

Agricultural.

Vegetables for next Spring.

While the gardens are filled with abundance, and harvest rather than seed time is suggested by the huge beets, long carrots, and already drooping onions, one is apt to forget that even now, this very September, some of the vegetable seeds should be sown so as to have early greens, cabbages, onions, etc., next Spring.

Onions may be sown in like manner, during the latter part of August or early in September. The small bulbs will frequently keep over Winter without covering, but it is better to protect them as described for spinach. They are usually left quite thick till Spring, and then transplanted, furnishing onions for the table, a long time in advance of those sown in the Spring.

Cabbages and Cauliflowers require more protection to carry them successfully through the Winter. Prepare the bed and sow, the first of September. Caltrate and thin out the plants, so that they will fill all the ground, but not touch each other. When Winter approaches, make a frame, by nailing boards or planks together, of the size of the bed, one foot high on the front or south side, and two feet high on the back, with slanting or beveled ends to compare with the two sides. It is better to have several cross slats upon the top for shutters, or sash to slide up and down upon, after the manner of hot-bed frames. When freezing nights approach, place the frame upon the bed, and cover with boards, shutters, or hot-bed sash. Open them in the morning during pleasant mild days. They should be exposed to the weather as much as possible, when not freezing, so as to harden for severe frosts. When it is evident that Winter is setting in earnest, bank up about the sides, stop any crevices, and cover the top with boards or shutters. If glazed sash are used, boards or shutters should be laid over them, as it is now essential to stop both cold air and light, leaving the plants to Winter in a dormant state. Thus preserved, they will even then probably be frozen, but in the absence of light and sudden changes, the frost will finally come out so gradually as not to injure them. Frequent freezing and thawing is what destroys out-door cabbages. If covered as described, when they once get frozen they remain so for a long time. It may be best, when the mercury sinks quite low, to cover with old mats, straw, or sedge; to further exclude the cold air, and render them less subject to changes of temperature. During a succession of mild days in Winter, the covers may be partially removed to air the plants, and in Spring they should be uncovered at all suitable times to harden off. When settled weather arrives, say about the first of May, transplant to the open grounds, and you will have cabbages and cauliflowers several weeks in advance of those sown in the Spring.

NYCUM'S IMPROVED CAST-IRON CARRIAGE HUB.

THE undersigned believes that he has invented a cast iron carriage hub which far exceeds all others now in use, for strength, neatness and durability, and that it only needs to be examined, and its merits test its universal approval and adoption. Indeed it is no longer an experiment, it having been effectually tried by the best judges in our country, and pronounced one of the Greatest Improvements of the Age!

Several vehicles have been in use over two years with the improved Hub attached, and the wheels are still a perfect as when they left the shop, the unchangeable wear excepted. This is the only Cast Iron Hub ever invented suitable for light wheels.

This improvement is of such a nature that one or more spokes may be taken out or changed or replaced without disturbing the other portion of the wheel. Where a wood hub is used, if a spoke happens to become broken, it is necessary to cut the tire and separate the felloes, to get at the damaged part. The wheel must be then impored the set, tire re-welded and reset. All this involves a considerable expense and loss of time.

In the present improvement the inner ends of the spokes are secured in an Iron Hub, which consists mainly of two shells fastened together with screws. By simply unscrewing the nuts and taking off the back shell, any one of the spokes may be removed or changed, and the hub again put together, leaving the wheel as solid and firm as ever, WITHIN THE SPACE OF A FEW MINUTES.

This method of constructing Iron Hub Wheels gives them unusual strength, LIGHTNESS AND NEATNESS, besides obviating several other objections that have heretofore attended their use. The cost of manufacture is also greatly reduced.

The subscriber Agent for Bedford County, will dispose of Township and shop rights, on reasonable terms. WILLIAM O'NEAL Agent. Feb. 18, 1859. Rainsburg, Bedford Co., Pa.

PERMANENT OFFICE. Drs. C. M. Fitch and J. W. Sykes

Complying with the urgent request of hundreds of their patients, HAVE CONCLUDED TO REMAIN PERMANENTLY IN PITTSBURGH, And may be consulted at their office, NO. 190 PENN STREET, Opposite St. Clair Hotel PITTSBURGH.

AD may be consulted daily, except Sundays, for CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, and all other CHRONIC COMPLAINTS complicated with or causing pulmonary disease, including Catarrh, Heart Disease, Affection of the Liver, Dyspepsia, Gastritis, Female Complaints, &c.

Dr. Fitch & Sykes would state that their treatment of Consumption is based upon the fact that the disease exists in the blood and system at large, both before and during its development in the lungs, and they therefore employ Mechanical, Hygienic and Medicinal remedies to purify the blood and strengthen the system. With these they use MEDICAL INHALATIONS, which they value highly, but only as Palliatives, (having no curative effect when used alone,) and invalids are earnestly cautioned against wasting the precious time of curability upon any treatment based upon the plausible, but false idea that the seat of disease can be reached in a direct manner by Inhalation. For as before stated, the seat of the disease is in the blood and its effects only in the lungs.

No charge for consultation. A list of questions will be sent to those wishing to consult us by letter. March 18, 1859-1y
