and was declared duly nominated. The States sell voting for Seward were Massachusetts, 8; New York, 70; New Jersey, 5: Pennsyluania, 4; Maryland, 2: Michi-gan, 12; Wisconsin, 10; California, 3; total, 1104. 1101 Mr. Dayton received one vote from New Jersey, and Mr. McLean half a vote from Pennsylvania.

The result was received with renewed applause.

When silence was restored, Wm. M. Evarts came forward on the Secretary's table and spoke as follows:

ME. CHAIRMAN, AND GENTLEMAN OF THE NATION-AL COARENTION: The State of New York, by a full delegation, with complete unanimity in purpose at home, came to the Convention and presented its choice, one of its citizens, who had served the State from boyhood up, and labored for it and loved. We came here, a great State, with, as we thought, a great statesman [applause.] and our love of the great Republic of the American Union, and our love for the great Republican party of the Union, and our love of our statesman and candidate made us, think we did our duty to the country, and the whole coun-try, in expressing our preference and love for him. [Applause.] Bat, gentlemen, it was from Gov. Sew-ard that most of us learned to love Republican principles and the Republican party. [Cheers.] His MR.
