What Claims have Bell and Everett upon the Americans for their Support?

An effort is being made to get up a diversion in Pennsylvania in favor of Bell and Everett; but to what good end is more than we can see, for there is scarcely a whit more probability of their election in November next than there is of the sky falling. Indeed their supporters do not pretend that they have even the ghost of a chance of election by the people; and are constrained to hang their hopes upon a lucky turn of the cards in the House; though as the House now stands they are weaker before it than before the people. Yet that some of those who support Bell and Everett are influenced to do so by honest and patriotic motives we do not questioa; but on the other hand, that some others are influenced by sinister, selfish, and perhaps corrupt motives, we little question. Now, to these latter we have nothing to say, they are joined to their idols, and we let them alone .--But to the former- to those who have really a desire to promote the country's best interests, and whose honest judgments lead them in this way as the best to that end, we venture a few words, in all kindness and respect.

Mainly, gentlemen, you are Americans in the party sense of the term, and, indeed, in every other sense of it; and you say it is because you conceive it to better accord with your Americanism to support these candidates than any of the others that you are in their ranks. Now are you right in this? Are you?

· As reasonable and fair men, seeking the truth and nothing bn' the truth, let us frankly and honestly examine how this 18. Does it accord better with the Americanism of the Americans to vote for Bell and Everett, than for Lincoln and Hamlin? Or, first, let us put the inquiry in another form-What claims have Bell and Everett upon the Americans for their support?

Are Bell and Everett in favor of changing the Naturalization laws so as to require a longer residence of Foreigners in the country before admitting them to citizenship? Where's the proof? Why their leading friends don't even pretend that they are.

Are Bell and Everett, or either of them, members of any American order or organization, or have they ever been? They don't even claim to be, and Mr. Bell has been so timid on this score as to antiounce in the U. S. Senate that he had no such connection!

Are they members of the American Party in any sense whatever? Have they ever claimed to be? Never.

Do they claim any connection with, or friend-Not they.

Are they pledged against appointing Foreigners to office in preference to Americans Lorn? Not they.

Was the Convention that nominated them an American Convention? Was even it so called? Did it pass any American resolutions? Did it put itself upon the record as American, in any shape whatever?

The Philadelphia Convention that nominated Millard Fillmore, called itself an American Convention-was composed of American men and passed American resolutions, and put itself squarely and boldly, heartily and fully upon the record in favor of the American cause .-That was a Convention that gave its nominees a claim upon the Americans for their suffrages, and as an American, we for one, gave it as zealous and as hearty a support as we ever gave to any ticket. But this Baltimore noncommittal affair, where's it in all these respects? Ignoring the very name of American-ignoring every sentiment and principle of the distinctive American party-not even venturing to hint that either itself or its nominees had ver seen or heard of 'Sam.' or now respected him or his memory, what special claim, we ask, can it have upon Americans for their support? presumption to make such a claim? And will and progress. any intelligent and sensible American for a moment heed it. Surely not. Then if Bell and Everett have no claims upon the Americans for their support on American grounds, in the name of all that's reasonable and right, on what other grounds can we go for them. On the ground of "Protection to American Industry?" Why the Convention that nominated them was as shy of this question as of the American. It dodged it point blank. But we have said enough. Americans who are really desirous of overthrowing their inveterate foe, the Molly-Magnire-and-Profligateand-Plundering-Democracy, seeing no other way of doing it than by electing the People's candidates, Lincoln and Hamlin, will go in for these worthy men, cheerfully and heartily .-As sensible men they cannot do otherwise .--Hollidaysburg Register.

Office of the J. ffersonian, { Philippi, Va., Dec. 12, 1858. § Dear Sir:--I feel it my duty as well as my pleas-ure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentle-man of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth so much so, that he was since his early youth, so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very gentomat's mane is practiced, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give it to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Kestorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c., THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood : Dear Sir : Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your "Hair Re-storative" it soon recovered its original hue. THE SCHEME OF THE BOLTERS .- The Philadelphia Sunday Atlas, a strong Douglas paper is very severe upon the "bolters as it characterizes the supporters of Breckinridge and indignantly spurns the offer of compromise tendered by the State Committee. The Atlas says: "This nefarious plot must never be allowed to succeed; we would prefer to see Lincoln elected, so it is done by the people,"-this is sensible. If the supporters of Douglas would effectually wipe out the "bolters," let them vote for and elect Lincoln. They will thus defeat the conspiracy to throw the election into Congress and make Joe Lane the President. They must either orush the bolters, or be themselves crushed out of political existance.

The Aroostook (Me.) Herald says:

"We heard a conversation the other day between a Breckinridge man and an old Democrat who avowed his intention of voting for Lincoln. 'I've always been a Democrat, and I've been reading and studying, and I have come to the conclusion that the Democratic party don't stand where it did in 1850, and I'm going to vote for "Honest Old Abe.' "-'Yes, and get cheated,' says the Hunker .--Well,' cooly replied the other, 'I voted for Pierce and Buchanan, and got awfully cheated both times, and I don't feel like being hun-bugged the third time. I had as lief be cheat-ed once by the Republicans, as all the time by Dr. F. HUMPHREYS & CO., Pierce and Buchanan, and got awfully cheated ed once by the Republicans, as all the time by the Democrats."

In St. Louis, the Daily Express has raised. the Lincoln banner. There are now four daily Republican papers in St. Louis.

two routes unite. For that route there is a good charter and a company organized with Gen. Wilson of Huntingdon as president, and Is it not rather, the most arcant and insulting plans are now being matured to give it vitality.

> The route through Bedford and Somerset Counties I followed closely, and found it one of the easiest roads to construct that could be imagined. It follows the Juniata, Buffalo Creek and Wills' Creek until it rises to the small tunnel crossing the Alleghanies at the Sand Patch, which tunnel is nearly completed by the Connellsville Road Company.

From this point the route descends Castleman's river, to Connellsville in Fayette co., from whence the road is completed to Pittsburg.

With the completion of a road from a point on the Connellsville road to Washington, 30 miles, we have a road to Wheeling, Va., the western terminus of the B. & Ohio road on the Ohio river, and place New York within 705 miles of Cincinnati, 200 miles less than by any road now controlled by New York interest, and having no grades or curves like those on the Baltimore or Pennsylvania roads.

- In a few days I shall forward you a detailed report, in which you may find something of interest, as the subject will yet be felt as on of national concern. Yours, JAS. E. WHARTON.
