MASS MEETING OF THE PEOPLE.

A mass meeting of the People's Party of Bedford County will be held at the Court House, in Bedford, on the evening of Tuesday the 4th day September, next, being the Tuesday evening of Court week.

The members of the Party throughout the County are earnestly requested to attend.

Turn out, friends of Lincoln, Hamlin and Curtin.

Speakers from a distance are expected to address the meeting.

By order of the County Committee. S. L. RUSSELL, Chairman.

TO OUR FRIENDS.

We need money—we must have it. We have a number of debts to pay by Court Week, and we hope our friends in the country, who own us for subscription, job work and advertising, when they come to town to attend Court will not forget us. If any who owe us don't come to town, just send the "needful" with their neighbor, who does come. Don't forget, will you?

SENATOR.

Col. Samuel S. Wharton, of Huntingdon County, has been nominated for Senator. The proceedings of the Conference will be found in another column. Col. Wharton is one of the most indefatigable men we have in our ranks—well qualified for the office of Senator, and will run a strong vote for the office in Huntingdon County. In the Borough and Township of Huntingdon alone, whilst in that place a few days ago, we were informed by several strong Democrats, who never voted for a member of the opposition before, that Col. Wharton would receive at least 200 votes from Democrats, and that they were among the number.

A few renegades in the town of Huntingdon, who do not vote our ticket half the time, have prevailed on J. S. Stewart to come out as an independent candidate, and he has done so. He will not receive 200 votes in that County, whilst Col. Wharton will receive more than double that many from the Democrats. His majority in that County will certainly not be less than 700. In Bedford County, Stewart will not receive 10 votes. Bedford County is remarkable for nothing more than her stern refusal, by both parties, to support renegade volunteer candidates. That Col. Wharton is well qualified, deserves the votes of every Lincoln and Curtin man, and that he will be elected, all will admit.

GEN. G. A. SCROGG'S SPEECH.

We call the particular attention of the old Fillmore and Hazlehurst men of Bedford County, to the speech of this gentleman, which we publish on the outside of our paper to-day. Gen. Scroggs was the President of the American State Council of New York, American candidate for Lieut. Governor in 1854, supported Fillmore in 1856, and was a delegate to the Convention which nominated Bell and Everett. He will not support the bargain and sale between the Bell and Douglas men in New York, and with Breckinridge elsewhere. Read the speech and pass it round.

Our Candidate for Congress.

Our readers have already heard of the nomination of Hon. Edward McPherson, for reelection to Congress, from this District. The proceedings will be found in another part of our paper, of to-day. It is scarcely necessary for us to say anything in reference to his claims or qualifications, as all our friends in Bedford County, are well acquainted with his peculiar merits. We attended the Conference which placed him before the people, and we tell our friends that we were agreeably surprised at the enthusiasm that was there manifested in his favor. Dr. S. E. Duffield handed into the Conference, through the Conferees from Fulton County, an able and patriotic letter, in which he withdrew from the contest, and to which we invite the particular attention of our readers. Mr. James M. Sellers, was then named as a candidate for nomination, as was also Edward McPherson. Mr. McPherson received the full vote from the Counties of Adams, Bedford, Franklin and Fulton, and Mr. Sellers the vote of Juniata, a Conferee from Juniata then moved that the nomination be made unanimous, which was done. Mr. Baehler, of Adams, stated that he had authority from Mr. McPherson, to withdraw his name, in case Dr. Duffield desired the nomination, not wishing to infringe on the old arrangement entered into some eight years ago.

A meeting was called that evening in Chambersburg, to ratify the nomination. Hon. Fr. Jordan, was announced to address it, which he did in an able speech of an hour and a quarter in length. Quite a large number were in attendance. The mention of McPherson's name was received with the most deafening applause. All over the town, and by many country people who came to town to hear the result, was the joy and enthusiasm unbounded. From statements made by the Conferees, as well as from many of our best politicians, from all the Counties, the reelection of the "fellow by the name of McPherson," is a forgone conclusion. He will receive at the very lowest 500 majority in Franklin, many of our friends and good and careful politicians too, think it will reach 700. In Adams he will receive at the lowest 200 many think it will reach 300. In Juniata he will receive 150 majority. In Bedford and Fulton, at the very outside Schell cant got above 350. This will elect Mr. McPherson by at least 500 majority. The people of the District are satisfied with his course in Congress, like the man, and are determined to reelect him by an increased majority.

Stephen A. Douglas, in a speech which he made in the Court House Square in Carrollton, in 1844, spoke of Henry Clay substantially as follows. Speaking of the Oregon Boundary question, and Mr. Clay's willingness to compromise the dispute by accepting a line short of 54 deg. 40 min., Stephen A. Douglas said: "I denounced him in the Congress of the United States, and I now denounce him as a TRAITOR—AN OLD BLACK-HEARTED TRAITOR—the first American who ever attempted to sell his country for British gold!" And this is the man who now sheds tears over the grave of Henry Clay, and with an impudence unparalleled in all the achievements of political demagogues, asserts that Henry Clay called him to his bedside, and entrusted to him the protection of his (Clay's) fame and reputation.—Carrollton Press.

Samuel H. Tate is a Douglas man, so is Wm. P. Schell, and they both made speeches at the Douglas ratification meeting in this place. They endorse Douglas, and they of course endorse all his acts—this slander on Henry Clay—as well as others, and yet they want old Clay men to vote for them. But this is not what we wish to call particular attention to. We remember well that when we were an apprentice boy in 1844, that a public discussion was held in this place between the two parties. S. H. Tate was one of the speakers. In his remarks he said that "HENRY CLAY was a murderer, that he murdered Cilley, &c." This we can prove by persons who are now living in this town who were in that meeting. He also said a few years ago in Bloody Run, that "he never wanted a Whig to support him." He now button-holes all the old Whigs who come to town, and with tears in his eyes solicits their votes. Will the friends of the immortal Clay vote for his slanderers, Douglas, Schell and Tate? Will they vote for any man who says that he never wanted a Whig to support him. We believe not.

Our ticket is now completed, and a better one was never offered to the support of the people of Bedford County. Now, go to work, friends, and elect it. You can do it.

Let all our friends turn-out to the meeting on next Tuesday evening. Speeches will be made by our candidate for Congress, and by other distinguished speakers. Come one, come all.

Our ticket is now completed, and a better one was never offered to the support of the people of Bedford County. Now, go to work, friends, and elect it. You can do it.

UNION TOWNSHIP MOVING. Organization of a Lincoln and Curtin Club.

On last Tuesday evening, the People's Party of Union Township, met at the School House, near Joseph S. Riddle's, and formed a Lincoln and Curtin Club. Quite a number of the free and independent voters of that Township were present, and great enthusiasm was manifested. The following gentlemen were then elected officers:

- President—Joseph Imler. V. Presidents—Jos. S. Riddle, I. L. Fickes, Michael S. Corl. Joseph Taylor, Michael Fry, Samuel Hite. Secretary—W. F. Moorhead. Treasurer—John T. Ake. Ex. Committee—A. H. Hull, Moses Gonshour, John Fickes, Joseph Dull, Thomas Oldham, Martin Kintz, George Lokes, Wm. A. Mock, Ed. Bedell, Jos. W. Imler.

Our friend John Cessa, Esq., informs us that he was not at the late Harrisburg Convention of the Douglas men. We are happy to make the correction.

TURN OUT! TURN OUT!! Hon. Henry D. Moore of Philadelphia, and Dr. S. E. Duffield of Fulton, will address our meeting, on Tuesday evening next.

PEOPLE'S MEETINGS.

A meeting will be held at Hopewell, on Saturday, (to-morrow) 1st Sept., at 4 o'clock, P. M.

At Bloody Run, on Thursday next, 6th of September.

At Stonerstown, on Saturday, the 8th of Sept.

Hon. Edward McPherson, our candidate for Congress, will be present and address all of these meetings, and it is to be hoped our friends, as well as Democrats, will turn out in large numbers to hear him.

Another fire.—On Saturday morning last, between 1 and 2 o'clock, a fire was discovered in Mr. Law Jamison's stable. The fire was too far ahead to make any efforts to extinguish it. Two horses, one belonging to Mr. Jamison, the other to Mr. C. Smith, were consumed—the former was worth $175, the latter about $80. Some hay was also in the stable. The fire was, no doubt, the work of an incendiary. We hope some efforts may be made to ferret out the villain who commits so many of these outrages, and bring them to punishment.

In our recent tour, we called on Messrs. Wittaker & Nash of the Huntingdon Journal, R. M. Spiter of the Huntingdon Union, and Wm. Lewis, Esq., of the Huntingdon Globe. They are all pretty clever fellows, but keep up the bitter warfare of any other set of editors in the State. We also called on Messrs. McCrum & Dora, of Altoona Tribune, and found them to be very clever and sociable gentlemen.

We made a call on our friend, Hon. L. W. Hall, in Altoona, the other day. He is taking a very active part in the present contest, and makes speeches in every direction, and able ones they are too. He took us around through the workshops of the Pennsylvania Rail Road Company—the largest works belonging to any one Company in the Union. Altoona has a population of about 5,000—ten years ago it was a wilderness.

We had a fine jaunt during the last eight days, and visited Chambersburg, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Atlantic City, Huntingdon, Altoona, &c.—All along the route, and in these places, the feeling is excellent. No one doubts the election of Lincoln, Hamlin and Curtin. We met many old friends and acquaintances and made new ones. To Dan'l J. Chapman, Esq., of Philadelphia, and formerly of Bedford, are we under especial obligations for his kindness and attentions. He is one of nature's noblemen, whole-souled, and generous to a fault.

MAJOR EXTRA FEES.

Sam'l H. Tate has now been Prothonotary for three years. He has increased the fees to double, over the charges of Job Mann, John G. Martin, Jos. B. Noble, John P. Read, Daniel Washbaugh, and all other Prothonotaries of Bedford County. This makes his term of three years, equal to six years of the others. He now is a candidate again, and if he is elected it will make his two terms equal to twelve years. This, we think, is asking a little too much of the people of Bedford County.

The Gazette publishes the ridiculous lie that Curtin should have said some harsh things about the Germans. It was taken from a German paper in Centre County, and completely refuted in an article, which we published in last week's paper, taken from the Harrisburg Telegraph. What does the Gazette think of Sam'l H. Tate calling the Germans of our county "d—d Dutch?" Ought they to vote for him? We can prove he called them this.

CLUB MEETING.

The meeting of the Lincoln Club, on Tuesday evening last, was a large and enthusiastic one. Speeches were made by Hon. S. L. Russell, D. Over, and Hon. Alex. King. The feeling is getting up—our meetings are well attended, and everything forebodes a victory this fall, for our County, District, State and National tickets. Roll on the ball!

OUR MEETING.

Let all our friends turn-out to the meeting on next Tuesday evening. Speeches will be made by our candidate for Congress, and by other distinguished speakers. Come one, come all.

Our ticket is now completed, and a better one was never offered to the support of the people of Bedford County. Now, go to work, friends, and elect it. You can do it.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

At a meeting held at the Bedford Hotel, Aug. 27, 1860, Valentine Steckman was chosen President pro tem. On motion

Resolved, That the next exhibition of the Society be held on the 2d, 3d and 4th days of October, 1860, in Bedford.

Wm. Hartley resigned the office of Recording Secretary, and R. D. Barclay was elected to fill his place. Hon. Jno. Taylor, Dan'l Heltzel, jr., and Maj. S. Davis were added to the Committee of Arrangements.

AS EACH MONTH rolls around the demand for Lindsey's Blood Searcher increases, owing to the fact that a single trial at once removes the doubts of the most incredulous, and fully satisfies them that it is the only preparation now before the people that will in all cases do all that is claimed for it. The worst cases of Cancerous Formations, Scrofula, Erysipelas, and Tetter affections give way to its potent influence. Thousands of persons who are now alive and well, must thank the discoverer of this preparation that they have not been swept away by the unseen hand of death. The best evidence of its real value is, that the best physicians in the land recommend it highly, and acknowledge the claims of the Blood Searcher upon the community.

Sold by all the Druggists in this county.—See advertisement in another column.

Bedford Rail Road.

Mr. OVER:—I have felt so entirely satisfied with the vote which I, as one of the Directors of the Bedford Railroad Company, gave in favor of the proposition to pay Dull, Collins & Co. something more than the $64,000 for which they contracted to do the graduation and masonry of twelve miles of the road—so conscious have I been that I did right—just what I would do again—that I had determined not to notice the articles published in your paper, under the head of "Bedford Railroad." My silence, however, may be misconstrued, and I therefore wish, in reply to these articles, to lay before your readers a plain statement of facts, which, I believe, will convince every unprejudiced mind of the utter groundlessness of the charges which you have made.

In May, 1859, the Directors of the Bedford Rail Road Co. entered into a contract with Dull, Collins & Co., by which they bound themselves to do the graduation and masonry of the first twelve miles of the road for the sum of $64,000, the work to be completed on or before the first day of January, 1860, and if they did not comply with the terms of the contract, the R. R. Co. could rescind, and either re-let the work or itself employ hands and finish it. Dull, Collins & Co. sub-let the work, and the sub-contractors proceeded vigorously with it until more than two-thirds of it was done. As it progressed, estimates were made; and they showed that the quantity of work done, and to be done, was considerably greater than was estimated at the time the contract was let. Dull, Collins & Co. found that they would lose money, and they quit; or in other words, they refused to pay the sub-contractors, who were, therefore, obliged to stop the work, leaving what would cost about $22,000 to complete the contract, unfinished. What, under the circumstances, was the company to do? It had the right to declare the contract rescinded, to re-let the work, as I have stated, or to employ hands itself and finish it, and then sue Dull, Collins & Co. for not performing their contract. But there was not a dollar in the treasury to pay the contractors to whom the work might be re-let, or to pay the hands whom the company might employ. The Treasurer of the company published notice after notice, calling upon the stockholders to pay up, but very little money came in in answer to these calls. For about seven months no work was done, and that which had been done was rapidly going to ruin. At this juncture Mr. Collins proposed to the directors that if they would pay him pro rata for the extra work which he would have to do over and above the quantity estimated to be done at the time the contract was let, he would bind himself to pay off all the indebtedness within twenty days, and finish the contract on or before the first of December next, the amount thus to be paid not to exceed $10,000, and no part of it to be paid until the work is completed. The engineer informed me that the amount would be about six or seven thousand dollars. This proposition was submitted to the directors—they held three meetings to deliberate upon it—they sent for Mr. Fulton, the engineer, and consulted him, and after giving it the fullest consideration, a majority (five) of the seven directors present, came to the conclusion that it was the very best thing that could be done under the circumstances. The company had no funds to enable it to re-let the work, nor could it, without money, employ hands to finish it.—The work already done was going to destruction. Dull, Collins & Co. had taken the contract at too low a sum. They would inevitably have lost money. They asked the company not to give them six, seven, or ten thousand dollars, but to pay them a fair compensation for their labor, and the directors agreed to do so. Was it not honest and right to do so? What is there wrong about it? If you or I work, we want to be paid. But you say, "a bargain is a bargain." Dull, Collins & Co. are rich, able to pay all the damages that could have been recovered against them. It may be that they are. Whether they are or not, I do not know. "Before you roast a rabbit you must first catch it." Before suit could be brought against them the company must finish the work. How could that be done without money? And if it was done, and the suit instituted, what assurance is there that the company would recover?—Who does not know "the glorious uncertainty of the law," especially where a corporation is a party? One result of such a suit is as certain as death, and that is, that the company would have had to pay a big fee to its attorneys. But, you say, "it is a transparent scheme to elect Mr. Schell to Congress." Excuse me for saying that such an assertion is "transparent" nonsense. You don't believe it yourself. That six men, acting under the solemn obligation of an oath, five of them—not including myself—among our very best citizens—two of the six opposed politically to Mr. Schell, should give away several thousand dollars, which they hold in trust for others, to elect him to Congress, is too preposterous for any one to believe.

THE EDITOR.

Why Mr. Russell put off writing this Card to this late date, we don't know, and for any personal allusions to us, we matter them not. We again say, we do not blame him with being in collusion with Mr. Schell, and we have full confidence in his political fidelity.

Congressional Conference.

The Conferees of the People's Party of the 17th Congressional District met at the Court House, in Chambersburg, on Tuesday, the 21st inst., at 2 P. M.

Hon. Francis Jordan was called to the chair and Sam'l G. Lane appointed Secretary.

The following Conferees appeared and presented their credentials: Adams—D. A. Buehler, Frank Hersh, Sam'l Durbanow. Bedford—Francis Jordan, David Over, Geo. R. Oster.

Franklin—Geo. Eyster, John H. Criswell, Sam'l G. Lane.

Fulton—Mark Dixon, Sam'l Lyon, W. M. Patterson.

Juniata—D. W. Chambers, W. W. Davis, A. J. Patterson.

On motion, the Convention proceeded to nominate a candidate to be supported for Congress in this District, at the ensuing election.

The Conferees from Fulton presented the following letter from Dr. S. E. Duffield, of Fulton, which, on motion, was received and ordered to be incorporated in the minutes of the proceedings:

McCONNELLSBURG, Aug. 20, 1860. Hon. Mark Dixon, Samuel Lyon, Esq., Wm. M. Patterson, Congressional Conferees from Fulton County.

GENTLEMEN:—It is my wish that you do not present my name at the Congressional Conference in this District as a candidate for nomination. As you have been instructed, both by our County Committee and Convention to vote for me, and instructed by them under the belief that my nomination would be conceded and confirmed, my reasons for now withdrawing may be required. You are aware that at the first meeting of the Congressional Conferees of this District, eight years ago, a resolution was adopted giving to each county in relation to the right to name the candidate. I have already contended that a restriction of this kind imposed on any Convention was not only wrong in principle, but injudicious and impolitic, and should not have governed our delegates in making their subsequent Congressional nominations. This opinion remains unchanged, notwithstanding each of the counties composing this District has had the nominee by reason of this restrictive rule and our own, can with equal propriety, ask a recognition of the same right. The acceptance of this rule heretofore, as a principle of action by the counties of Bedford, Franklin, Juniata and Adams, virtually concedes the candidate to Fulton at this time, and if insisted on by you, should be yielded on their part, cheerfully, willingly and unhesitatingly. We have always been true to our party pledges and faithfully fulfilled our political contracts. In every Congressional, Senatorial and Legislative fight, we have been equally as zealous to secure the election of those residing outside of our borders, as we have those residing among us. Under existing circumstances, therefore, our right to name the candidate should not be questioned; the policy and propriety of doing so is debatable. If we believe in the principles of our party, and are convinced that the adoption and enforcement of those principles by government would best promote the interests of the people, then, in order to insure success, we should be willing to sacrifice personal ambition and local preference. By doing so, we show to others that our political opinions are honest and unselfish. The contest in this Congressional District may be exceedingly close, and the loss of a member here, may place us in a minority in the House, and subject us again to all the embarrassments necessarily arising from such a contingency. This being the case, our Convention should be freed from all restraint, and relieved from any restriction calculated to hinder prudent deliberation in making its nomination.

My own convictions are, after a careful and interested examination of the political field, that a majority of our party friends in the District prefer the re-nomination of the Hon. Edward McPherson, honestly believing that with him as a candidate, victory will be more certain than with any one else. Candor compels me to say that this opinion is well founded. Mr. McPherson is a good canvasser, competent and popular; he has increased his strength by the interest he manifested for the success of all the cherished principles of our party; by the evidence he has given us of his legislative ability, and by his kind, courteous and affable bearing. Being esteemed, therefore, that his nomination is earnestly desired by a majority of the party; that he possesses all the requisites for an available candidate, and that he will be able to carry our banner on to a triumphant victory, my sense of justice compels me to relieve the Convention from any embarrassment the presentation of my name might occasion.

To my political friends of Fulton I am under the most grateful obligations for the unanimity with which they have instructed you, in my favor, and I can assure them, through you, that this evidence of their regard for my political advancement, is as sincerely felt, and as fully appreciated, as if it was now enjoying all the benefits their best wishes could hope for.

Very truly yours, S. E. DUFFIELD.

Col. D. W. Chambers then nominated Hon. J. M. Sellers, of Juniata. Geo. Eyster, Esq., nominated Hon. Edward McPherson, of Adams.

The Conference proceeded to ballot, when Hon. Edward McPherson received 12 votes and Jas. M. Sellers 3.

On motion of Col. D. W. Chambers, the nomination of Hon. Edward McPherson was made unanimous.

Geo. Eyster, Esq., offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted: Resolved, That this Conference appreciates the ungrudgingness which prompted Dr. S. E. Duffield to withdraw his name from the Conference, for the patriotic purpose of securing a harmonious effort; and that we acknowledge our indebtedness to him, while we cheerfully concede his merits and his claims.

On motion, the Chairman of the Conference was instructed to appoint a committee, consisting of one member from each county, to apprise Mr. McPherson of his nomination.

The Chairman appointed Messrs. Davis, of Juniata, Criswell, of Franklin, Over, of Bedford, Lyon, of Fulton, and Buehler, of Adams, as said committee.

On motion adjourned. FRANCIS JORDAN, S. G. LANE, Sec'y. Pres't.

Senatorial Conference.

The Conferees of Huntingdon, Somerset and Bedford counties, met at the house of Mr. Filler, in Bedford, on Tuesday, 21st inst. Dr. Wm. Burch, of Bedford Co., was called to the chair, and Dr. H. K. Neff, of Huntingdon, was chosen Secretary.

The representatives from Huntingdon county in the Conference, were Messrs. James Maguire, Henry Grafius and Dr. H. K. Neff.—From Bedford, Messrs. Jacob Bruneman, Dan'l Sams and Dr. Wm. Burch. From Somerset, Messrs. Joseph Cummings, J. W. Parker and C. Kouser.

On motion of Mr. Cummings, the Conference proceeded to nominate candidates and to ballot.

Alexander Stutzman, of Somerset, Col. S. S. Wharton, of Huntingdon, and Sam'l L. Russell and J. E. Satterfield of Bedford Co., were put in nomination.

On the 16th ballot, Col. S. S. Wharton having received a majority of the votes cast, was declared nominated. The nomination was then made unanimous. The following was passed by a unanimous vote: Resolved, That we heartily endorse the nominees of the Chicago Convention—Abraham Lincoln of Illinois, for President, and Hannibal Hamlin of Maine, for Vice President; the nominees of our State Convention, Col. Andrew G. Curtin, of Centre county, for Governor, and the nominee of this Conference, Col. S. S. Wharton, for State Senator. That we hereby pledge to our National, State and District Tickets, the unanimous and hearty support of ourselves and our constituents; and will do all in our power to roll up for them such a majority as will forever after be a source of gratification and pride to the people of this district.

WM. BURCH, Pres't. H. K. Neff, Sec'y.

Hon. Ed. McPherson Re-nominated.

Everything seems to conspire for the good of the people and to work out the complete overthrow of the so-called Democratic party. In another column we publish the proceedings of the Congressional Conferees who met in Chambersburg on Monday last, by which it will be seen that Hon. Edward McPherson was unanimously re-nominated for Congress. This announcement will be hailed with satisfaction by the entire District, and in no part more than in Adams County. Having served his constituents with distinguished ability during the last Congress, he will return at the opening of the next session with his conduct fully and cordially endorsed, and better able to attend to their wishes. His name will add strength to the whole ticket, and place victory—certain victory—within our grasp. Our ticket is now complete. A better one was never presented to the people of Adams county for support. All that we have to do now is to elect it. Friends, see to it that this is done.—Gettysburg Star and Banner.

Bedford Classical Institute.

The 2d school year of this Institute will open on Monday, Sept. 3d, 1860, in the brick House of Mr. Jamieson, nearly opposite Mr. Ryan's. Terms as before.

REV. JOHN LYON, Principal. Bedford, Aug. 24, 1860.
