5 "The Official Journal, heretofore mute on the subject on the King's illness, has at last broken silence and made the following confes-

"His Majesty the King, our august lord and master, has suffered since Thursday last from a Drugs and Chemicals, Dye Woods and Acids, Paints return of his rheumatic and catarrhal complaint. It has not, however, prevented His Majesty from attending, with his habitual energy and extraordinary activity, to the affairs of State. We have the most ardent wishes of State.'

"I cannot tell whether this last statement is true. But I know that lately, warned of his desperate condition by his own sufferings, the assiduity of his physicians, their nocturnal visits and the holy sacrament, which was administered to him the other night, the King has had frequent interviews with General Filangieri, who never leaves Caserta. He also sees more frequently his son, the Duke of Calabria, when he doubtless gives him his last counsels about governing the kingdom.

"The king is now in the bands of an empiric, to whom he is surrounded, in spite of the advice of his surgeons. I am told, however, that he is not a quick, that he has a doctor's diploma, and effects wonderful cures. His name is Manograssi.

"Concerning the intrigues at Caserta, roports reach me from all quarters that I hesitate | Complying with the urgent request of hundreds o repeat. They say that the Duchess o Calabria is in continual uneasiness; that she herself prepares all her husband's food, and is constantly saying, 'Francis, take care.' Such fears, though brobably ill-founded, are exensable in a very young princess, who feels herself isolated and surrounded by enemies.

"The Count of Syracuse (the king's brother) continues his bonorable course. He is the only one that dares openly to resist the reaction. On Sunday he forced open the door of the royal chamber. He insists on a Constitution and an alliance with Victor Emanuel .-By his instigation, a written demonstration is prepared, to be presented to the new King. It is even said that in the departments of government, on the petitions of ten years ago for an absolute monarchy, the word constitutional has been substituted, leaving the signatures below. I do not know whether this is true, but I can assure you that since the King's fate is scaled, the public functionaries have become fanatics of liberalism."

A MODEL WIFE.

Five years ago, a carpenter in Missouri, sold a pair of horses to a stock buyer, receiving his pay in new 'tens' on a Kentucky Bank. The notes proved to be counterfeits, and the unfortunate man was arrested. He told how he came by them, and appealed to the horse dealer, who now declared he had paid him in Indiana bills. The carpenter was sent to the Penitentiary. His wife firmly believing in his innocence, applied to the Governor for a pardon. Failing, she determined to follow the horse dealer, with a view to ascertain if he was a counterfeiter, so to establish her husband's innocence. Two years and a half were spent in this chase; till at last she came upon him in Newton, N. J., where he had suddenly fell sick. He was not dangerously ill, but she told her story to his physician, who dosed him heavily and then informed him he was about to die. The man was frightened and sent for a minister, who prayed with him and urged upon him the necessity of immediate repentance. At this moment the woman came and begged of him to repair the wrong he had done begged of him to repair the wrong he had done where a wood hub is used, if a spoke happens to where a wood hub is used, if a spoke happens to where a wood hub is used, if a spoke happens to where a wood hub is used, if a spoke happens to where a wood hub is used, if a spoke happens to where a wood hub is used, if a spoke happens to where a wood hub is used, if a spoke happens to where a wood hub is used, if a spoke happens to where a wood hub is used, if a spoke happens to where a wood hub is used, if a spoke happens to where a wood hub is used. her husband before it was too late-not to die with that sin upon his soul. Frightened and separate the felloes, to get at the damaged part.—

penitent, he sent for a magistrate and confessed that he paid the spurious money to the woman's husband. He further stated that he was that his real business was that of distributing sist for them. The woman returned as fast as steam could carry her to her home, and laid these proofs of her husband's innocence before the Governor; who gave her the desired pardon of her husband, which she carried to the prison berself, and he was liberated. They reside in Knoxville, Illinois.

IS MARS INDIESETED.

The opponents of the doctrine of the plurality of worlds allow that a greater probability exists of Mars being inhabited than in the case of any other planet. His diameter is 41,000 miles; and his surface exhibits spots of different hues, the seas, according to accurate observations, appearing to be green, and the land red. The variety in spots, it is thought, may arise from the planet not being destitute of atmosphere and cloud; and what adds greatly to the probability of this, is the appearance of brilliant white spots at its poles, which have been conjectured to be snow, as they disappear when they have long been exposed the snow line extending to about six degrees from the pole. The length of the day is almost exactly twenty four hours, the same as that of the earth. Continents and oceans and green savannas have been observed upon Mars, which we are determined to sell at the very lowest and the snew of the polar circles has been seen to disappear with the heat of summer .-Clouds may actually be seen floating in the atmosphere of the planet, and there is the appearance of land water on his disc.

Mr Robert Kenicut (for that is the name of the adventurer), will go first to Fort Garey, on the Red River of the North, and thence will make his journey with the agents of the Hudson Bay Company, to whom he has jetters from the Governor, Sir George Sumpson. He will visit York Factory on the Hudson Bay during the summer, and returning to Fort Garey, will make a winter trip on dog sledges to Great Salt Lake, reaching McKenzie's river in the spring of 1860, with the whole of the summer of that year before him to pursue his explorations along the coast of the Polar Sea. He expects to return in 1861.
