hast been early paid. And let no zealot lessen now thy meed, Altho' a stranger to his vaunted creed : The gen?rous glow that filled thy honest heart he gen'rous glow that filled thy honest heart Knew not the subtle, low dissembler's art; Without the garb that marks the bigot's clan, on knew your duty, and, to play the man. Let the Great Power who weighs the deeds of all Decide the merits, now in death's dark pall, This is all thine humble friend, the bard, desires, is all that mercy, justice, heaven requires. Mr. OVER:-The time is approaching for the nomination of a candidate for Congress in this District, on the part of those who are opposed to the policy and measures of the pres ent administration. Although Conferees wero appointed at the last meeting in Bedford coun-ty, no instructions were given them; and I beg leave, therefore, to present to their considera-tion, the name of the Hon. Alex. King. 1 am aware that there are candidates for this distinguished position in other parts of this dis-trict, whose merits 1 do not wish to disparage, but it is proper to say, that the nomination of Mr. King would be hailed with delight by all who are cordial and earnest in their hostility to the pro-slavery schemes of the present administration. His experience and ability as a lawver and legislator, his consistency as a politician, and his bold advocacy of the cause of freedow, are claims and qualifications which will not be overlooked by the people of this County. Since Mr. King discharged his duty as a Senator in the Pennsylvania Legislature with honor to his constituents and himself, he has been unconnected with office, yet he has been prompt to take an active part in political affairs, whenever the exigencies of the case demandod it. In the campaign of '56, he was antiring in his efforts to secure to John C. Fremont the vote of Bedford County, and in '57 he warnly supported Judge Wilmot from the

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR. PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD Compounded entirely from GUMS,

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public, that acts as a Cathortic, casicr, milder, and more effectual than any other medicine known. It is not only a Catherite, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, thus 1858. NEW STORE! 1858. stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the op-orations of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it; and when taken daily in moderate doses, will strength-en and build it up with unusnal rapidity. The Liver is one of the principal regulators of the human body, and when it performs its functions well the powers of the system are fully developed. The stomach is almost entirely dependent on the healthy action of the Liver for the proper perform-ance of its functions. When the stomach is at ault, the bowels are at fault, and the whole system suffers in consequence of one organ—the Liver— having ceased to do its duty. For the disease of that organ, one of the proprietors has made it his study, in a practice of more than twenty years, to find some remedy wherewith to contenter the ma-ny derangements to which it is liable. To prove that this re- medy is at last found, any neceson transload with Liver for the disease of A NNOUNCE to their friends and the public, that they are now receiving from Philadelphia and New York, and opening out in their newly fit-ted up room formerly, occupied by Rupp & Oster, Of desirable new style, French, British and Amer can Allegheny Male and Female Seminary.

The annual examination and closing exerses of this institution came off on Wednesday the 16th instant.

The examination was highly satisfactory, and the accuracy and promptitude of the pupils, for the chance they have had, (as this was the first session and first examination for most of them,) reflected credit both to themselves and their teachers. At an early hour in the evening the chapel was crowded to overflowing with anxious spectators waiting the commencement of the excreises, which were appropriately opened with prayer by the Rev. B. F. Stevens. Admirably indeed did the students acquit themselves in the various exercises, and amply were they rewarded for their mental efforts by the istakeable evidences fo interest and delight manifested throughout the audiance.

We can truly commend this institution to the confidence and patronage of all, and especially to those who have children to educate, as being located in one of the most healthful and moral villages in the State, and free from all those demoralizing influences of more populous and public places. The principal W. W. BRIM. Miss E. V. MANN, preceptress, have succeeded well in their departments, and are deservedly popular with the students and all who know them.

The next term of this institution commences n Thursday the 5th of August. MEMBER OF THE EXAMINING COMMITTEE.

Near Bedford, on the 19th inst., Mr. JOHN ANBOM, aged 66 years, 3 months and 14 days.

For a number of years the deceased was a worthy member of the M. E. Church. Religion sustained and comforted him on his dying bed, for he rejoiced in Christ on whom he had built his immortal hopes. He has left a large eircle of friends who mourn his departure from among them, but they "sorrow not even as otbers who have no hope," believing that the soul of the departed mingles with "the spirits of just men made perfect" in heaven, and his body Committed to the grave "rests in hope of a glo-Fiens resurrection." Dr. Hardman Ireats Consumption, bronemus, Asthma, Larryngittis, and all diseases of the throat and lungs, by medical Inialation, lately used in the Bromton Hospital, London. The great point in the treatment of all human maladies is to get at the disease in the direct manner. All medicines the disease in the direct manner. All medicines are estimated by their action upon the organ re-quiring rehef. This is the important fact upon which Inhalation is based. If the stomach is dj-sensed we take medicine directly into the stomach. If the lungs are diseased, breathe or inhale medi-cated vapors directly into the lungs. Medicines are the antidotes to disease and should be applied to the very seat of disease. Inhalation is the ap-plication of this principle to the treatment of the lungs, for it gives us direct access to those intriungs, for it gives us direct access to those intri cate air cells and tubes which lie out of reach of every other means of administering medicines .--

The reason that consumption, and other diseases of the lungs, have heretofore, resisted all reatment has been because they had never been approached in a direct manner by medicine. They were intend-ed to azt upon the lungs and yet were applied to the stomach. Their action was intended to be lo-cal, and yet they were so administered that they should act constitutionally. expending immediate cal, and yet they were so administered that they should act constitutionally, exending immediate and principal action upon the unoffending stemach, whilst the foul ulcers within the lungs were unmo-lested. Inhalation brings the medicine in direct contact with the disease, without the disadvantage of any violent action. Its application is so sim-ple that it can be employed by the youngest infant or feeblest invalid. It dees not derange the sto-mach or interface in the least dearge with the ach, or interfere in the least degree with the reggth, confort, or business of the patient. OTHER DISEASES TREATED.—In relation to the following diseases, either when complicated with lung affections or existing alone, I also invite consultation. I usually find them premptly curable. Prolapsus and all other forms of female complaints, irregularities, and weakness. Palpitation and other forms of Heart Disease, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, and all other diseases
