WHY HE DIDN'T VOTE.

It will be recollected that Senator Henderson, of Texas, did not record his vote upon the Kansas Conference bill, and that his silence occasioned some surprise at the measure. We now find in the Austin (l'exa-) Gaz-tte, the following extract of a letter from that Senator. giving his reasons for not voting upon the bill.
PHILADELPHIA, May 2, 1858.

Mojor John Marshall-My Dear Sir : I did not vote on the bill at its passage. On the morning of the day the bill finally passed, the President sent for me, and made such an earnest and strong appeal to me to vote for the bill, and aid in saving his A luministration and the Democratic party of the North, as to induce me to leave the Senate Chamber and not vote at all, as I would have felt bound to vote against the bill if I had voted. We are an unfortunate people; and when we will be able to present the question in a shape to unite rity of our people in standing by their rights is hard to forsee.

Yours, very truly, HENDERSON.

We are certainly an "unfortunate people," when the President of the United States can so far forget the dignity of his office, and the proprieties of public life, as to send for memters of Congress with a view of persuading them to violate their own judgments. Who loes not son in this letter an explanation of whole scores of Democratic votes? It is the patronage of the government brought in conflict with the freedom of elections. - Herrisburg Telegraph.

Missouri.

Frank Blair is meeting his opponents before the people, each making an hour's speech at each appointment. The victory in every instance, has been with Bluic who takes bold anti-slavery ground. Of the Caroudelet meeting, the 'Democrat' says:

"At the appearance of Mr. Blair it was very evident, which was the favorice with the crowd. flis speech was the best effort of the canvass. We have heard many who were present say that they never listened to a more compact logical and stirring effort. The crowd stood perfectly chained by the speaker's reasoning, his gesticulation and the clear ringing of his voice upon the night air. Mr. Blair's speech turned chiefly upon the "mud-sill" question .-His review of the opinions of Senator Hammond, of South Carolina, as enforced in his speech against the white slaves of the North and his sarcastic handling of the two Missouri Senators were models of eloquence, and told with wonderful effect up in the audience .--Other portions of the speech were equalty pointed and felicitous.

The cauviss, so far, has been most gratifying to the cause of free labor. The people seem to be awake to their true interests, and will undoubtedly give a larger vote for the ticket of the Free Democracy than ever be-

The reason that consumption, and other diseases of the lungs, have heretofore resisted all treatment has been because they had never been approached in a direct manner by medicine. They were intended to att upon the lungs and yet were applied to the stomach. Their action was intended to be local, and yet they were so administered that they should act constitutionally, exending immediate and principal action upon the uhoffending stemach, whilst the foul ulcers within the lungs were unmotested. Anhalation brings the medicine in direct lested. Inhalation brings the medicine in direct contact with the disease, without the disadvantage of any violent action. Its application is so simple that it can be employed by the youngest infant or feedbest invalid. It does not derange the stomach, or interfere in the least degree with the strength, comfort, or business of the patient.
