Mr. Appleton, Assistant Secretary of State; Mr. Hunter, Chief Clerk of the State Department; Ledyard, Gen. Cass' granddaughter, and his three grandsons, were then introduced to the Japanese. They did not shake bands with the lady, as this, it is said, would have been contrary to their instructions in relation to the fair sex, before they left home.

The afternoon was spent by the Japanese in making preparations for the presentation to-morrow, when they will be accompanied by their standard bearers, and make a display of pikes, halberts, and other emblems of their

ENTERTAINMENT OF THE JAPANESE BY SECRETARY CASS.—WASHINGTON, May 18.— The spacious residence of General Cass, tonight, presented a truly brilliant scene, the oscasion being an entertainment to the Japanese

Among the gay and fashionable throng were army and navy officers, in costume, members of the Cabinet and of Congress, foreign ministers | though short her pilgrimage upon carth, she and attaches, together with hundreds of ladies, yet died in full maturity, having lived for God arrayed in rich and splendid costumes, and displaying the choicest floral beauties. A band music adds to the general delight.

The distinguished visitors, about ten in number, were more fashionable than those who preceded them, and did not, therefore, arrive till 10 o'clock. On their entrance into the parlors all eyes were naturally directed toward them. They were, in comparison with the dresses which they were on the day they were presented to the President, plainly attired.—
They carried with them, however, their swords, and other distinctions of office, but were no sations, forget not, that it was ordered by a assiduous in his attentions.

Notwithstanding their accustomed gravity, they appeared to be delighted with the brilliant but, as heretofore, abstained from familiarity with the ladies, who surrounded them to do them honor.

The festivities were prolonged to a late hour.

From the Evening Post A LETTER FROM MR. SEWARD.

The following letter has been addressed by Mr. Seward to the gentleman of the Central Republican Committee, who invited him to at-tend a meeting to be held for the proceedings of the National Convention. It will be seen that Mr. Seward takes his defeat with the same calm dignity and self-respect which has always characterized his political conduct. In the reverse of fortune, as in success, he does not forget that his cause is greater than himself, and that the true patriot must lock for his reward, not in personal triumphs, but in the triumphs of principle. He regrets that he will not now be able to recompense his friends for their long and earnest fidelity; but he evidently looks forward to retirement with a feeling of relief and joy. Mr. Seward cordially approves of the doctrines presented by the Convention at Chieago, and bears his willing testimony to the ability, the character, and the zeal of the person placed in nomination. The graceful and becoming terms in which Mr. Seward expresses his sincere concurrence in the action of - the Convention will only endear him the more to his friends, and to all others who prize true greatness of soul. "AUBURN, May 21, 1860.

"GENTLEMEN: I will not effect to conceal the sensibility with which I have received the letters in which you and so many other respected friends have tendered to me expressions of renewed and enduring confidence. These letters will remain with me as assurances in future years that, although I was not unwilling to await, even for another age, the vindication of my political principles, yet that they did nevertheless receive the generous support of many good, wise and patriotic men of my own time. "Such assurances, however made, under the circumstances now existing, derive their priceless value largely from the fact that they steal upon me through the channels of private correspondence, and altogether unknown to the world. You will at once perceive that such expressions would become painful to me, and justly offensive to the community, if they should be allowed to take on any public or conventional form of manifestation. For this reason, if it were respectful and consistent with your own public purposes, I would have delayed my reply to you until I could have had an opportunity of making it verbally next week on my way to Washington, after completing the arrangements for the repairs upon my dwelling here, rendered necessary by a recent fire.

The same reason determines me also to deoline your kind invitation to attend the meeting in which you propose some demonstrations of respect to myself, while so justly considering the nominations which have been made by the recent National Convention at Chicago.—

On the 13th of March, last, Mrs. MARY, wife of Mr. Frederick Sill, aged 18 years, 4 months and 16 days.

Death is a scene with which we can never be come fau.iliar. In whatever form it may present itself to our view, it is still appalling, and the heart must ever recoil at the idea of seeing those near and dear to it clasped in the icy embrace of Death.

Our lamented friend was tried by Providence with lingering and severe affliction, and,

and eternity.

Oh! how reluctantly have not fond parents and a devoted husband yielded up the precious treasure; and yet however repugnant it may have been to the feelings, the mandate of high Heaven has been obeyed in restoring that form to its mother earth. She is gone, forever gone; no kinduess, no serrow of nature can re-anisations, forget not, that it was ordered by a head goar. They were close observers of the scene, while their disting nished entertainer was object in afflicting so grievously, yet rest assured it will ultimately result in benefit .-As heretofore, they were accompanied by the baval commission and Mr. Portman, the intertrials and disappointments-prolonged life is but a prolongation of sorrow and suffering.

Regret not, then, that an inscrutable Providence has removed your friend from it; the pangs of death are now over, and she whose loss you mourn as a companion—a mother for helpless infancy—a daughter and friend, is now happy in that spirit-land, where care can never reach her, for the Lamb is the light of it-and in His presence sorrow and sighing shall forever flee away.

Grief cannot change our brother's state, His spirit's left its house of clay, No more his voice our ears shall greet, Or presence cheer us on our way,

In youth's bright morn, the silver cord Which bound the spirit to its dust, Was shapped asunder at the word Of Him who gave it to his trust.

And now he lies beneath the vale, His manly form will soon decay, Which teaches us that very soon We all must travel this dread way.

Sleep on, dear brother, sweet sleep, The memories which thy name imparts, Will cheer us on life's rugged road, When sorrow chills our drooping hearts. W. A. S.

T INDSER'S IMPROVED BLOOD SEARCHER,

A STANDARD MEDICINE
For the speedy, radical, and effectual cure of ALL DISEASES arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This medicine has wrong ourse in desperate cases of Cancerous formations.

Cancerous Diseases, Exysipelas, Bolls, Executions. This medicine has wrought the most miraculous Pimples on the face, Old, Stubborn Ulcers, Tetter affections, Sore Eyes, Scald Head, Rhoumatic Disorders, Dyspepsia, Jaundice,

Costiveness,
Salt Rheum,
General Debility,
Loss of Appetite,
Foul Stomach, Liver Complaint, Low Spirits, Foul Stomach, Female Complaints, and all Diseases having their origin in an impure state of the Blood.

The above is a portrait of David McCreary, of Napier township, who, on the 31st day of August, 1858, made affidavit before Justice Gorley that he was treated for the cure of Cancer by three physicians of Bedford County, and by Dr. Newton of the Eclectic College in Cincinnati, for a period of nearly eight months, notwithstanding which, his lip, nese, and a portion of his left cheek were entirely eaten away! He had given up all hope, when he heard of the Blood Scarcher," and was induced to try it. Four bottles cured him, and although to the standard of the Source of the standard of the sale of the sal to try it. Four bottles cured him, and although sadly disfigured, there is no question but what this invaluable medicine saved his life. The full particulars of this remarkable case may be seen in a circular, which can be had of any of the Agents. We also refer to the case of Nancy Blakney, of E derton, Armstrong county, Pa., cured of Scrotula after being unable to get out of bed for three years.

To the case of a lady in Ansonville, Clearfield county, who was also afflicted with Scrofula in its worst form.

To the case of George Meisel, residing in Carrolltown, Cambria country, Pa., who was so badly afflicted with Cancer that it eat his entire nose off, and his case was worse, if possible, than McCreary's.

The particulars of these cases—every one of which was cured by the use of the Blood Searcher—may also be found in a circular to be had of any of the Agents.
