TO INVALIDS.

Dr. Hardman, Analytical Physician Physician for diseases of the Lungs, Throat and Heart, formerly Physician to the CINCINNATI MARINE HOSPITAL, also to INVALIDS RETIRED. Author of 'Letters to Invalids,' Editor of the 'Medical Spectator,' &c.

OCTOBER APPOINTMENT

BEDFORD, WASHINGTON HOUSE, WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 13TH, 1858.

OCTOBER APPOINTMENT

Dr. Hardman (treats Consumption, Bronchitis Asthma, Laryngitis, and all diseases of the throat and lungs, by medical inhalation, lately used in the Brompton Hospital, London. The great point in the treatment of all human maladies is to get at the disease in the direct manner. All medicine are estimated by their action upon the organ requiring relief. This is the important fact upon which Inhalation is based. If the stomach is diseased we take medicine directly into the stomach. If the lungs are diseased, breathe or inhale medicated vapors directly into the lungs. Medicines are the antidotes to disease and should be applied to the very seat of disease. Inhalation is the application of this principle to the treatment of the lungs, for it gives us direct access to those intricate air cells and tubes which lie out of reach of every other means of administering medicine.

OCTOBER APPOINTMENT

The reason that consumption, and other diseases of the lungs, have heretofore resisted all treatment, is because they had never been approached in a direct manner by medicine. They were introduced to act upon the lungs and yet were applied to the stomach. Their action was intended to be local, and yet they were so administered that they should act constitutionally, exceeding in fact and principal action upon the medullary matter, whilst the local ulcers within the lungs were unaltered. Inhalation brings the medicine in direct contact with the disease, without the disadvantage of any vital action. Its application is so simple that it
