BEDFORD INQUIRER.

BEDFORD, Pa.

Friday Morning, August 12, 1859.

"FEARLESS AND FREE."

D. OVER—Editor and Proprietor.

STATE NOMINATIONS.

AUDITOR GENERAL: THOMAS E. COCHRAN, YORK COUNTY.

PEOPLE'S COUNTY TICKET.

ASSEMBLY: GEO. W. WILLIAMS, of Bedford Co., GEO. G. WALKER, of Somerset Co., ASSOCIATE JUDGE, JOHN TAYLOR, of Bedford Borough.

A DUN.—We wish all those indebted to us for subscription, advertising and job work, to try to make payment to us in Court Week.

Geo. W. Williams, Esq. This gentleman, our very popular candidate for the Legislature, has been, and still is, weekly, abused and misrepresented.

If the news be only true, (and we confess it requires Mahometan faith to credit it), we are confident of one thing. However intense the thrill of hostile joy which may run thro' the tender bosoms of government officials.

AMERICANS AND REPUBLICANS are not abolitionists. They do not wish to place the negro on an equality with the white man.

BUCHANAN CLUB.—We notice that the Buchanan Club has been re-organized.

D. J. CHAPMAN, Esq., and Lady, of Philadelphia, are at present on a visit to their friends in this place.

COL. JAMES C. AUSTIN of Fulton County is named as one of the candidates for the Assembly from Fulton and Franklin.

The editor will be absent in the West for a couple of weeks.

Among the recent contributions to the Washington Monument is a block of carved marble, in which is inserted a curiously carved head, with the inscription beneath: "This head was carved between two and three thousand years ago by the ancient Egyptians, for their temple erected in honor of Augustus, on the banks of the Nile. Brought from there by I. F. Leveau."

The Great Resigned.

It is no new dodge for Ambition to claim the cloak of Modesty—for a consideration in hand, or in prospect.

The world has strangely taken to doubting the "honorable" Roman's sincerity, and has never ceased to glorify the bloody Brutus, who tried to make assassination of poor Cesar's body.

The patriot, seer, and sound philosopher of Wheatland "still lives" to make our confidence secure. The imperial purple—though fortified by the best "old Bourbon," stronger than any "Antony's fire"—has not warmed the soft current of the modern Cesar's blood to any desperate aim.

The country "breathes freer." The relief is almost overwhelming. Coming so suddenly after the Antonian performance of the Pittsburg Post, after the generous offer of the Presidential crown by that eager son of the Iron City.

Our advice is, most decidedly, to moderate the expression of their gratification—at least, for nineteen calendar months to come. Let them ponder the serious significance of the Oriental myth; let them never forget "Sinbad and the old man of the Sea."

Kansas Convention.

LEAVENWORTH, July 29.—The Constitutional Convention has nearly completed its labors, and will probably adjourn to-morrow. The Constitution is radically anti-slavery but it differs from the Leavenworth instrument inasmuch as it does not extend the rights of suffrage to negroes.

The business of the Convention has been disposed of with tolerable expedition; the questions of apportionment of the State and the location of the temporary capital being the only measures that offered serious obstacles.

NORTHERN DEMOCRATS.—Senator Brown pays the Northern Democracy the following compliment:

"The only hope of the Southern Democracy is to make a fight in the Charleston Convention; to go there determined to have their views incorporated in the creed of the party, or break up the concern in a row."

LETTER FROM BEDFORD.

BEDFORD SPRINGS, August 1, 1859.

Mr. Buchanan left us this morning, accompanied by Miss Lane and Mrs. Thompson. He goes to Cumberland, Md., about thirty miles distant, and thence directly to Washington.

I fear that his visit has not proved an agreeable one. His unpopularity, and the grief and indignation felt by the people at the singular course he has pursued, were painfully apparent to every one, and cannot have escaped his own eye.

The bath house here is under the charge of one of the characters of the place—a Negro, named Robert Brown. He has a very intelligent countenance, and a physiognomy remarkably similar to that of Colonel Benton.

There have been half a dozen Republican politicians here for one of the Democratic schools. These gentlemen feel so certain of a victory in 1860 that it becomes a matter of the highest importance to get all the preliminaries arranged as speedily as possible.

A considerable number of visitors left this morning, and hereafter there will be little difficulty in obtaining rooms. Still, the number of guests remaining here is quite large, and everybody I meet is delighted with the place.

A Southern NABOB.—Col. J. A. S. Aokin, of Mississippi, is about erecting a private residence at his plantation, opposite Red River Landing, which is designed to cost $150,000—125,000 more for the furniture and furnishing.

NOT OCCASIONAL.

SPAIN AND THE BIBLE.—A Madrid journal the Esperanza states that "in the Calle de Atocha there resides an English lady who on certain days has protestant worship celebrated with a certain degree of publicity, in her drawing room by a minister of the Anglican Church."

Gold from the Grave.

One of the most interesting items of news from the Isthmus, by late arrivals, is the discovery of gold in large quantities in the ancient Indian tumuli and burial places to the northward of Panama, in the Province or State of Veraguas.

For some time after the Conquest a class of Spanish adventurers devoted themselves to excavating the huacas, and the product was so great as to lead the government of the Crown to appoint special officers to collect the royal fifth.

Within a very few years the inhabitants of Truxillo organized a company for new explorations of the huacas, but with very limited results.

The yellow, or golden fever, is always marked by hyperbole of the most extravagant kind; and the statements of our excited friends on the Isthmus must be taken with some grains of allowance.

The following opinions from Buchanan's Secretary of State were written in a period of about a month:

Letter to Le Clerc, dated June 11, 1859.

"I have to state that it is understood that the French Government claims military service from all natives of France who may be found within its jurisdiction."

Letter to Hofer, dated June 14, 1859.

"The position of the United States, as communicated to our Minister at Berlin for the information of the Prussian Government, is that native born Prussians naturalized in the United States and returning to the country of their birth are not liable to any duties or penalties, except such as were existing at the period of their emigration."

Letter to the American Minister at Berlin, dated July 8, 1859.

The mining news from Frazier river continues discouraging. It is thought that British Columbia will soon be cleared of its population.

The Bonaparte Family.

The Cincinnati Enquirer thus discourses of Ex-King Jerome Bonaparte and his family: It has seldom fallen to the lot of any human being to witness such remarkable vicissitudes of fortune, affecting himself and family, as has been witnessed by Ex-King Jerome Bonaparte.

Of all his family, he alone is permitted to witness both their remarkable rise in prosperity and fortune, and their subsequent tremendous downfall, and their equally wonderful return to the height of power and influence.

For the first time in the history of Europe was the extraordinary spectacle observed of a family of private citizens parading thrones and crowns among themselves as if they had been the merest bobbies.

One of the chiefs of the old empire, he holds a similar position in the new. He directs the counsels of the Regent Empress Eugenie, as he had previously done those of Maria-Louisa.

FROM MEXICO.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The Times' Washington correspondent says the draft of a treaty, just sent hither by Hon. Robert McLane to be submitted to our government, contains provisions of the very highest importance to this country.

1. Right of way across the northern States between the Rio Grande and points on the Gulf of California, with the guarantees for their protection and safety.

2. Right of way and valuable privileges of transit secured to the American company holding the Isthmus of Tehuantepec.

3. The privileges of erecting and maintaining warehouses at the termini of the several transit routes.

4. The right of transporting troops and munitions over such routes and sending troops to protect them, in default of Mexico fulfilling that duty.

5. Free entry and transit of goods belonging or consigned to American citizens in Arizona, through the ports or the Gulf of California and across Sonora.

6. Entire and unquestionable freedom of religious opinion and religious worship throughout the republic.

7. A clause indicating the willingness of the Mexican Government to accept a modified form of protectorate at the hands of the United States; in other words, to solemnize another treaty in form of one of alliance offensive and defensive, but in substance creating a protectorate, whenever the United States shall signify its willingness to enter into such engagement.

Our Legislative Ticket.

On Tuesday of last week, the American Republican Convention of Bedford County placed in nomination as a candidate for the Legislature, our late member, George W. Williams, Esq. This completes our legislative ticket for the district.

The honest, fearless, straight-forward course of Mr. Williams during the last session entitled him to a re-nomination, and we are gratified that our friends in Bedford marked their appreciation of his services, as did our party in this county those of George G. Walker, Esq., by giving them both a unanimous vote for re-nomination.

American farmers will find, after a while, that the only sure market for breadstuffs is to be found at home, when manufacturing and mechanical industry are sufficiently protected.

The Interview of the Emperors.

One of the European correspondents gives the following account of the first interview between the French and Austrian Emperors after the war.

"When the Sovereigns were about to enter the house the Noble Guards were ranged on the right to the vestibule, and the Gent Guards on the left. The Emperor Francis Joseph insisted on the Emperor Napoleon entering first. The Emperor invited Francis Joseph to breakfast, but the latter begged to be excused, as he had breakfasted before setting out. The two Emperors then entered the sitting room alone. Their Majesties sat down at opposite sides of the table. The Emperor Napoleon laid on the table a few cigarettes in an envelope, and offered one to the young Sovereign, who declined it. Although no third person heard a word of what had passed at this interview, I can state that they conversed sometimes in Italian, but more frequently in German; not a word was written down. During the conversation the Emperor Napoleon, as if mechanically, picked up pieces some of the flowers placed in a vase before him. On issuing from the house, the Emperor Napoleon conversed an instant with Baron Hess, while Francis Joseph spoke with Marshal Vaillant. Their Majesties then briefly inspected their escorts. The Emperor of Austria was struck with the uniform and bearing of the Gent Guards and Guides, and he openly expressed his admiration. He also asked whether these soldiers formed part of the Imperial Guard."

There is a man by the name of Hyde in Cincinnati, who is one hundred and ten years of age and has been married seven times.

DR. McLANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS.

TRANSVALE, TEXAS, June 12, 1854. MESSRS. FLEMING BROS., Pittsburgh, Pa. Gentlemen—This is to certify that my mother had been subject to periodical attacks of sick headache for a great many years; all the usual remedies having failed to give relief, one of our pamphlets accidentally falling into her hands, she at once determined to try DR. MCLANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS, prepared by you and immediately procured a box, from the use of which she received great benefit, and so long as she continued to use them was entirely relieved.

We have not been in Transylvania, Texas, for the last four years, and not being able to procure these valuable pills, her attacks of sick headache have again returned—for some time back has been gradually getting worse—and she has determined to send you for a few boxes of Dr. McLane's Celebrated Liver Pills. I herewith enclose you one dollar, for which you will please send me Pills per return mail. Address Austin, Texas. I think you would do well to establish an agency in Austin; the Pills are well known here, and would meet with ready sale.

Tribute of Respect.

At a meeting of the "Independent Blues," of Bloody Run, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That whilst we humbly bow to the will of Him in whose hands all our destinies are, we at the same time deeply mourn the loss of him who by the ruthless hand of death has been taken from us, one who by his moral life and unexceptionable deportment had endeared himself to all who knew him.

Resolved, That in the death of David Shaffer, his wife and child have lost a true and affectionate husband and father, our community a valuable citizen, and the company of which he was a member, a brave and noble soldier.

Resolved, That we, as a company, do most sincerely sympathize with his family and friends in their sad bereavement, yet we are consoled with the belief that the one we now mourn is resting in the embrace of him who hath said, "I am the resurrection and the life; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall live."

Resolved, That the officers and members of this company wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days, that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to his family, and that the same be published in the Bedford Inquirer and Gazette.
